2 Children Die As Blaze Razes Kensington Home

GRIM SEARCH REWARDED. Firemen had to dig deep into this rubble before they found the bodies of two Kensington area youngsters who were burned to death Wednesday when flames leveled their brick home. Gary Clemens, 4, and Ricky Clemens, 2, were led out of the burning home by a baby sitter, but they ran back inside and were trapped despite efforts of the baby sitter and a passing State Highway patrolman to reach them. The top picture is a rear view of the home along Route 9, while the bottom picture shows the debris-clogged basement where the bodies were finally found.

Even If Reds Try Blockade

Dulles Warns West To Use All Type Routes To Berlin

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles served notice Wednesday that the Western Big Three intend to use all air, land and water routes to Berlin even if East German Reds try to block them.

At a news conference, he implied military force might be used, if necessary, to back up the Western view that Russia has guaranteed them unimpeded access to the Communist-surrounded city.

But Dulles said neither the Soviets nor East Germans have made any concrete move to blockade the city. Therefore, he said, the possible use of force is an academic proposition now.

Dulles brushed aside a flurry of questions aimed at drawing him out on how far the Allies will go to keep Berlin open. At one point he said: "We do not intend to waive, either in fact or in law, any of the rights which we have. But I prefer not to speak in terms of a military threat, you might say, in relation to a situation which we have no reason to believe will occur."

Dulles sidestepped a direct question as to whether the United States has ruled out the possibility of using force. He replied: "It seems to me that the question as to whether if they did it—blockade—we would use force is an academic proposition. . ."

Dulles' professed inability to see any signs of a blockade in the offing contrasted sharply with Russia's announced plan to turn over control of all Berlin communications to the East German Communist regime. Soviet Premier Khrushchev has pledged an end to U.S.-British-French occupation of West Berlin.

Dulles, who will confer on the Berlin situation with President Eisenhower at Augusta, Ga., on Sunday, also said the Western Big Three will deal if necessary with East German authorities as agents of the Soviet Union.

This caused shock and dismay among West German leaders. They have vigorously opposed any such action on the ground that it would be a step toward diplomatic recognition of the Kremlin-backed regime.

Dulles stressed, however, that any dealings would be highly restricted with the understanding the East Germans were being regarded as agents of Moscow.

Deal With Reds On Berlin

Allies And West Berlin Dismayed At Dulles Talk

BERLIN (AP) — Surprise and dismay spread through Allied and West Berlin circles Wednesday night at Secretary of State Dulles' statement that the West might deal with East Germany in a Berlin showdown.

The bombshell hit the isolated old German capital shortly after it was disclosed Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko had visited East Berlin. Official Soviet sources said he gave the green light for Communist officials to make ready for a Soviet withdrawal from East Berlin.

Officials showed little reluctance to exhibit their private consternation at Dulles' remarks.

The feeling was that Dulles' statement—despite its qualifications—gave away a bargaining counter before the Russians even showed their hand.

Western officials have never ruled out the possibility of limited contacts with the East Germans on the 110-mile rail and highway link to West Germany. But it was indicated that this would be a concession of last resort.

Over the past two days Allied officials gave the impression that the Western powers might resort to an airlift rather than yield to even limited dealings with the Communists.

Shortly before Dulles' news conference in Washington, London declared the Big Three were united and determined to stick to Berlin and preserve routes into the city. Similar comment came from the French.

The East German news agency ADN quickly distributed its version of Dulles' remarks. It claimed Dulles had sought to appease West Germany by stressing that any dealing with the East Germans would be on a practical basis, rather than formal recognition.

But West German officials in Bonn were as surprised as those in Berlin by Dulles' remarks.

A spokesman for Chancellor Konrad Adenauer said Bonn would

Democrats Score Sweep In Alaska

Register Victories In Major National And State Races

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Democrats made a clean sweep Wednesday of every major national and state race in Alaska's first election as the 49th state.

They captured the two U.S. Senate seats, the single congressional seat and the governorship.

Former Gov. Ernest Gruening eliminated the Republicans' last chance to prevent a shutout when he took an insurmountable lead over ex-Gov. Mike Stepovich in the battle for one of the U.S. Senate seats.

Stepovich, 39, did not concede immediately. He said in Fairbanks he would study the situation before making a statement.

The 107 unreported precincts were in Anchorage and Fairbanks, where Democrats are strong, and in remote outposts where the scattered vote could not affect the outcome.

"I am extremely grateful to my fellow candidates for both statewide and legislative offices who campaigned for me while campaigning for themselves — and through a united party achieved victory for all."

The 71-year-old Gruening, who served as Alaska's appointive governor more than 13 years, had trailed Stepovich by 5,700 votes in Alaska's statehood referendum in August.

But he waged a hard campaign and it was known before the

Cold Holiday Due For Area

Traffic Surge Seen With Snow Unlikely

The Tri-State District is due for a cold Thanksgiving — the Ohio weatherman said temperatures were expected to tumble to a low of 24 to 28 this morning.

And the mercury may not go much above the freezing mark of 32 degrees during the holiday. The cold spell, bringing the lowest temperatures of the season, will continue tonight.

Lack of snow probably will cause a surge in traffic, with a long holiday weekend in store for many residents.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported no appreciable increase of traffic flow Wednesday night.

Traffic in the area of the Wintersville State Highway Patrol near Steubenville was "moderately heavy" with a heavy surge expected late tonight and early Friday morning.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies reported a quiet Thanksgiving Eve with traffic apparently normal throughout the county. No

Nixon's Wire To Candidates Is Disclosed

Urged Republicans Press 'Radical' Cry Against Democrats

WASHINGTON (AP) — A 650-word private telegram went from Vice President Nixon to all Republican candidates for Congress two weeks before the November election, urging them to press the "radical" cry against the Democrats.

The text of the message was released Wednesday by Nixon's office, after accounts of its content and distribution had appeared in print in the New York Post and the Washington Evening Star. Nixon is on an official visit to Great Britain.

The wire went out at a time Nixon was resting from his own vigorous campaigning, and preparing to resume it for the final stretch.

Nixon in effect was suggesting to GOP candidates that they sail into the Democrats along the same campaign line he was following. His own speeches had declared that the dominant wing of the Democratic party was controlled by Northern and Western radicals.

Thor Missile Blasts Off From Test Center

CAPE CANAVERAL Fla. (AP) — A fiery Thor, the 1,500-mile-range ballistic missile which is expected to become an operational weapon next month, blasted off from the test center here Wednesday.

There was no official announcement of the outcome of the test but Thor rose beautifully and appeared to be traveling a true course when it disappeared from view.

Defense Secretary Neil McElroy is expected to decide soon whether the Air Force Thor or the Army Jupiter will be this country's No. 1 intermediate - range missile.

Blazing B47 Thought To Be Atom Carrier

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—Fire-fighting units brought a blazing B47 under control Wednesday after an alert was sounded amid reports the plane was armed with atomic weapons.

Officials at the nearby Chennault Air Force Base called off an alert and removed roadblocks leading into the field when the fire was extinguished.

Base authorities refused to comment on whether the plane was armed with an atomic weapon. But planes of the Strategic Air Command have been on a 15-minute alert for months and if armed, it would be with atomic weapons.

The base public information officer said the alert was sounded because of "an ammunition hazard." He refused to amplify what threat existed.

There was no report of injuries and officials would not comment on how badly the plane was damaged.

Cars streamed from the field when the alert sounded and observers said a "big ball of fire" appeared out on the flight line where the big B47s were stationed.

UAW Fixes Monday Deadline At 11 Plants

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union has set a Monday noon strike deadline at 11 Electric Auto-Lite plants.

UAW vice president Richard T. Gosser, director of the union's Auto-Lite Department, reported no progress in negotiations that opened here Monday on a new national agreement to cover 12,000 workers.

Altready on strike are 2,200 UAW members at the Toledo, Ohio, plant. They walked out Nov. 18 after failure to reach an agreement on a local contract.

The strike deadline was set for plants in Fostoria, Ohio and 10 other cities.

Space Battle On In Strike Of 2 Airlines

Nonstriking Lines, Put All Available Planes Into Use

By The Associated Press

The annual scramble for Thanksgiving holiday travel space was heightened Wednesday by the continuing strike against two of the nation's biggest airlines. A third of the nation's 1,200 airliners were grounded.

Nonstriking airlines put every available plane into the air to take up the slack. Train and bus terminals were jammed as extra cars and buses were added. But many would-be holiday travelers gave up and stayed home.

Nearly 50,000 plane reservations a day were wiped out by the strike of flight engineers and mechanics against Eastern Air Lines and Trans World Airlines. Between them, they operate nearly 400 aircraft in this country and abroad.

Wages were part of the complicated union labor contract dispute. So, too, were the labor pains involved in giving birth to the jet age in commercial aviation. Eastern had planned to put the first of its new fleet of jet-prop planes into service next Monday.

The strike began at TWA last Friday and idled 19,000 employes.

Special Meeting Called In Ship Sinking Probe

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Coast Guard Marine Inspection Board called a special meeting for Thursday in its investigation of the sinking of the freighter Carl D. Bradley in upper Lake Michigan last week with a loss of 33 lives.

The board, headed by Rear Adm. Joseph A. Kerrins, will meet aboard the German freighter Christian Sartori when it docks here. The Sartori was the first vessel on the scene when the Bradley broke up and sank in the violent storm.

Baby Sitter Saves 3 But 2 Rush Back

Highway Patrolman Suffers Burns In Bid To Get Youngsters

LISBON — Mr. and Mrs. John Clemens of Route 9, about a mile south of Kensington, face a bleak Thanksgiving with two of their children dead and their home leveled—the result of a fire about noon Wednesday.

The two boys, along with a brother, Lawrence, 5, were rushed out of the home when the fire began about 11:30 yesterday morning, but the two younger boys ran back into the home.

A baby sitter and a State Highway patrolman trying to rescue the children, were beaten back by flames.

No one seemed to know why the youngsters re-entered the house, but they apparently acted in childish panic in the excitement.

The three youngsters were at home with the sitter — Mrs. Cecil McDole of East Rochester — while their father was at work at the Ohio Hoist Co. at Lisbon and their mother was working at the Ceramic Tile Co. of Minerva. Five other children were in school.

Carroll County Sheriff Dean Yeager said Mrs. McDole rushed the children onto a back porch to save them from the flames but the two little ones ran back in and upstairs.

Mrs. McDole was on the back porch with Lawrence when State Highway Patrolman Jack D. Junkins, stationed at Warren, drove by while off duty. He went to the rear to the screaming woman, who ran inside the home in an effort to get the two boys.

Junkins entered the house and pulled Mrs. McDole out, and ordered her to stay outside. He could see the two boys at windows upstairs at the rear, and yelled at them to jump into his arms. They refused.

Junkins then ran to the front of the home — the flames were too hot at the back — and tried to get in, but a sudden puff of flame seared his face and drove him back.

The officer was given first aid for mild burns.

Firemen from the Hanover Township volunteer department were first on the scene with the Hanoverton truck. They were joined later by men and the department truck stationed at Guilford Lake, and Civil Defense volunteers and tanker trucks from Winona and Lisbon.

About 30 firemen battled the blaze, which one witness described as "an inferno." The front wall of the two - story red brick home, only 10 feet from the roadway of Route 9, collapsed at the

No Settlement Reached In TST Crew Walkout

No settlement was reached Wednesday in a walkout of clay shop finishers at the Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co. in Chester and a company spokesman said the stoppage was affecting operations in other parts of the plant.

Asked for comment last night on the status of the stoppage, the company official said: "There is no change in the status. The illegal walkout continues and it has started to affect the plant in general."

The stoppage started Tuesday, reportedly in a dispute over piecework prices on a new line of ware.

Not Thankful For Bread Alone

In the spirit of the first Thanksgiving, all of us are thankful, first, for the bounty of the earth, which continues to be fruitful and more than adequate, despite men's irrational attempts to make it otherwise.

It does not change the spirit of the first Thanksgiving to acknowledge that Americans have much to be thankful for besides bread alone and that some of the high points of gratitude are not as flippant as they sound.

Is it not something to be grateful for that the National Safety Council has been unable to make the heavily publicized traffic hazards that arise on national holidays blight the pleasure of getting together for family reunions and turkey feasts? We are still willing to risk the hazards of a dangerous land for the privilege of living in it.

On the other hand, let us be thankful that the mechanical geniuses who make automobiles have tapered off the speed of these go-devils at about 120 miles an hour, which is twice as fast as it is legal to drive under most conditions and approximately three times as fast as it is safe to drive anywhere.

Let us be thankful, moreover, that in a nation which is making no visible progress toward controlling its spites and passions there is no positive proof, on the other hand, that we are growing more lawless and ruthless, bombing, knifings, shootings and bludgeonings to the contrary notwithstanding.

WE CAN GIVE THANKS, too, in a spirit of humility for the oft-demonstrated fact that the daisy-chain of misconceptions and blunders which holds together what is hopefully described as a foreign policy is not unique in a grossly mismanaged world but is matched by the fumbles and bumbles of other governments equally confused, chiefly the government of the Soviet Union.

Special gratitude is stirred, moreover, by a state of mind that is reported from key points around the world where politicians make fateful decisions to trouble the waters so they can fish in them — that the mass of civilians, unimpressed by both the political and military minds exerting pressure on them — have been showing a significant degree of composure. In short, more civilians are behaving more like human beings and less like rabbits, when the hunters of power and their yapping dogs take to the field of public affairs.

We can give thanksgiving for the millions of men and women of good will in America and every other land whose mental development has carried them to the stage of independent decision, barring them to exploitation by the proponents of bad faith and personal and public corruption.

WE CAN BE thankful, above all, for the impulses of freedom that so far have saved us from the fetters of human bondage that lie forged and ready for us whenever we despair of being able to put our trust in a "fuehrer," a dictator, or a man on horseback.

The thanksgiving list in our country is long — longer than it is anywhere else on earth — and in 1958 it is still growing.

Americans today are the world's most envied people, and it behooves us to remember who we are and how we earned that envy.

We are the foreigners who came to a new continent to pool our human resources for the building of a great new country in which no despot could hold sway — a land in which human beings would hold the sovereign power.

In 1958, there is that to be thankful for, too.

Anything To Get Recognition

There is only one answer to the question why Red China and now Red Germany want diplomatic recognition from the United States.

They want it because the United States is unwilling to grant it. In the tactics of cold war, it is as important to take from the other side what it does not want to give as it is to put up a fight for a strongly defended position in hot war.

The Red Germans are in a far stronger position than the Red Chinese, because they have in their midst a pawn that represents for Europeans the key to prestige. If they can make the United States, Great Britain and France recognize them, even in a roundabout way, as the alternative to being forced out of Berlin, or perhaps held captive under Communist rule in Berlin, they will have scored a tremendous success in their fight for prestige.

They will have proved as surely as if they had been in physical combat with the Western Allies that they are able to get the upper hand in a showdown.

They will have proved what they have tried to prove with innumerable detentions, kidnapings and fake arrests—that they can stick a Red finger into the Allied eye with impunity. They will not be punished for their insolence.

Last June, for example, when nine U.S. soldiers flying in a helicopter were forced down in East Germany, the Communists forced the U.S. State Department to negotiate for the soldiers' release and to pay $1,748 for their support while they were held prisoner. That was a smashing triumph, "When you have people kidnaped, you deal with the kidnapers" was the terse summary of Secretary of State Dulles.

Red Germany now is in a position to hold up the Western Allies for the safety of the Allied sector of Berlin. What it seeks is full diplomatic recognition. What it will settle for, in all probability, is any negotiation that will cause the Western Allies to lose face in Europe.

That was the net effect of the Berlin airlift in 1948-1949. What the United States pointed to as a triumph of organization and skill was pointed to by the Communists as a demonstration of their power of the Western Allies. The airlift was a desperate project of survival, which the Communists humored and tolerated, because it proved what they wanted everybody in Europe to know — that they held the upper hand.

'Boss Kett' Of The Curious Mind

With due respect, what Charles F. Kettering learned about mechanical engineering at Ohio State in the first years of this century would not amount to much in comparison with today's engineering courses. But he did not rely on education.

He relied on intelligence and the kind of mind that wonders why things cannot be done. We suppose that for every invention or improvement he made, he wondered about a thousand more inventions and improvements that never jelled.

Whether he had lived in an era of horse-drawn chariots, horseless carriages or space rockets, he would have squinted at them with an eye to making them run better. He happened to be hooked up with horseless carriages, so he got rid of the crank by putting on a self-starter and further refined the things by figuring out an ignition system. It will take someone just like him to make improvements on space rockets one of these days.

But no one is going to be like "Boss Kett" by reading about him in a book or going to school to study engineering. Men like Thomas A. Edison and Charles F. Kettering must be born; they can't be made by a formula. There is a secret ingredient in their makeup —a wonder-why element. Whatever they are, whatever they do, they wonder why things can't be better.

If they happen to be engineers, they may make a million. Otherwise, they may turn out to be reformers, agitators, malcontents and noncomformists and make pests of themselves. But they never are content to settle for inferiority while improvements are possible. They are the yeast of civilization. Without them, we'd still be crouching in caves and eating what we could catch with our bare hands.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Thanksgiving is an annual test to see if you are still in the amateur or semi-pro class carving a turkey. The bird, however dead, always seems to put up stern resistance, as if determined the term "chicken" shall never be applied to it.

In most cases the turk appears to stage a counterattack with pursuit. We never carve one without a desire to cry "May Day!" or send a call for reinforcements consisting mainly of Marines.

THE TURKEY CARVER always works with an extra tough audience of critics. There is no chance of a favorable review.

From the moment he grasps the knife he is conscious of heartless observation by a cold-blooded group of kith and kin.

No allowances will be made for a dull knife, a collapsible fork, the wring grip, faulty preparation, personal incapacity or a lack of courage.

To the carver this may be a wooden albatross but to the audience it is the tenderest bird known to mankind.

EVERY EYE IS ON HIM. This is a production number and the flawless professional touch is demanded.

The turkey carver gets off with no such milk term as "He was adequate in a difficult role," "The performance could stand improvement" or "He will do better with experience."

As he hacks away he is conscious of: "This bum is incompetent and without talent," "A plain case of miscasting," etc. He may even hear a whispered "Lousy."

It is when he tackles the second joint that he feels the full cruelty of the "critics circle" and keeps saying to himself, "Am I up to this?" and "Would it be bad if I went AWOL?"

He resorts to a weak smile but it is a floperoo. He makes with a light jest but realizes he is still in the icefield. His fingers grow weak, his arms numb.

On through his feverish head run images of Thanksgiving: Band aids, antiseptics, hardboiled looks, scornful remarks, Plymouth Rock, Indians and the Pilgrim Fathers.

The Pilgrim Fathers had a big advantage: They could always hope an Indian raid would interrupt the meal. He remembers reading a historical book which said The Pilgrims had no turkey on the first Thanksgiving. Just clams and oysters. One thought now dominates all, "They had all the luck!" ("What's that you say. I served you a thumb, not a leg! Next year I will rehearse my part and be more careful.")

A medical society warns doctors not to appear in TV commercials. To get around the ban on white coated pitchmen, some sponsors are offering big money to physicians, magazine says, citing one offer from an auto company. Maybe Detroit wanted a doctor to declare the right vitamins could be found in new fender styles.

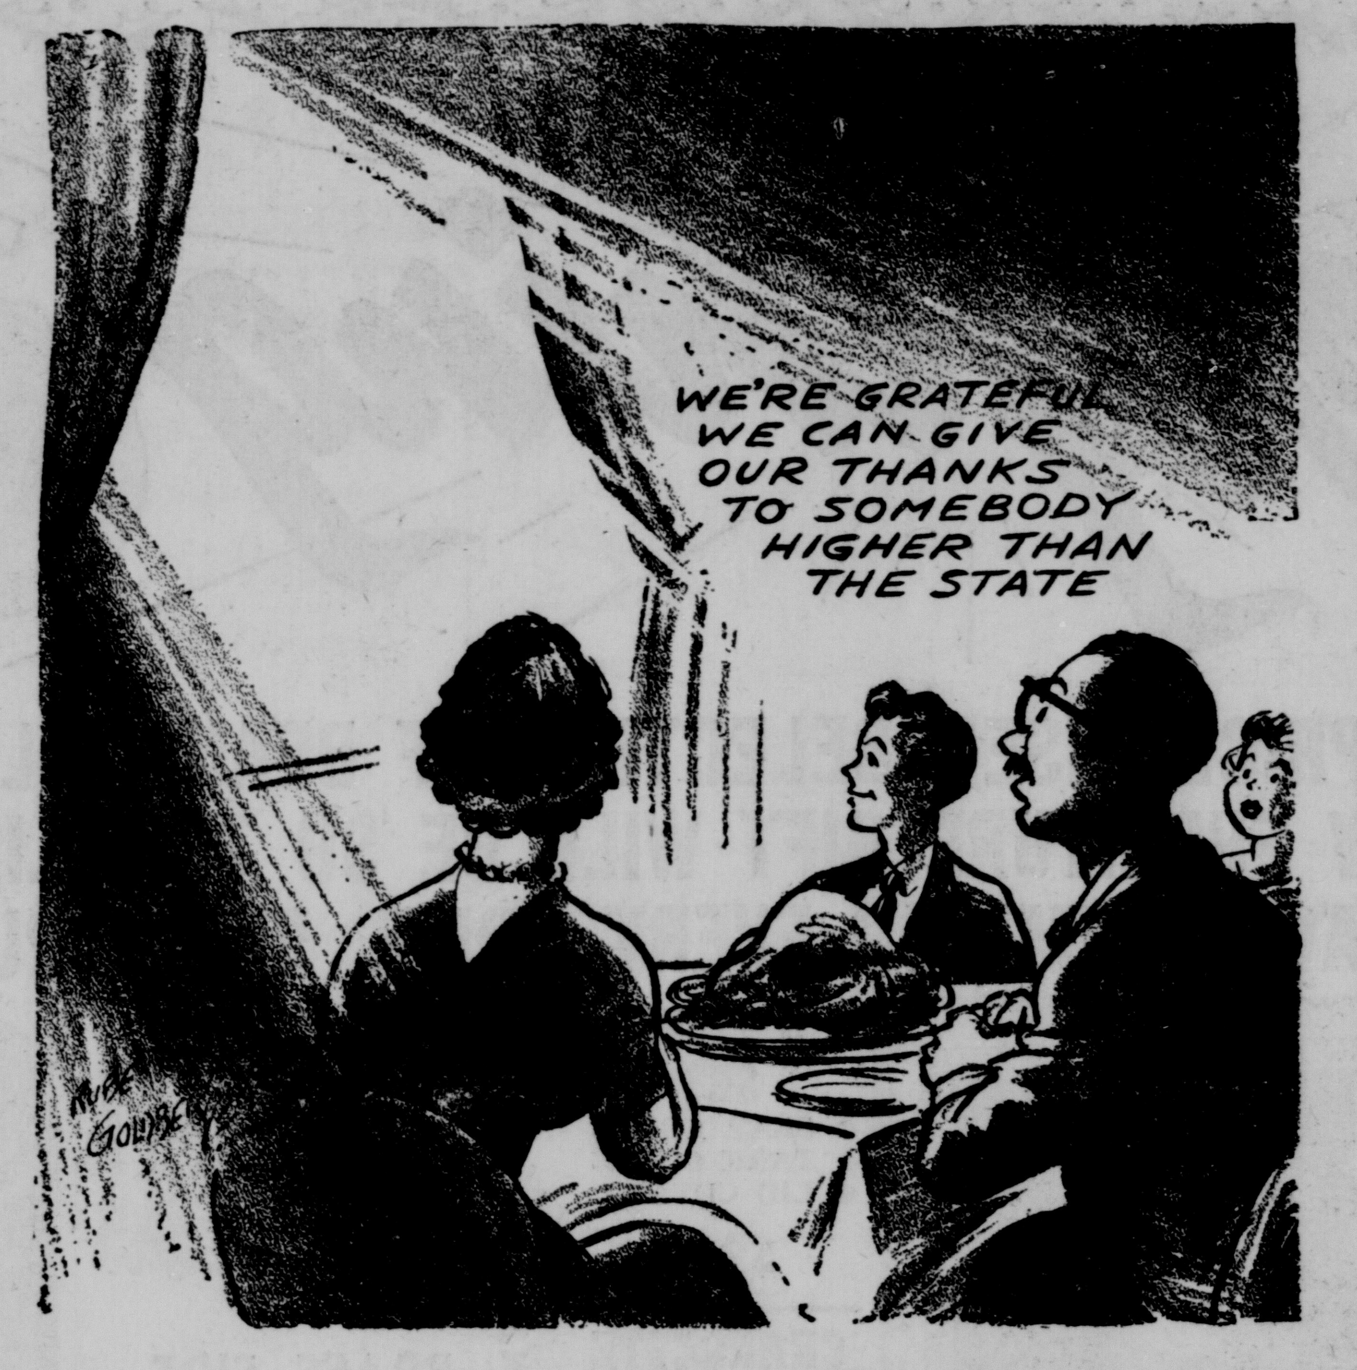
Thanksgiving U.S.A.



WE'RE GRATEFUL WE CAN GIVE OUR THANKS TO SOMEBODY HIGHER THAN THE STATE

A Case Of The Jet-Age Jitters

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

Behind the rash of airline strikes is a case of jet-age jitters — a contagious fever which will shoot tempers up and pickets out in a score of industries come 1959. Actually the airline walkouts are the first of a long series of strikes in which the unions want to beat the "new machine" before it beats them. And the airlines are in the middle.

What the public doesn't realize is that most commercial pilots have been on a long silent strike for months — they have been refusing jet training. So have the flight engineers.

For the most part there is no real contractual agreement on pay or working conditions for handling the big 5-million-dollar jets.

The crews, those striking and those still flying the old-fashioned piston planes, are uneasy. Over at Pan American, for example, the globe girdling company now is flying its three jets with 19 executives—chief pilots, assistant chief pilots and chief check pilots.

TO GET THESE men, Pan-American has had to pull them out of the top echelons of its three divisions — Pacific, South American and trans-Atlantic.

These 19 flying executives soon will have to add a fourth jet run —and they will handle six routes by the year's end.

If these 19 men should each inherit a million and hang up their licenses, Pan Am would have to ground its jets.

The hundreds of other pilots won't accept training until they get a new wage scale set. Some of them, a few senior men who will be the first to get the jet runs once they are trained for it, are bidding for as much as $45,000 a year under such a new wage scale.

This would compare with $23,000 to $24,000 earned now by pilots of the big traditional planes.

The pilots argue that the jets are four times as powerful as the regular craft and it takes 7½ hours to complete a regular 12-hour run. This means loss of jobs for those away down on the list.

The big trans-Atlantic craft now carry four pilots and two flight engineers. The jets, hurtling four times more powerfully, would need only three pilots and one flight engineer.

THE COMPANY realizes that this fear is justified, pointing out that it had to lay off 200 pilots and 100 flight engineers this fall. There will be more going when the jets streak over all runs.

It had not struck an airline for 10 years until the recent rash. You find that these mechanics have the jet jitters, too.

When such outfits as Trans World Airlines, which has always had fine relations with its people, are completely jet adjusted they'll have to economize. So because the jets will need less frequent servicing, you find that along with the demand for higher pay, there is the demand for severance pay.

In the recent Capital settlement, for example, it was agreed that after eight years a mechanic would get $1,000 severance pay.

Among those who have the jet jitters are the 2,300 members of the Flight Engineers Union.

A PRESIDENTIAL board, headed by the always judicaially erudite David Cole, has ruled that the flight engineers at Eastern Airlines should take jet pilot training. They've continued to refuse because they fear that once they have to double as pilots, they'll be absorbed by the 17,500-member Airline Pilots Assn.

The pilots, however, deny this is airborne imperialism. They point out that the new jet pilot faces weird hazards — and old ones, too, like "Asia stomach."

This ailment has forced pilots on global flights from their cockpits. Thus, in a jet, the pilot's union says, this would leave the plane undermanned with just one person at the controls.

To the old illnesses, add temporary deafness. This may result from recurrent landings at airports from which other high decibel jets take off. Pilots have been known to go deaf for 24 hours after such experience.

Since every jet needs a minimum of two men at the controls, the pilots' union says it's a must to have the flight engineer trained to handle the craft.

There is a type of night blindness, for example, which sets in after a while at 35,000 feet. The third man must be handy.

But the flight engineer, worried by his future, won't take pilot training on most lines — putting the companies right in the middle. Small wonder everybody's got the jet jitters.

1958 Pilgrims

By John N. Adams

We Americans want to believe we are a grateful and generous nation and so today, when we pause for grace before the traditional turkey feast, we will give thanks for the material blessings of the past year.

In doing this, we will be perpetuating a tradition established by the Pilgrims at Plymouth Colony on the first American Thanksgiving Day in 1621. They gave thanks for a bountiful harvest and for survival after a year in a hostile wilderness with which they were ill prepared to cope.

Their own supply of food had been exhausted months before. Their clothing had been poor protection against the frigid New England winter. They had no medical supplies. Before the spring of 1621, more than half of the original band that had set out from Holland had died.

Had it not been for the friendly Indian Squanto who taught the Pilgrims to hunt and fish in the winter and to plant and cultivate the grain they had found in the Indian villages, even the handful of survivors would have added little more than a footnote in the pages of history.

So it was particularly appropriate, after an abundant harvest, that the Puritans should invite a band of friendly Indians to a three-day feast to give thanks in celebration of their deliverance.

BUT THE PURITANS were as ill prepared to deal with humankind as they were to cope with the forces of nature.

When the celebration was just getting started, Capt. Miles Standish injected a crisis into the affair by firing off the colony's cannon and parading his band of 19 men, armed with blunderbusses, before the assemblage.

The Indian chiefs and their 90 braves suspected a plot to massacre them, but again Squanto rescued them from the brink of disaster by assuaging the fears of the savages.

We have learned many things since that first Thanksgiving Day but like the Puritans we still have not learned about humanity or about the road to contentment and peaceful living in America.

In the technology age which now surrounds us, we are as unprepared for the wilderness of the space era as were those colonists for the unknowns of their new surroundings.

We have begun to harness the energy of the atom. We have learned to produce grain and meat in abundance. We have learned to convert coal, oil and ores into useful products to serve us.

BUT OF THE DREAM of peaceful relations of men between men, race between race and nation between nation there is little trace.

All of the products of man's creativeness have grown into monsters more terrifying than the wilderness and its hostile inhabitants that threatened destruction of the early settlers on these shores.

With all our progress we hold to the belief that there are two kinds of people, the tough-minded and the naive and only the tough will survive.

In our civilization we believe that the battle is to the strong and so nations stockpile more and more atom bombs to keep ahead of their enemies who are stockpiling more and more atom bombs.

COMPASSION is taken as a sign of weakness and gifts from the abundance of food and clothing are made in return for military bases and other warlike considerations.

Nevertheless, in spite of the widespread popularity of such ideas, if man were not basically tenderhearted, as well as endowed with a superior mentality, he would long since have joined the list of wild animals that are now extinct.

While man has never before lived in an age of such great scientific accomplishments never has he been so filled with frustrations and tensions. His insecurity has driven him to seek solution in greater and greater material progress, even to try to fly to the moon for escape from his confusions.

Never has he needed so deeply a Squanto to teach him to cultivate his fellow man. In our prayers this Thanksgiving, let us ask for a spiritual leadership that will teach us to use intelligence for good instead of evil and pull us back from the brink of disaster.

Odd Facts

Harness horseracing involves horses with two gaits — the pacer who moves by thrusting out the right front and right rear legs at the same time, then the two legs on the other side — and the trotter, who moves by using the right fore leg and the rear left leg at the same time, then the left front and the rear right.

New Integration Law

By David Lawrence

School Boards Given Assignment Authority

David Lawrence

There's a new "law of the land" today on the integration problems of public schools. Local school boards henceforth are authorized, as a result of a Supreme Court decision, to assign pupils to whatever schools they please without revealing any reasons for their inaction.

While the case concerned an Alabama law, it applies throughout the nation wherever states now may pass "pupil assignment" laws. These statutes, however, will be held unconstitutional if they deny entry on account of race or color or are enforced as a part of a scheme of legislation that requires segregation.

The reason the "pupil assignment" law is held constitutional is because the denial or grant of the pupil's request is not based on any proved discrimination because of race or color.

This may mark a turning point in the whole controversy over integration. It could help solve the Virginia and Arkansas problems. In a sense, it is not a reversal by the Supreme Court of its historic decision of 1954 which said that classification by race was unconstitutional but it is an affirmation of the principle that wherever there is exclusion or inclusion of a pupil in a particular school, it must be based on that individual's personal qualifications.

THE ALABAMA LAW sets forth the basis on which the local school boards may act, as follows:

"In the assignment, transfer or continuance of pupils among and within the schools, or within the classroom and other facilities thereof, the following factors and the effect or results thereof shall be considered, with respect to the individual pupil, as well as other relevant matters:

"Available room and teaching capacity in the various schools; the availability of transportation facilities.

"The effect of the admission of new pupils upon established or proposed academic programs; the suitability of established curricula for particular pupils; the adequacy of the pupil's academic preparation for admission to a particular school and curriculum.

"The scholastic aptitude and relative intelligence or mental energy or ability of the pupil; the psychological qualification of the pupil for the type of teaching and association involved.

"The effect of admission of the pupil upon the academic progress of other students in a particular school or facility thereof; the effect of admission upon prevailing academic standards in a particular school; the physical effect upon the pupil of attendance at a particular school.

"The possibility or threat of friction or disorder among pupils or others; the possibility of breaches of the peace or ill will or economic retaliation within the community.

"The home environment of the pupil; the maintenance or severance of established social and psychological relationships with other pupils and with teachers; the choice and interest of the pupil, the moral conduct, health and personal standards of the pupil; the request or consent of parents or guardian and the reason assigned therefor."

THE ATTORNEYS in the lower court proceeding in behalf of the four Negro children who had made application to enter a particular school objected in vain to the portions of the above-quoted paragraph relating to "psychological qualification of the pupil for the type of teaching and association involved."

Also to the sentences referring to the "threat of friction or disorder among pupils or others" and "breaches of the peace or ill will or economic retaliation within the community," as well as to the sentence referring to "the maintenance or severance of established social and psychological relationships with other pupils and with teachers."

The Supreme Court, in its brief order affirming the judgment of the lower court, did so "upon the limited grounds on which the district court rested its decision."

But the lower federal court had said frankly that it couldn't tell what reasons had influenced the school board and that the plaintiffs had not been able to prove "that they cannot attend the schools of their choice because of their race or color."

This gives the school boards quite a loophole and an opportunity for circumvention.

IT MEANS that in some communities in the South local school boards will order "token" integration.

In others, they will find it easy to ignore requests for transfer of certain white and colored pupils. and will act as they please about "integration."

It may be doubted whether the Supreme Court did this deliberately. Rather it found itself caught with a statute that was so broad that it permitted almost any kind of action. It, therefore, upheld the lower court which had ruled that the law is constitutional "on its face."

Certainly if the school boards cannot be held accountable for the way they handle student applications, the whole integration conroversy has come to a kind of stalemate that might bring, for a time at least, a truce.

Incidentally, the record of the Little Rock School Board, disclosed in court last September, shows conslusively that, had such a law been in effect in Arkansas without any other laws that involved segregation, the board could have failed to act on the applications of certain Negro pupils along with those of certain white pupils.

There would have been no way to go behind the reasons for the "inaction" by the school board.

"Pupil assignment" laws mean slow-moving, "token" integration based on local option and the whim of local school boards.

Not Thankful For Bread Alone

In the spirit of the first Thanksgiving, all of us are thankful, first, for the bounty of the earth, which continues to be fruitful and more than adequate, despite men's irrational attempts to make it otherwise.

It does not change the spirit of the first Thanksgiving to acknowledge that Americans have much to be thankful for besides bread alone and that some of the high points of gratitude are not as flippant as they sound.

Is it not something to be grateful for that the National Safety Council has been unable to make the heavily publicized traffic hazards that arise on national holidays blight the pleasure of getting together for family reunions and turkey feasts? We are still willing to risk the hazards of a dangerous land for the privilege of living in it.

On the other hand, let us be thankful that the mechanical geniuses who make automobiles have tapered off the speed of these go-devils at about 120 miles an hour, which is twice as fast as it is legal to drive under most conditions and approximately three times as fast as it is safe to drive anywhere.

Let us be thankful, moreover, that in a nation which is making no visible progress toward controlling its spites and passions there is no positive proof, on the other hand, that we are growing more lawless and ruthless, bombing, knifings, shootings and bludgeonings to the contrary notwithstanding.

WE CAN GIVE THANKS, too, in a spirit of humility for the oft-demonstrated fact that the daisy-chain of misconceptions and blunders which holds together what is hopefully described as a foreign policy is not unique in a grossly mismanaged world but is matched by the fumbles and bumbles of other governments equally confused, chiefly the government of the Soviet Union.

Special gratitude is stirred, moreover, by a state of mind that is reported from key points around the world where politicians make fateful decisions to trouble the waters so they can fish in them — that the mass of civilians, unimpressed by both the political and military minds exerting pressure on them — have been showing a significant degree of composure. In short, more civilians are behaving more like human beings and less like rabbits, when the hunters of power and their yapping dogs take to the field of public affairs.

We can give thanksgiving for the millions of men and women of good will in America and every other land whose mental development has carried them to the stage of independent decision, barring them to exploitation by the proponents of bad faith and personal and public corruption.

WE CAN BE thankful, above all, for the impulses of freedom that so far have saved us from the fetters of human bondage that lie forged and ready for us whenever we despair of being able to put our trust in a "fuehrer," a dictator, or a man on horseback.

The thanksgiving list in our country is long — longer than it is anywhere else on earth — and in 1958 it is still growing.

Americans today are the world's most envied people, and it behooves us to remember who we are and how we earned that envy.

We are the foreigners who came to a new continent to pool our human resources for the building of a great new country in which no despot could hold sway — a land in which human beings would hold the sovereign power.

In 1958, there is that to be thankful for, too.

Anything To Get Recognition

There is only one answer to the question why Red China and now Red Germany want diplomatic recognition from the United States.

They want it because the United States is unwilling to grant it. In the tactics of cold war, it is as important to take from the other side what it does not want to give as it is to put up a fight for a strongly defended position in hot war.

The Red Germans are in a far stronger position than the Red Chinese, because they have in their midst a pawn that represents for Europeans the key to prestige. If they can make the United States, Great Britain and France recognize them, even in a roundabout way, as the alternative to being forced out of Berlin, or perhaps held captive under Communist rule in Berlin, they will have scored a tremendous success in their fight for prestige.

They will have proved as surely as if they had been in physical combat with the Western Allies that they are able to get the upper hand in a showdown.

They will have proved what they have tried to prove with innumerable detentions, kidnapings and fake arrests—that they can stick a Red finger into the Allied eye with impunity. They will not be punished for their insolence.

Last June, for example, when nine U.S. soldiers flying in a helicopter were forced down in East Germany, the Communists forced the U.S. State Department to negotiate for the soldiers' release and to pay $1,748 for their support while they were held prisoner. That was a smashing triumph, "When you have people kidnaped, you deal with the kidnapers" was the terse summary of Secretary of State Dulles.

Red Germany now is in a position to hold up the Western Allies for the safety of the Allied sector of Berlin. What it seeks is full diplomatic recognition. What it will settle for, in all probability, is any negotiation that will cause the Western Allies to lose face in Europe.

That was the net effect of the Berlin airlift in 1948-1949. What the United States pointed to as a triumph of organization and skill was pointed to by the Communists as a demonstration of their power of the Western Allies. The airlift was a desperate project of survival, which the Communists humored and tolerated, because it proved what they wanted everybody in Europe to know — that they held the upper hand.

'Boss Kett' Of The Curious Mind

With due respect, what Charles F. Kettering learned about mechanical engineering at Ohio State in the first years of this century would not amount to much in comparison with today's engineering courses. But he did not rely on education.

He relied on intelligence and the kind of mind that wonders why things cannot be done. We suppose that for every invention or improvement he made, he wondered about a thousand more inventions and improvements that never jelled.

Whether he had lived in an era of horse-drawn chariots, horseless carriages or space rockets, he would have squinted at them with an eye to making them run better. He happened to be hooked up with horseless carriages, so he got rid of the crank by putting on a self-starter and further refined the things by figuring out an ignition system. It will take someone just like him to make improvements on space rockets one of these days.

But no one is going to be like "Boss Kett" by reading about him in a book or going to school to study engineering. Men like Thomas A. Edison and Charles F. Kettering must be born; they can't be made by a formula. There is a secret ingredient in their makeup —a wonder-why element. Whatever they are, whatever they do, they wonder why things can't be better.

If they happen to be engineers, they may make a million. Otherwise, they may turn out to be reformers, agitators, malcontents and noncomformists and make pests of themselves. But they never are content to settle for inferiority while improvements are possible. They are the yeast of civilization. Without them, we'd still be crouching in caves and eating what we could catch with our bare hands.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Thanksgiving is an annual test to see if you are still in the amateur or semi-pro class carving a turkey. The bird, however dead, always seems to put up stern resistance, as if determined the term "chicken" shall never be applied to it.

In most cases the turk appears to stage a counterattack with pursuit. We never carve one without a desire to cry "May Day!" or send a call for reinforcements consisting mainly of Marines.

THE TURKEY CARVER always works with an extra tough audience of critics. There is no chance of a favorable review.

From the moment he grasps the knife he is conscious of heartless observation by a cold-blooded group of kith and kin.

No allowances will be made for a dull knife, a collapsible fork, the wring grip, faulty preparation, personal incapacity or a lack of courage.

To the carver this may be a wooden albatross but to the audience it is the tenderest bird known to mankind.

EVERY EYE IS ON HIM. This is a production number and the flawless professional touch is demanded.

The turkey carver gets off with no such milk term as "He was adequate in a difficult role," "The performance could stand improvement" or "He will do better with experience."

As he hacks away he is conscious of: "This bum is incompetent and without talent," "A plain case of miscasting," etc. He may even hear a whispered "Lousy."

It is when he tackles the second joint that he feels the full cruelty of the "critics circle" and keeps saying to himself, "Am I up to this?" and "Would it be bad if I went AWOL?"

He resorts to a weak smile but it is a floperoo. He makes with a light jest but realizes he is still in the icefield. His fingers grow weak, his arms numb.

On through his feverish head run images of Thanksgiving: Band aids, antiseptics, hardboiled looks, scornful remarks, Plymouth Rock, Indians and the Pilgrim Fathers.

The Pilgrim Fathers had a big advantage: They could always hope an Indian raid would interrupt the meal. He remembers reading a historical book which said The Pilgrims had no turkey on the first Thanksgiving. Just clams and oysters. One thought now dominates all, "They had all the luck!" ("What's that you say. I served you a thumb, not a leg! Next year I will rehearse my part and be more careful.")

A medical society warns doctors not to appear in TV commercials. A Case Of The Jet-Age Jitters

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

Behind the rash of airline strikes is a case of jet-age jitters — a contagious fever which will shoot tempers up and pickets out in a score of industries come 1959. Actually the airline walkouts are the first of a long series of strikes in which the unions want to beat the "new machine" before it beats them. And the airlines are in the middle.

What the public doesn't realize is that most commercial pilots have been on a long silent strike for months — they have been refusing jet training. So have the flight engineers.

For the most part there is no real contractual agreement on pay or working conditions for handling the big 5-million-dollar jets.

The crews, those striking and those still flying the old-fashioned piston planes, are uneasy. Over at Pan American, for example, the globe girdling company now is flying its three jets with 19 executives—chief pilots, assistant chief pilots and chief check pilots.

TO GET THESE men, Pan-American has had to pull them out of the top echelons of its three divisions — Pacific, South American and trans-Atlantic.

These 19 flying executives soon will have to add a fourth jet run —and they will handle six routes by the year's end.

If these 19 men should each inherit a million and hang up their licenses, Pan Am would have to ground its jets.

The hundreds of other pilots won't accept training until they get a new wage scale set. Some of them, a few senior men who will be the first to get the jet runs once they are trained for it, are bidding for as much as $45,000 a year under such a new wage scale.

This would compare with $23,000 to $24,000 earned now by pilots of the big traditional planes.

The pilots argue that the jets are four times as powerful as the regular craft and it takes 7½ hours to complete a regular 12-hour run. This means loss of jobs for those away down on the list.

The big trans-Atlantic craft now carry four pilots and two flight engineers. The jets, hurtling four times more powerfully, would need only three pilots and one flight engineer.

THE COMPANY realizes that this fear is justified, pointing out that it had to lay off 200 pilots and 100 flight engineers this fall. There will be more going when the jets streak over all runs.

It had not struck an airline for 10 years until the recent rash. You find that these mechanics have the jet jitters, too.

When such outfits as Trans World Airlines, which has always had fine relations with its people, are completely jet adjusted they'll have to economize. So because the jets will need less frequent servicing, you find that along with the demand for higher pay, there is the demand for severance pay.

In the recent Capital settlement, for example, it was agreed that after eight years a mechanic would get $1,000 severance pay.

Among those who have the jet jitters are the 2,300 members of the Flight Engineers Union.

A PRESIDENTIAL board, headed by the always judicaially erudite David Cole, has ruled that the flight engineers at Eastern Airlines should take jet pilot training.

They've continued to refuse because they fear that once they have to double as pilots, they'll be absorbed by the 17,500-member Airline Pilots Assn.

The pilots, however, deny this is airborne imperialism. They point out that the new jet pilot faces weird hazards — and old ones, too, like "Asia stomach."

This ailment has forced pilots on global flights from their cockpits. Thus, in a jet, the pilot's union says, this would leave the plane undermanned with just one person at the controls.

To the old illnesses, add temporary deafness. This may result from recurrent landings at airports from which other high decibel jets take off. Pilots have been known to go deaf for 24 hours after such experience.

Since every jet needs a minimum of two men at the controls, the pilots' union says it's a must to have the flight engineer trained to handle the craft.

There is a type of night blindness, for example, which sets in after a while at 35,000 feet. The third man must be handy.

But the flight engineer, worried by his future, won't take pilot training on most lines — putting the companies right in the middle. Small wonder everybody's got the jet jitters.

1958 Pilgrims

By John N. Adams

We Americans want to believe we are a grateful and generous nation and so today, when we pause for grace before the traditional turkey feast, we will give thanks for the material blessings of the past year.

In doing this, we will be perpetuating a tradition established by the Pilgrims at Plymouth Colony on the first American Thanksgiving Day in 1621. They gave thanks for a bountiful harvest and for survival after a year in a hostile wilderness with which they were ill prepared to cope.

Their own supply of food had been exhausted months before. Their clothing had been poor protection against the frigid New England winter. They had no medical supplies. Before the spring of 1621, more than half of the original band that had set out from Holland had died.

Had it not been for the friendly Indian Squanto who taught the Pilgrims to hunt and fish in the winter and to plant and cultivate the grain they had found in the Indian villages, even the handful of survivors would have added little more than a footnote in the pages of history.

So it was particularly appropriate, after an abundant harvest, that the Puritans should invite a band of friendly Indians to a three-day feast to give thanks in celebration of their deliverance.

BUT THE PURITANS were as ill prepared to deal with humankind as they were to cope with the forces of nature.

When the celebration was just getting started, Capt. Miles Standish injected a crisis into the affair by firing off the colony's cannon and parading his band of 19 men, armed with blunderbusses, before the assemblage.

The Indian chiefs and their 90 braves suspected a plot to massacre them, but again Squanto rescued them from the brink of disaster by assuaging the fears of the savages.

We have learned many things since that first Thanksgiving Day but like the Puritans we still have not learned about humanity or about the road to contentment and peaceful living in America.

In the technology age which now surrounds us, we are as unprepared for the wilderness of the space era as were those colonists for the unknowns of their new surroundings.

We have begun to harness the energy of the atom. We have learned to produce grain and meat in abundance. We have learned to convert coal, oil and ores into useful products to serve us.

All of the products of man's creativeness have grown into monsters more terrifying than the wilderness and its hostile inhabitants that threatened destruction of the early settlers on these shores.

With all our progress we hold to the belief that there are two kinds of people, the tough-minded and the naive and only the tough will survive.

In our civilization we believe that the battle is to the strong and so nations stockpile more and more atom bombs to keep ahead of their enemies who are stockpiling more and more atom bombs.

COMPASSION is taken as a sign of weakness and gifts from the abundance of food and clothing are made in return for military bases and other warlike considerations.

Nevertheless, in spite of the widespread popularity of such ideas, if man were not basically tenderhearted, as well as endowed with a superior mentality, he would long since have joined the list of wild animals that are now extinct.

While man has never before lived in an age of such great scientific accomplishments never has he been so filled with frustrations and tensions. His insecurity has driven him to seek solution in greater and greater material progress, even to try to fly to the moon for escape from his confusions.

Never has he needed so deeply a Squanto to teach him to cultivate his fellow man. In our prayers this Thanksgiving, let us ask for a spiritual leadership that will teach us to use intelligence for good instead of evil and pull us back from the brink of disaster.

New Integration Law

By David Lawrence

David Lawrence

There's a new "law of the land" today on the integration problems of public schools. Local school boards henceforth are authorized, as a result of a Supreme Court decision, to assign pupils to whatever schools they please without revealing any reasons for their inaction.

While the case concerned an Alabama law, it applies throughout the nation wherever states now may pass "pupil assignment" laws. These statutes, however, will be held unconstitutional if they deny entry on account of race or color or are enforced as a part of a scheme of legislation that requires segregation.

The reason the "pupil assignment" law is held constitutional is because the denial or grant of the pupil's request is not based on any proved discrimination because of race or color.

This may mark a turning point in the whole controversy over integration. It could help solve the Virginia and Arkansas problems. In a sense, it is not a reversal by the Supreme Court of its historic decision of 1954 which said that classification by race was unconstitutional but it is an affirmation of the principle that wherever there is exclusion or inclusion of a pupil in a particular school, it must be based on that individual's personal qualifications.

THE ALABAMA LAW sets forth the basis on which the local school boards may act, as follows:

"In the assignment, transfer or continuance of pupils among and within the schools, or within the classroom and other facilities thereof, the following factors and the effect or results thereof shall be considered, with respect to the individual pupil, as well as other relevant matters:

"Available room and teaching capacity in the various schools; the availability of transportation facilities.

"The effect of the admission of new pupils upon established or proposed academic programs; the suitability of established curricula for particular pupils; the adequacy of the pupil's academic preparation for admission to a particular school and curriculum.

"The scholastic aptitude and relative intelligence or mental energy or ability of the pupil; the psychological qualification of the pupil for the type of teaching and association involved.

"The effect of admission of the pupil upon the academic progress of other students in a particular school or facility thereof; the effect of admission upon prevailing academic standards in a particular school; the physical effect upon the pupil of attendance at a particular school.

"The possibility or threat of friction or disorder among pupils or others; the possibility of breaches of the peace or ill will or economic retaliation within the community.

"The home environment of the pupil; the maintenance or severance of established social and psychological relationships with other pupils and with teachers; the choice and interest of the pupil, the moral conduct, health and personal standards of the pupil; the request or consent of parents or guardian and the reason assigned therefor."

THE ATTORNEYS in the lower court proceeding in behalf of the four Negro children who had made application to enter a particular school objected in vain to the portions of the above - quoted paragraph relating to "psychological qualification of the pupil for the type of teaching and association involved."

Also to the sentences referring to the "threat of friction or disorder among pupils or others" and "breaches of the peace or ill will or economic retaliation within the community," as well as to the sentence referring to "the maintenance or severance of established social and psychological relationships with other pupils and with teachers."

The Supreme Court, in its brief order affirming the judgment of the lower court, did so "upon the limited grounds on which the district court rested its decision."

But the lower federal court had said frankly that it couldn't tell what reasons had influenced the school board and that the plaintiffs had not been able to prove "that they cannot attend the schools of their choice because of their race or color."

This gives the school boards quite a loophole and an opportunity for circumvention.

IT MEANS that in some communities in the South local school boards will order "token" integration.

In others, they will find it easy to ignore requests for transfer of certain white and colored pupils. and will act as they please about "integration."

It may be doubted whether the Supreme Court did this deliberately. Rather it found itself caught with a statute that was so broad that it permitted almost any kind of action. It, therefore, upheld the lower court which had ruled that the law is constitutional "on its face."

The Social -:- -:- Notebook

Miss Mary Emiline Hundley, daughter of Mrs. Wayne Weeks and Harry W. Hundley of Belton, Mo., became the bride of Airman 1C Lewis Oliver Bartley, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bartley, 1512 Etruria St., on Nov. 2 at the Belton Methodist Church. The Rev. Charles Burner, pastor, officiated.

Walter Webber, church organist, presented a half-hour recital of traditional organ music. Vocal selections by Willis Pettigrew were "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor - length gown of cloud white taffeta and lace, styled with an Empire waistline, scalloped neckline edged in seed pearls and long tapered sleeves.

The gathered bouffant skirt swept into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a lace halo hat. She carried pink rosebuds with white satin streamers arranged on a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Harriet Hundley was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Margaret Hundley, another sister, was bridesmaid. Their identical ballerina-length gowns were of Christmas pink and royal blue velveteen with matching accessories. They carried bouquets of yellow rosebuds tied with green satin streamers.

A reception was held in the educational building of the church. A three-tiered cake centered the bride's table. Aides were Mrs. Howard Glover, Miss Barbara Herndon, Miss Jean Ann Jones, Mrs. Don Daulton and Miss Jessie Bowers.

Miss Judy Golitho had charge of the guest book.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Belton High School. The bridegroom is a 1955 graduate of East Liverpool High School, where he was a member of the Nu-Tones barbershop quartet.

They are residing in Belton.

In addition to the bridegroom's parents, others attending were his sister, Mrs. Kenneth McCaughtry, and her son, Kim, of Warren.

* * *

Officers were elected at the meeting of the True Followers Class of the Calvary Methodist Church Tuesday night with Mrs. Thelda Davis of Fisher Ave., Maplewood. They are:

Mrs. Marie Savors, president; Mrs. Roxanna Parsons, secretary and nursery supervisor, and Mrs. Libby Pickering, treasurer.

Mrs. Pickering used Psa. 23 and 100 for Scripture and gave a Thanksgiving meditation.

Members responded with reasons why they are thankful.

A Christmas dinner and gift exchange will be held Dec. 12 at Peterson's Restaurant. Mrs. Doris Calhoun and Mrs. Jean Grafton will have charge of the program.

* * *

"The Last Tycoon" (Fitzgerald) was reviewed by Mrs. Richard V. Beatty for the meeting of the Colonial Club Tuesday night with Mrs. Melbourne Burnett of Skyview Manor.

Mrs. Burchfield Cartwright, president, was in charge of business. Mrs. Frederick Lawrence gave a report on future projects.

Mrs. Harry Christopher of Santa Barbara, Calif., was a guest.

Lunch was served 24 by the hostess.

Mrs. Samuel Groglode presided at the tea table, which was centered with a gold turkey, fruit and lighted tapers.

Miss Mary Emiline Hundley, daughter of Mrs. Wayne Weeks and Harry W. Hundley of Belton, Mo., became the bride of Airman 1C Lewis Oliver Bartley, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bartley, 1512 Etruria St., on Nov. 2 at the Belton Methodist Church. The Rev. Charles Burner, pastor, officiated.

Walter Webber, church organist, presented a half-hour recital of traditional organ music. Vocal selections by Willis Pettigrew were "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of cloud white taffeta and lace, styled with an Empire waistline, scalloped neckline edged in seed pearls and long tapered sleeves.

The gathered bouffant skirt swept into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion was attached to a lace halo hat. She carried pink rosebuds with white satin streamers arranged on a white Bible. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Miss Harriet Hundley was her sister's maid of honor, and Miss Margaret Hundley, another sister, was bridesmaid. Their identical ballerina-length gowns were of Christmas pink and royal blue velveteen with matching accessories. They carried bouquets of yellow rosebuds tied with green satin streamers.

A reception was held in the educational building of the church. A three-tiered cake centered the bride's table. Aides were Mrs. Howard Glover, Miss Barbara Herndon, Miss Jean Ann Jones, Mrs. Don Daulton and Miss Jessie Bowers.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Belton High School. The bridegroom is a 1955 graduate of East Liverpool High School, where he was a member of the Nu-Tones barbershop quartet.

He is communications maintenanceman at Gabeur Air Force Base near Kansas City, Mo.

They are residing in Belton.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What kind of column are you running anyway? What sort of problem does a person have to have before it gets in the paper?

I wrote you a very sensible letter four weeks ago and signed it "Worried Housewife." Did it get into the paper? No, it did not.

Yet you print silly stuff about a teen-age girl who spends $10 on a sport shirt for her boy friend. When I read the letter from the girl who wanted to know who should remove glasses when kissing, the boy or the girl, I really burned up.

And why do you ask readers for their names and addresses? What do you do with them. Why not give all the advice in the paper? While you're at it, will you tell me what you do with the letters when you've finished reading them?—SUSPICIOUS.

Dear Suspicious: It would be lovely if everyone who wrote could get his letter and answer in the paper but it isn't possible. Would you wade through 600 letters and answers daily in your paper? Well neither would anyone else. And of course no newspaper could print this load.

This means I decide which letters are to be printed and the others must get their advice in the mail. A letter needn't be earth-shaking to get in print. I often select a letter because it has wide appeal or one that illustrates a good moral principle.

I don't ask people for their names and addresses. I request that they enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope so I can send the advice in the mail. All letters are destroyed the moment I have finished with them. Relax.

Who Came To Dinner

Dear Ann Landers : I'm a widow with two small children. I've been dating a divorced man who also has two little ones. Last Sunday I had a dinner party and invited the gentleman. He asked if he could bring his children and I said yes.

When he arrived I was shocked. He also brought his housekeeper—a brassy-haired woman who was embarrassingly overdressed for the occasion. I did my best to be gracious but I know I failed to conceal my discomfort.

She sat with the invited guests and I didn't know how to introduce her or whether to bring her into the conversation. She made no attempt to watch the children, and with four of them they could have used some supervision.

I like the man and I don't want him to think I'm a snob. At the same time, I don't wish to be put in this position again. Did he commit a social blunder or am I being super-critical?—DEL D.

This was more than a social blunder. Your friend displayed a frightful lack of judgment.

If the gentleman enjoys the housekeeper's company, he should entertain her himself and not bring her, uninvited and unannounced to a dinner party. By all means tell him. If he doesn't know better, it's time he learned.

Togis Mother

Dear Ann Landers: This is for "A Mother" whose 18-year-old son was going into the Army. She wrote hoping you could give him some "last-minute guidance" because, she said he was "just a baby." Also, she whined that she hated to lose him and hoped he could come home unchanged.

First, the Army is no happier to be stuck with an 18-year-old baby, than the mother is to lose him. The Army's objective isn't to teach manners, morals or character-building. These things are learned at home in the formative years, or not at all. A mother who has done her job well doesn't need to write for last-minute guidance.

Just for the record, six of us from the home town went into the Army together. We enjoyed the new experiences and the adventure of travel. We griped about KP, guard duty and the numerous inconveniences. Not one of us came home changed because our parents taught us right from wrong as we grew up—not the day before we left home.—X-GI.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

SOCIAL NOTES

Neighborhood chairmen reports were given by Mrs. Woodrow Smith, Mrs. Michael Mosura and Mrs. Leslie B. Roach. Mrs. Roach announced that a Neighborhood Association meeting will be held Tuesday, at 9 o'clock in the 7th St. School scout room.

Mrs. Ordich, district chairman, said the waiting list for prospective scouts should be given to the neighborhood chairmen.

The next district meeting is Jan. 12 or 13, with a dinner for installing the new officers:

Mrs. Hamilton, district chairman, succeeding Mrs. Ordich; Mrs. Charles McNeillie, secretary, and neighborhood chairmen, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Harry Young, Mrs. Stephen Hazy and Mrs. Samuel Zuppe.

Mrs. Richard Carr of Beaver Falls, field director, will be the installing officer. Place and time will be announced later.

Canadian Freight Rates Increased 17 Per Cent

OTTAWA (AP)—A 17 per cent increase in Canadian freight rates was approved Wednesday by the government.

Eight provinces had appealed against the increase, expected to cost about 60 million dollars annually.

The roads said this revenue is necessary to meet pay demands and avert a strike. Railroads and unions will resume contract talks soon.

When a fur neckpiece or coat has become wet, shake the fur thoroughly to get out the moistire, then hang up to dry slowly. Drying it by the heat of a fire will cause the skin to become brittle and the hair to fall out.

Christmas Parade To Be Held At Lisbon

LISBON — The community's first big Christmas parade will be held Saturday, Dec. 6, at 2 p. m. It will consist of Santa Claus, fire trucks, horseback riders, bands, and Civil Defense equipment.

The celebration is being sponsored by the Lisbon Junior Chamber of Commerce with the co-operation of village merchants.

Santa will make his headquarters in an igloo on the public square and distribute treats and favors to youngsters during the afternoon and evening.

Twenty - two persons attended the Jaycee's meeting Tuesday evening to make the final plans. Earl Dickey presided.

Chester Pastor Speaks For School Assembly

The Rev. Howard H. Bright of the Chester First Methodist Church spoke at a Thanksgiving assembly at Chester High School Wednesday. The program was sponsored by the junior class.

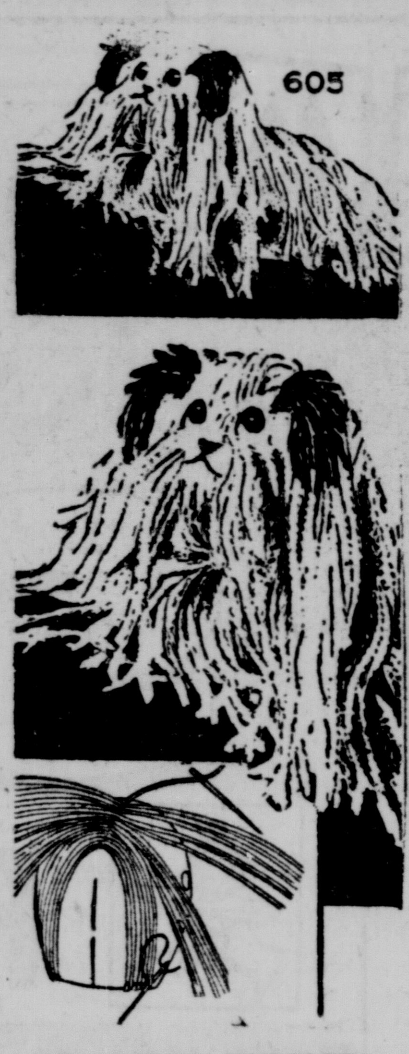
Needle Pattern



By LAURA WHEELER

This penny-saver takes one 4-ounce skein of worsted, plus contrast for ears. Foundation, 2 pillow-like pieces; Pattern 605: directions 15-inch dog.

Send 35 cents in coins for this pattern to the East Liverpool Review, 45 Needlecraft Dept., P. O. Box 161, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly your name, address and the pattern number.

Crowell Dixon, born in Columbus, Ohio, achieved the distinction of being the first man to fly over the main range of the Rocky Mountains, Sept. 30, 1911.

Early Stamp Purchase Urged To Avoid Christmas Mail Rush

Far-sighted persons who buy their stamps now for use on Christmas greeting cards and parcels will avoid waiting in line later, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said today.

Furthermore, Brown pointed out early purchasers will not only minimize the holiday rush, but those who buy early will have an opportunity to obtain the 4- cent Fort Duquesne stamp, marking the bicentennial observance of the founding of Pittsburgh, and the 4-cent forest conservation stamp featuring a forest scene.

Brown also offered several suggestions for worry-free Christmas mailings.

Sealed parcels may be mailed at third or fourth class postage rates without labels, notations or endorsements authorizing the opening of parcels for postal inspection, Brown said.

The postmaster pointed out combination mail permits the sender to enclose a letter or message inside the gift parcel simply by paying the appropriate letter rate postage plus the postage for the package.

Certified mail allows the mailers to obtain proof of delivery of Christmas letters or cards for a postal fee of 20 cents plus first class postage. Registered mail provides greater security protection for letters and parcels carrying items of real financial value, the postmaster explained.

Special delivery, air mail and air parcel post expedites delivery in all sections of the country and can greatly help with late Christmas mailings.

He urged use of postal zone numbers to speed handling mail in cities that are zoned. The use of the "local" and "out - of-town" labels on bundles of greeting cards and facing the cards so they are stacked the same way also speeds handling, Brown continued.

Free "local" and "out-of-town" labels are available at the Post Office along with a pamphlet, "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing," which will answer questions on the preparation of Christmas mail.

Police Lodge Elects Officers At Wellsville

Heiney succeeds Patrolman Denton Kevan.

Middletown Minister To Take Bexley Pulpit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dr. Louis R. Wolter, pastor of First Methodist Church in Middletown since 1951, has been named pastor of suburban Bexley Methodist Church. The announcement was made Wednesday by Bishop Hazen G. Werner of the Ohio area of the Methodist church.

Dr. Wolter, who also has served in churches in Toledo, Waterville and Bloomdale, is on the boards of trustees of Mount Union College, the Bethesda Hospital and Deaconess Assn., Cincinnati, and of Wesley Foundation at Miami University, Oxford.

Officers Elected By Area Council For Girl Scouts

Officers were elected at the meeting of the East Liverpool Girl Scout Council Monday night in the Red Cross rooms of the Mary Patterson Memorial. They are:

Mrs. Donald Ogilvie, president; Mrs. William Ogilvie, vice president; Mrs. Sidney Porter, treasurer; Mrs. Leslie Blumenthal, assistant treasurer; Mrs. B. E. Warner, secretary, and Mrs. Charles Bosco, registrar.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Donald Ogilvie. Girls chosen for the Senior Girl Scout roundup to be held in July at a camp between Denver and Colorado Springs, Colo., are:

Mrs. Mae Bryan and Mrs. Ruth Sprouse were appointed historians.

It was announced Troop 60 will hold a court of awards Dec. 18 at the Boyce Auditorium in East End. The highest award, the "curved bar," will be presented.

The next council meeting will be Dec. 29 at the Mary Patterson.

Yugoslav Parliament Adopts Economic Plan

BELGRADE (AP) — Yugoslavia's Parliament adopted an economic plan Wednesday calling for a 6 per cent rise in investments in 1959, despite cancellation of Soviet help and slow progress in obtaining credits from the West.

The plan provides for investments next year to total about two billion dollars. Defense expenditures will rise 58 million dollars above this year's to a total of 660 million.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: What kind of column are you running anyway? What sort of problem does a person have to have before it gets in the paper?

I wrote you a very sensible letter four weeks ago and signed it "Worried Housewife." Did it get into the paper? No, it did not.

Yet you print silly stuff about a teen-age girl who spends $10 on a sport shirt for her boy friend. When I read the letter from the girl who wanted to know who should remove glasses when kissing, the boy or the girl, I really burned up.

And why do you ask readers for their names and addresses? What do you do with them. Why not give all the advice in the paper? While you're at it, will you tell me what you do with the letters when you've finished reading them?—SUSPICIOUS.

Dear Suspicious: It would be lovely if everyone who wrote could get his letter and answer in the paper but it isn't possible. Would you wade through 600 letters and answers daily in your paper? Well neither would anyone else. And of course no newspaper could print this load.

This means I decide which letters are to be printed and the others must get their advice in the mail. A letter needn't be earth-shaking to get in print. I often select a letter because it has wide appeal or one that illustrates a good moral principle.

I don't ask people for their names and addresses. I request that they enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope so I can send the advice in the mail. All letters are destroyed the moment I have finished with them. Relax.

Who Came To Dinner

Dear Ann Landers : I'm a widow with two small children. I've been dating a divorced man who also has two little ones. Last Sunday I had a dinner party and invited the gentleman. He asked if he could bring his children and I said yes.

When he arrived I was shocked. He also brought his housekeeper—a brassy-haired woman who was embarrassingly overdressed for the occasion. I did my best to be gracious but I know I failed to conceal my discomfort.

She sat with the invited guests and I didn't know how to introduce her or whether to bring her into the conversation. She made no attempt to watch the children, and with four of them they could have used some supervision.

I like the man and I don't want him to think I'm a snob. At the same time, I don't wish to be put in this position again. Did he commit a social blunder or am I being super-critical?—DEL D.

This was more than a social blunder. Your friend displayed a frightful lack of judgment.

If the gentleman enjoys the housekeeper's company, he should entertain her himself and not bring her, uninvited and unannounced to a dinner party. By all means tell him. If he doesn't know better, it's time he learned.

Togis Mother

Dear Ann Landers: This is for "A Mother" whose 18-year-old son was going into the Army. She wrote hoping you could give him some "last-minute guidance" because, she said he was "just a baby." Also, she whined that she hated to lose him and hoped he could come home unchanged.

First, the Army is no happier to be stuck with an 18-year-old baby, than the mother is to lose him. The Army's objective isn't to teach manners, morals or character-building. These things are learned at home in the formative years, or not at all. A mother who has done her job well doesn't need to write for last-minute guidance.

Just for the record, six of us from the home town went into the Army together. We enjoyed the new experiences and the adventure of travel. We griped about KP, guard duty and the numerous inconveniences. Not one of us came home changed because our parents taught us right from wrong as we grew up—not the day before we left home.—X-GI.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self - addressed envelope.

Neighborhood chairmen reports were given by Mrs. Woodrow Smith, Mrs. Michael Mosura and Mrs. Leslie B. Roach. Mrs. Roach announced that a Neighborhood Association meeting will be held Tuesday, at 9 o'clock in the 7th St. School scout room.

Mrs. Ordich, district chairman, said the waiting list for prospective scouts should be given to the neighborhood chairmen.

The next district meeting is Jan. 12 or 13, with a dinner for installing the new officers:

Mrs. Hamilton, district chairman, succeeding Mrs. Ordich; Mrs. Charles McNeillie, secretary, and neighborhood chairmen, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Harry Young, Mrs. Stephen Hazy and Mrs. Samuel Zuppe.

Mrs. Richard Carr of Beaver Falls, field director, will be the installing officer. Place and time will be announced later.

Canadian Freight Rates Increased 17 Per Cent

OTTAWA (AP)—A 17 per cent increase in Canadian freight rates was approved Wednesday by the government.

Eight provinces had appealed against the increase, expected to cost about 60 million dollars annually.

The roads said this revenue is necessary to meet pay demands and avert a strike. Railroads and unions will resume contract talks soon.

When a fur neckpiece or coat has become wet, shake the fur thoroughly to get out the moistire, then hang up to dry slowly. Drying it by the heat of a fire will cause the skin to become brittle and the hair to fall out.

Christmas Parade To Be Held At Lisbon

LISBON — The community's first big Christmas parade will be held Saturday, Dec. 6, at 2 p. m. It will consist of Santa Claus, fire trucks, horseback riders, bands, and Civil Defense equipment.

The celebration is being sponsored by the Lisbon Junior Chamber of Commerce with the co-operation of village merchants.

Santa will make his headquarters in an igloo on the public square and distribute treats and favors to youngsters during the afternoon and evening.

Twenty - two persons attended the Jaycee's meeting Tuesday evening to make the final plans. Earl Dickey presided.

Nixon Urges More Pledges Of Freedom

Says West Ought To Adopt As No. 1 Goal 'Victory Of Plenty'

LONDON (AP)—Vice President Nixon urged Wednesday night that the West adopt as its No. 1 goal "the victory of plenty over want, of health over disease, of freedom over tyranny."

"Let us speak less of the threat of communism and more of the promise of freedom," he said in a speech at a British-American banquet in London's ancient Guildhall.

Prime Minister Macmillan and Prince Philip, the husband of Queen Elizabeth II, sat among the dinner guests as Nixon reviewed 20th century ideals and aims of the United States and Britain.

He touched on a forecast by Premier Nikita Khrushchev that the Soviet Union will outstrip the Western powers in the battle for better standards of living.

"If Mr. Khrushchev wishes to consider these steps as a form of competition or contest, I am sure all of us would be delighted to accept the challenge," Nixon said. "In such a contest, no one could really lose.

"The world would be infinitely better off if man's energies were used for the welfare of families rather than for the building of armies."

Nixon threw in a word of praise for "that much maligned institution—British colonialism."

Recalling his travels through lands which once were British colonies, he said Britain could be proud of her colonial administrators who imbued their territories with great ideas for the future.

The banquet, held by the English-Speaking Union, capped a crowded second day of Nixon's four-day visit to Britain.

He was at the House of Commons in the morning for another quick session of getting acquainted talks with British government leaders.

After that came a hurried ride to join Queen Elizabeth in a ceremony dedicating a new American chapel at St. Paul's Cathedral as a memorial to the 28,000 Americans killed in operations here and from British bases in World War II.

As dusk fell, Nixon went in bleak and rainy weather to a stately mansion near Hyde Park to pay a surprise call on Sir Winston Churchill. He and the British elder statesman, who will be 84 Sunday, talked for 24-minutes—and Nixon came out with word that he expects Churchill to visit Washington next May as guest of President Eisenhower.

Illness forced the British wartime prime minister to cancel his acceptance of an invitation to visit Eisenhower last spring.

Nixon said he and Churchill discussed world problems.

height of the blaze, and broke a General Telephone Co. party line.

Other sections of the walls collapsed, or were later pulled down by firemen as they searched the charred ruins in the basement for the bodies of the two youngsters.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined, according to firemen at the scene. The home was heated by a coal furnace.

A chilling wind swept down the valley as firemen shoveled into the tumbled bricks and ashes in search of the bodies. The home was only a few hundred yards from the Columbiana County line, and Carroll County authorities took charge of the investigation.

Columbiana County Deputy Sheriff Howard Gray was dispatched from Lisbon when the first report had the blaze inside Columbiana County. An officer from the State Highway Patrol barracks at New Philadelphia also investigated.

The body of the younger boy was recovered about 2 p. m., and the older boy around 4.

Gary was born Feb. 17, 1954, near Dungannon, and Ricky was born Feb. 9, 1956, at a Salem hospital. The family are lifetime residents of the area.

Besides their parents, the boys are survived by three brothers, John Jr., James and Larry; three sisters, Gloria, Sandra and Lititia; the maternal grandfather, L. S. Phillips of Lisbon, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Clemens of Kensington R. D.

Services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 at the Maple Funeral Home at Kensington. Burial will be in Grove Hill Cemetery at Hanoverton.

There will be no calling hours.

He Was In A Hurry

OLD SAYBROOK, Conn. (AP) — Kerry J. Cannon, 22, arrested for speeding, told police he was in a hurry to go to his own wedding. The judge fined him $50 when he learned that Cannon's wedding isn't until next April.

4,000 Fund Appeals Mailed

Retarded Child Group Seeks Aid

The annual Thanksgiving Week fund drive of the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council is under way to finance maintenance of classes here and at Salem and for improved training facilities.

Some 4,000 letter appeals have been mailed to individuals, businesses and organizations seeking contributions for operations of the special classes and other projects of the Council.

JOHN BILLITER of Salem, president, pointed out the mentally retarded youngsters are excluded from regular schools because of their slower ability to learn, but they can be trained for happy, worthwhile living in their communities by special programs.

"To maintain these present classes and establish new ones is our main purpose," Billiter said. "We also hope to establish a sheltered workshop where they can learn to earn their own living and to continue to promote better understanding of their problems."

"Our past work has been made possible primarily by generous donations by the public and interested individuals and groups," he said. Billiter pointed out 100 per cent of the contributions will be used locally.

Mrs. Alvin Fineman is the instructor at the class at the Garfield School here, while Mrs. Margaret Starbuck is teacher at the class at the Westminster House at Salem.

Instruction in the classes is not competitive—each child progresses according to his ability. The county unit is affiliated with the Ohio Association for Retarded Children which is also participating in the nationwide campaign for retarded children.

A STATEMENT from the state headquarters summarizes its position on the role of education and equal opportunity for all students in America.

"Certainly we must give our gifted children every opportunity to develop to the limits of their abilities — they have a most important contribution to make to society. But it is not very sensible to think all else must be subordinated to efforts on their behalf . . .

"We who speak for the mentally retarded ask no special favors. We seek no privilege which is not the inherent right of all free-born Americans, or do we want special recognition at the expense of any other group. We have but one justified request — to give all retarded children the same rights, privileges and opportunities every American child has a right to expect."

Youth, 17, Found Injured

George Sachs, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Sachs of Calcutta, was in "fairly good" condition Wednesday night at City Hospital with minor bruises of the forehead, hip and ankle. The youth was taken to the hospital about 6 yesterday morning after he appeared at the home of an Oakmont family and told several conflicting stories about how the injuries were suffered. Police and the sheriff's office were investigating.

Births Reported

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Murray, 1709 Etruria St., a daughter, Nov. 26, at City Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph DeSarro, 1166 Pennsylvania Ave., a son, Nov. 26, at City Hospital.

Fires Blamed On Tree Limbs

Council At Midland To Ask Utility Action

Midland Council Wednesday night decided to ask the Duquesne Light Co. to trim tree limbs touching power lines after two fires from such shorts last month.

Councilmen Harvey Sponcer reported two such fire calls were made in October.

R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, reported that surfacing of 10th St. and Park Pl. E. has been completed by the Beaver County Highway Department. There still remains a bump in Midland Ave. east, which the county said it will repair, he reported.

On a motion by Councilman Raymond Presutti, Council agreed to have Police Chief Ed J. Stefl congratulate, on its behalf, the policemen awarded certificates Tuesday evening for qualifying with the .38-caliber pistol during a recent school held by the Pennsylvania Public School of Instruction. About 15 men qualified during six weeks of schooling.

Steebner was given permission by Council to determine if the borough can obtain any money from the state in connection with damage caused by last July's severe rain storm.

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, reported that Duquesne Light had advised it would continue installation of lights next week in Plan K, a residential area.

Approved was the recommendation of Steve Germusa, president, that Council's second meeting next month be held Dec. 22 instead of Dec. 24, because of the Christmas holidays.

Gruening will go to the Senate with Democrat E. L. Bartlett, 54, for 14 years Alaska's nonvoting delegate to Congress. Bartlett was a landslide winner over R. E. Robertson, 73, a Juneau lawyer and Republican who did not campaign actively.

Ralph Rivers, former Alaska attorney general, will complete the Alaska congressional delegation. Rivers, 55, was elected to the House as a representative-at-large from Alaska by defeating Republican Henry Benson, 48, Alaska's commissioner of labor.

Democrat William Egan, 44, of Valdez, rolled up a wide margin of victory to become the first elected governor of the Union's newest and largest state.

Egan carried into office with him, Hugh J. Wade, 57, who will serve as secretary of state in the new Democratic state administration.

Republicans have been defeated soundly before in normally Democratic Alaska, but never by such a margin.

Deaths and Funerals

Death Claims Widow At 72

Mrs. Emma Ramsey Rites To Be Saturday

Mrs. Emma E. Ramsey, 114 Ravine St., widow of Leland S. Ramsey, who operated a grocery and ice cream store on Ravine St. for over 30 years, died Wednesday afternoon at 4:10 at City Hospital, following a 7-month illness. She was 72.

Mrs. Ramsey was born Nov. 20, 1886, in Salineville, a daughter of Frank and Ellen Earl, later of East Liverpool. Her husband died in 1951. She was a member of the First Methodist Church.

Survivors include two sons, Richard H. Ramsey and L. Stanford Ramsey Jr., both of East Liverpool, and three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Saturday at 10:30 a. m. at the Martin Funeral Home by Dr. D. Finley Wood. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday afternoon and night.

accidents had been reported late Wednesday night.

No arrests had been made early last night and the city had not recorded a traffic accident in 30 hours. Anyone arrested last night or today faced the prospect of waiting in jail until Friday—unless he could raise bond — as Municipal Court is suspended for the holiday.

The city's holiday eve traffic hit its peak about 5 p. m. yesterday, a combination of inter-city travel on Routes 7 and 30 and city residents homeward bound from work or last-minute food-shopping trips.

A sprinkling of tourist travel continued early last night through the city on Route 30, but traffic was comparatively light for a holiday.

reject any Western move recognizing the East Germans as agents of the Soviet Union.

He said it would be different if Moscow designated the East Germans as Soviet agents because that would make them — Soviet Union—concede that East Germany is no sovereign state.

French Premier de Gaulle and Adenauer, meeting at the German spa of Bad Kreuznach, issued a communique pledging to defend with vigor the maintenance of the status of Berlin.

British Prime Minister Macmillan in a personal note to Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev over the weekend told him the Big Three mean to stay on in West Berlin — and without recognizing the East German Communist regime.

Lisbon

Mr. and Mrs. Sanford M. Hill, 226 Pritchard Ave., were greeted by approximately 175 friends and relatives when they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Sunday. Their four sons and two daughters and all but two of the grandchildren were present, along with one great-grandchild.

A three-tier cake centered the lace covered table. The daughters-in-law and grandchildren registered the guests.

The daughters, Mrs. Ila Coalmer and Mrs. Dorothy Brenner, were hostesses.

The sons are Charles, Joe, Richard and Sanford.

Mrs. May Welsh, sister of Mrs. Hill, and a daughter and family arrived from Columbus. Other guests were present from Youngstown, North Lima, Alliance, Beloit, Minerva, Salem, Columbiana, New Waterford, Guilford, Hanoverton, Gavers, Millport, Kensington and Lisbon.

Solemn Prayer, Joyful Frivolity

Americans Mark Another Peacetime Thanksgiving

By The Associated Press

Americans in all the 48 states and in outlying possessions from Guam to the Virgin Islands celebrate another peacetime Thanksgiving. The observance runs the gamut from solemn prayer to joyful frivolity.

Leading the nation in feasting and rejoicing are President Eisenhower and his family. They are vacationing in Augusta, Ga., and like many another traveling American are far from home.

However, holiday air travel for many was snarled by a strike on two of the nation's major airlines—Eastern and Trans World. Thousands of passengers with holiday bookings were stranded, or forced to scramble for alternate transportation.

A bus strike in Lowell, Mass., posed the problem of how to get the high school football team to and from Lawrence, Mass., for a traditional Thanksgiving Day game. Funeral directors solved things by donating seven funeral limousines for the trip.

At Plymouth, Mass., descendants of the Pilgrims are holding church services to mark the holiday. Later, a pageant was planned.

Gay parades were arranged for children along the streets of Detroit and on Manhattan's Broadway. They are traditional on the holiday in both cities.

Food baskets were distributed to the needy. In New York, the derelicts who inhabit the Bowery get free turkey dinners.

And even amid despairing circumstances, there was a cause for thanks as reflected in a holiday editorial in a magazine put out by prisoners of Howard R.I., correctional institutions. It read in part:

"What have we to be thankful for? After all, we are in jail. We don't have freedom of movement and that's important. But we do enjoy more freedom than do many subjugated people who literally don't know the meaning of the word.

"So we can start by being thankful that we are Americans."

Strike

Eastern was struck Monday and its 16,000 employes furloughed.

Eastern and TWA rank third and fourth in that order in passenger miles flown annually. Eastern leads all other of the nation's airlines in number of individual passengers flown.

Revenue losses by the struck airlines were mounting into the millions of dollars. But both companies are among six major airlines who have agreed to turn over to struck airlines any extra income taken in as a result of strikes.

More than 200 cities served by either or both airlines felt the effects of the strike. Sixteen smaller cities from Florida to Vermont were left without any airline service.

During the day, TWA rejected a settlement offer from its 6,700 striking members of the International Assn. of Machinists—IAM. The company said the offer was merely a rehash of a proposal previously turned down by TWA.

Eastern's dispute with 550 members of the Flight Engineers International Assn.—FEIA—and 5,500 IAM mechanics was before a federal court. Both sides were seeking injunctions.

Striking mechanics are seeking wage increases from both airlines. They have turned down company offers of packages up to 41 cents per hour. Their wages now average around $2.50 per hour.

A more serious deadlock exists however, between Eastern and its flight engineers. They are balking at Eastern's requirement—backed by a presidential board's recommendation—that they have pilot training on jet aircraft, which are soon to replace piston-engine aircraft on the nation's airlines.

Stassen contends this move was a factor in the smashing defeat handed the Republicans across the country Nov. 4.

On economics, Nixon proposed in the telegram that the Republicans picture the Democrats as offering nothing but "a return to the radical policies that failed to produce prosperity except in war or as a result of war."

On foreign relations, the Nixon telegram labeled the Democrats as advocates of a policy of weakness and appeasement. Nixon Urges More Pledges Of Freedom

Says West Ought To Adopt As No. 1 Goal 'Victory Of Plenty'

LONDON (AP)—Vice President Nixon urged Wednesday night that the West adopt as its No. 1 goal "the victory of plenty over want, of health over disease, of freedom over tyranny."

"Let us speak less of the threat of communism and more of the promise of freedom," he said in a speech at a British - American banquet in London's ancient Guildhall.

Prime Minister Macmillan and Prince Philip, the husband of Queen Elizabeth II, sat among the dinner guests as Nixon reviewed 20th century ideals and aims of the United States and Britain.

He touched on a forecast by Premier Nikita Khrushchev that the Soviet Union will outstrip the Western powers in the battle for better standards of living.

"If Mr. Khrushchev wishes to consider these steps as a form of competition or contest, I am sure all of us would be delighted to accept the challenge," Nixon said. "In such a contest, no one could really lose.

"The world would be infinitely better off if man's energies were used for the welfare of families rather than for the building of armies."

Nixon threw in a word of praise for "that much maligned institution—British colonialism."

Recalling his travels through lands which once were British colonies, he said Britain could be proud of her colonial administrators who imbued their territories with great ideas for the future.

The banquet, held by the English - Speaking Union, capped a crowded second day of Nixon's four-day visit to Britain.

He was at the House of Commons in the morning for another quick session of getting acquainted talks with British government leaders.

After that came a hurried ride to join Queen Elizabeth in a ceremony dedicating a new American chapel at St. Paul's Cathedral as a memorial to the 28,000 Americans killed in operations here and from British bases in World War II.

As dusk fell, Nixon went in bleak and rainy weather to a stately mansion near Hyde Park to pay a surprise call on Sir Winston Churchill. He and the British elder statesman, who will be 84 Sunday, talked for 24-minutes—and Nixon came out with word that he expects Churchill to visit Washington next May as guest of President Eisenhower.

Illness forced the British wartime prime minister to cancel his acceptance of an invitation to visit Eisenhower last spring.

Nixon said he and Churchill discussed world problems.

height of the blaze, and broke a General Telephone Co. party line.

Other sections of the walls collapsed, or were later pulled down by firemen as they searched the charred ruins in the basement for the bodies of the two youngsters.

Cause of the blaze was undetermined, according to firemen at the scene. The home was heated by a coal furnace.

A chilling wind swept down the valley as firemen shoveled into the tumbled bricks and ashes in search of the bodies. The home was only a few hundred yards from the Columbiana County line, and Carroll County authorities took charge of the investigation.

Columbiana County Deputy Sheriff Howard Gray was dispatched from Lisbon when the first report had the blaze inside Columbiana County. An officer from the State Highway Patrol barracks at New Philadelphia also investigated.

The body of the younger boy was recovered about 2 p. m., and the older boy around 4.

Gary was born Feb. 17, 1954, near Dungannon, and Ricky was born Feb. 9, 1956, at a Salem hospital. The family are lifetime residents of the area.

Besides their parents, the boys are survived by three brothers, John Jr., James and Larry; three sisters, Gloria, Sandra and Lititia; the maternal grandfather, L. S. Phillips of Lisbon, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Clemens of Kensington R. D.

Services will be held Saturday afternoon at 1 at the Maple Funeral Home at Kensington. Burial will be in Grove Hill Cemetery at Hanoverton.

There will be no calling hours.

He Was In A Hurry

OLD SAYBROOK, Conn. (AP) — Kerry J. Cannon, 22, arrested for speeding, told police he was in a hurry to go to his own wedding. The judge fined him $50 when he learned that Cannon's wedding isn't until next April.

Retarded Child Group Seeks Aid

The annual Thanksgiving Week fund drive of the Columbiana County Retarded Children's Council is under way to finance maintenance of classes here and at Salem and for improved training facilities.

Some 4,000 letter appeals have been mailed to individuals, businesses and organizations seeking contributions for operations of the special classes and other projects of the Council.

JOHN BILLITER of Salem, president, pointed out the mentally retarded youngsters are excluded from regular schools because of their slower ability to learn, but they can be trained for happy, worthwhile living in their communities by special programs.

"To maintain these present classes and establish new ones is our main purpose," Billiter said. "We also hope to establish a sheltered workshop where they can learn to earn their own living and to continue to promote better understanding of their problems."

"Our past work has been made possible primarily by generous donations by the public and interested individuals and groups," he said. Billiter pointed out 100 per cent of the contributions will be used locally.

Mrs. Alvin Fineman is the instructor at the class at the Garfield School here, while Mrs. Margaret Starbuck is teacher at the class at the Westminster House at Salem.

Instruction in the classes is not competitive—each child progresses according to his ability. The county unit is affiliated with the Ohio Association for Retarded Children which is also participating in the nationwide campaign for retarded children.

A STATEMENT from the state headquarters summarizes its position on the role of education and equal opportunity for all students in America.

"Certainly we must give our gifted children every opportunity to develop to the limits of their abilities — they have a most important contribution to make to society. But it is not very sensible to think all else must be subordinated to efforts on their behalf . . .

"We who speak for the mentally retarded ask no special favors. We seek no privilege which is not the inherent right of all free-born Americans, or do we want special recognition at the expense of any other group. We have but one justified request — to give all retarded children the same rights, privileges and opportunities every American child has a right to expect."

Fires Blamed On Tree Limbs

Council At Midland To Ask Utility Action

Midland Council Wednesday night decided to ask the Duquesne Light Co. to trim tree limbs touching power lines after two fires from such shorts last month.

Councilmen Harvey Sponcer reported two such fire calls were made in October.

R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, reported that surfacing of 10th St. and Park Pl. E. has been completed by the Beaver County Highway Department. There still remains a bump in Midland Ave. east, which the county said it will repair, he reported.

On a motion by Councilman Raymond Presutti, Council agreed to have Police Chief Ed J. Stefl congratulate, on its behalf, the policemen awarded certificates Tuesday evening for qualifying with the .38-caliber pistol during a recent school held by the Pennsylvania Public School of Instruction. About 15 men qualified during six weeks of schooling.

Steebner was given permission by Council to determine if the borough can obtain any money from the state in connection with damage caused by last July's severe rain storm.

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, reported that Duquesne Light had advised it would continue installation of lights next week in Plan K, a residential area.

Approved was the recommendation of Steve Germusa, president, that Council's second meeting next month be held Dec. 22 instead of Dec. 24, because of the Christmas holidays.

election that he had closed the gap.

Gruening will go to the Senate with Democrat E. L. Bartlett, 54, for 14 years Alaska's nonvoting delegate to Congress. Bartlett was a landslide winner over R. E. Robertson, 73, a Juneau lawyer and Republican who did not campaign actively.

Ralph Rivers, former Alaska attorney general, will complete the Alaska congressional delegation. Rivers, 55, was elected to the House as a representative-at-large from Alaska by defeating Republican Henry Benson, 48, Alaska's commissioner of labor.

Democrat William Egan, 44, of Valdez, rolled up a wide margin of victory to become the first elected governor of the Union's newest and largest state.

Egan carried into office with him, Hugh J. Wade, 57, who will serve as secretary of state in the new Democratic state administration.

Republicans have been defeated soundly before in normally Democratic Alaska, but never by such a margin.

accidents had been reported late Wednesday night.

No arrests had been made early last night and the city had not recorded a traffic accident in 30 hours. Anyone arrested last night or today faced the prospect of waiting in jail until Friday—unless he could raise bond — as Municipal Court is suspended for the holiday.

The city's holiday eve traffic hit its peak about 5 p. m. yesterday, a combination of inter - city travel on Routes 7 and 30 and city residents homeward bound from work or last - minute food-shopping trips.

A sprinkling of tourist travel continued early last night through the city on Route 30, but traffic was comparatively light for a holiday.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Gleason, Hackett Eye Separate Paths

Marie Torre

Pride and discretion have prevented Jackie Gleason and Buddy Hackett from admitting TV incompatibility, but it's apparent that things haven't gone well with the new comedy team, and the other day Hackett unwittingly conceded that a "divorce" is in the offing.

The admission was contained in the news that the panda-eyed comedian, instead of being preoccupied with laugh-making on the Gleason show, is planning a weekly filmed television series for next season.

"What else have I got to do!" exclaimed Hackett, who had just learned he would be off the Gleason show for the third time in seven weeks. (The original deal calls for 24 Hackett appearances out of 28 shows.)

"THE ARRANGEMENT isn't going as well as we thought it would, but that's not Jackie's fault. Nor mine. That's the way the cookie crumbles, I guess.

"Anyway, I feel now that I have to go out on my own and take the full blame or credit for what I do. My old series, 'Stanley,' was Max Liebman's baby. The Gleason show is Gleason's show. I want the next one to be MY show."

The possibility of a third strikeout does not appear to concern him at this time.

"Luckily," he says, "there are no new comedians coming along in this business. We're all they've got, so what's to worry?"

THE OBJECT of his attention is based on the exploits of a tractor salesman named Alexander Botts, a character developed in a series of Saturday Evening Post stories by William Hazlett Upson. The title of the show is "The Good Earthworm," which will be written and jointly owned by Jack Finks.

"Jack got the idea that the character would be good for me one day when he went with me to buy a power tool," Hackett said. "You've got to be careful when you buy things like that, you know. The prices usually are more than they should be.

"Well, Jack sat by while he heard me convince the shop keeper to take $25 less for the tool, and he was in stitches. He said I was just like the guy in those Saturday Evening Post stories. That's how it all happened."

It cannot be said the project is being prepared without Gleason's knowledge. Nor can it be said that Hackett's enforced vacations have resulted in friction between the two.

"Every time I go to see Gleason," said Hackett, "he says, 'Hackie, my boy!' He gives me a few 'my boys!' and there we are."

CBS CHAIRMAN William S. Paley, honored by the Broadcast Pioneers at a luncheon, spoke interestingly about the early days at CBS Radio, where Bing Crosby played a prominent part.

Paley first heard Crosby's voice blaring from a record on a ocean liner bound for Europe. He immediately sent a radiogram to the network's artist bureau in New York, suggesting Crosby be signed by CBS.

"When I got home to New York some weeks later," Paley related, "I asked what had happened. The answer was: Nothing.

"Inquiry had developed the opinion from Los Angeles, where Crosby was singing at the Coconut Grove, that he was a rather flighty young fellow, unlikely to fit in well to the strict broadcasting schedules, so the matter had been dropped.

"I SAID I didn't care nearly so much about how this young man observed the calendar as I did about his voice, so please get going."

"This proved arduous. It seemed that our display of interest had been sniffed by the competition. This was conveyed to us as a hint that the Crosby services would not come cheap.

"At this time, $100 a week was a good guarantee for an unknown singer on a sustaining show, so I was properly stunned when the enterprising Crosby lawyer said that his client's fee would be $22,000 a week, take it or leave it.

"I did neither, but I did eventually agree to what seemed the fantastic sum of $1,500-a-week guarantee, wondering why I was doing it."

Mr. Paley ceased wondering several weeks later, of course, when the whole country started talking about "this great new vocalist, Bing Crosby."

GIVING AID to Sid Caesar on his next NBC show (Dec. 7) will be actor Paul Douglas. . . .

A memo from the producer was sent to members of the "Today" show, assuring them that, contrary to rumors, Dave Garroway is NOT quitting the early-bird program. . . .

June Lockhart's first appearance out of "Lassie" this season will be as narrator of "The Nutcracker" on "Playhouse 90" on Christmas Day. . . .

Ernie Kovacs' appearances last week on the Arthur Godfrey and Patti Page shows reminded us of the wonderfully nonsensical quality of his old morning series — and what a shame television has permitted him to move on to the movies! Nowadays, that's where all good TV people seem to go.

Electric Firm Asks 3.4 Million Rate Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. today asked the Utilities Commission to approve a 3.4 million dollar annual rate increase for its customers in Columbus and other parts of Franklin County.

The company said that because it has reduced residential rates three times since 1929 the new rates it proposes would be lower than the rates in effect in 1939.

League Given Play Quarters

Cumberland Council Airs Sewage Plans

NEW CUMBERLAND — Town Council met in special session Tuesday night and authorized use of the Community House for church league basketball teams following a request by a 15-member committee.

The delegation included representatives from nearly all of the community's churches. Council granted use of the building providing the league aids in repairs and general cleanup.

In other business, progress of plans for a new sewage disposal system and repairing of several streets were discussed. It was agreed that S. Chester St., would be repaired in preparation for the winter months.

Mayor Albert (Jakie) Fuccy expects to appoint two other persons to a sanitation board to operate and control the sewage system when established. It will include one citizen and a resident engineer, in addition to the mayor. The next meeting is Tuesday.

Member Drive Set By Farm Bureau

LISBON — A membership drive of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau will begin with a kickoff meeting Monday at Guilford Grange Hall.

Mrs. Arland Weaver of West Township is captain of the "deers" and Floyd Glazer of Lisbon for the "goats."

The drive will be held Tuesday through Saturday with a goal of 490 members.

Twenty-seven members representing 11 councils attended the Columbiana County Farm Bureau Advisory Council leadership training meeting Monday evening in Farm Bureau office.

Ben Glover, assistant director of youth and adult education, and Jean Wertz, assistant director of women's activities, both of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, were leaders.

Third $40,000 Suit Filed In Traffic Crash

LISBON — Another suit for $40,000 for alleged personal injuries, stemming from auto - tractor trailer accident, was filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday by Dominic L. Papania of New Waterford. This is the third such suit for the same amount.

James W. Mason Jr. of Cairo, W. Va., was named defendant in this case. He was the driver of the tractor. Other defendants were Carol F. Mills of the Fullerton Transfer & Storage Co. of Youngstown and the Merchants Delivery, Inc., of Marietta, and Kathleen L. Brooker of Little Hocking and Gail Brooker of Belpre.

Papania asks a total of $112,000 as a result of the traffic accident Nov. 29, 1956, on Route 7 some 4.8 miles south of Rogers.

Temporary Chairman Named By Youth Group

J. Fred Allison was named temporary chairman, to succeed the Rev. Ray Brugler, when the Newell Youth Council met Tuesday night in the Presbyterian Church.

The group heard reports from chairmen on plans for constructing a recreation area at Memorial Field near Wells High School. Plans call for use of an area 50-x-50 feet to include facilities for basketball, volleyball and tennis. It will be flooded with water in the winter months for ice skating.

An Arroyo blacktopping firm plans to surface the area. Rev. Brugler tendered his resignation because of future plans. The next meeting will be in January.

Health Head At Session

LISBON — Dr. C. S. Palmer, Columbiana County health commissioner and past president of the city public health league of Ohio, attended its annual meeting Tuesday in Youngstown. He was accompanied by Tom Boyce, county sanitarian.

Another Angle Develops

Expert Testifies No Bullet In 'Torch' Victim's Body

CINCINNATI (AP) — Another angle in the slaying of Mrs. Martha Louise Bergen, 32, developed Wednesday when a pathologist testified in Municipal Court that he found no evidence of a bullet wound in her body.

Dr. Frank P. Cleveland made the statement at a hearing at which Mrs. Edythe Klumpp, 40, was ordered held to the grand jury on a charge of killing Mrs. Bergen, the estranged wife of Mrs. Klumpp's lover.

Police have said Mrs. Klumpp told them she shot Mrs. Bergen in a struggle for possession of a pistol, kept the body in the luggage compartment of her car overnight, drove 45 miles to Lake Cowan in nearly Clinton County the next day, and set it afire.

The blonde part - time sewing teacher, mother of four children, was held to the grand jury over vigorous objection of William F. Hopkins, her attorney.

"There is not a scintilla of that anything occurred in this county except Detective (Wilberg) Stagenhorst's testimony as to what the defendant said," he declared.

"The state has failed to show that anything occurred in Hamilton County, and nothing occurred in Clinton County except that a body was found.

"I know this girl must be tried, but I want to be absolutely sure she is tried in the proper county."

Detective Stagenhorst signed the murder charge against Mrs. Klumpp in Hamilton County. She had been living with William Bergen, widower of Mrs. Bergen, for some time prior to the slaying.

Dr. Cleveland told Judge Denning his first examination indicated that Mrs. Bergen had suffered a fractured skull by a "miltiple impact to the head."

The pathologist made another examination after Mrs. Klumpp said Mrs. Bergen had been shot. He explained that a series of X-rays were studied and that he did not find any additional injuries and did not find a bullet wound. There were traces of metal residue in the body, however, he said.

According to Detective Stagenhorst, police were first told by Mrs. Klumpp that she shot Mrs. Bergen at Lake Cowan. Later, he testified, she said the shooting occurred at Caldwell Park in the northern part of Hamilton County.

Mrs. Klumpp insisted throughout police questioning that the shooting was self-defense, Stagenhorst said.

Mrs. Klumpp did not speak aloud during the court hearing. She held whispered conversations with her attorney several times.

Since the Hamilton County grand jury is in session continuously, an aide in the prosecutor's office said it could act on the case at any time.

Minstrel Set For Chester

Lions Club To Hold Show For Eye Fund

The Chester Lions Club will sponsor a minstrel Friday night at 8 at the Chester High School auditorium, featuring the traditional program of songs, acts and banter between end men.

Anthony J. Bernardi is director of the program. Proceeds will be used for the service club's sight saving fund.

Brush-Moore Will Ask New Trial In Suit

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Publishers of the Salisbury Times will ask for a new trial in the libel suit brought against them by Wicomico County Sheriff Jesse M. Pollitt, a spokesman for the newspaper said Wednesday.

Pollitt Tuesday won a $12,000 verdict from the Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc. of Canton, Ohio, publishers of the Times.

The verdict was returned by a Worchester County jury at Snow Hill after the three circuit judges presiding had directed a verdict in Pollitt's favor. The sheriff had sought $50,000.

The trial was moved to Worcester County at the request of attorneys for the Times after the Court of Appeals reversed a dismissal of the suit and ordered further proceedings.

The state court held that an auditor's report on the conduct of the sheriff's office and other county offices was not a privileged document. The audit is made annually for the county commissioners.

One error of fact had been made in the Times' account of the audit on Nov. 14, 1956. The Times quoted the report as stating one part of the sheriff's record was "incomplete" instead of "complete."

Witnesses for the Times testified that the error had been caught early in the press run and the incorrect papers were recalled as far as possible and replaced with corrected editions.

Attorneys for Pollitt said that "malicious seeds of defamation had been sown" by the story "as part of a well-conceived, well-formulated plan to wreck the sheriff." They said the auditors' recommendation "reflected a dereliction of duty on the part of the county commissioners" rather than on the sheriff.

Attorneys for the newspaper chain said "there is not one bit of evidence that the sheriff lost one friend or made one enemy" because of the story.

Chicken For Children, Turkey For County Home Residents

The 32 youngsters at the Hancock County Children's Home near Pughtown will have a Thanksgiving dinner of chicken instead of the usual turkey, Cyrus Spear of Weirton, secretary of the home's Board of Trustees, said.

Residents of one county home will dine on turkey and chicken will be served in the other.

Spear explained the majority of the children at the Route 2 home prefer chicken to the traditional turkey. The remainder of the menu for the feast this afternoon will include mashed potatoes and gravy, peas, a salad, pie, ice cream, cake and milk.

Mrs. Nina Higgins and Mrs. Lorain Henderson, supervisor, will prepare the meal. Visiting hours will not be observed today but are scheduled Dec. 7. Thanksgiving decorations for the diningroom were completed by the home's children.

Patients at the Hancock County Infirmary at Pughtown will eat a turkey dinner to be served at 1 p. m. The menu will include mashed potatoes, gravy, cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie. The 16 residents may be visited any time during the day, Shields Mayhew, supervisor, announced.

Some 114 residents of the Columbiana County Home, west of Lisbon, will have fried chicken, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, cole slaw and pumpkin pie for their Thanksgiving dinner, according to Russell V. Phillis, acting superintendent.

The menu for the county jail at Lisbon for approximately 30 prisoners will be turkey and dressing, mashed potatoes, cranberries and creamed peas, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Gleason, Hackett Eye Separate Paths

Marie Torre

Pride and discretion have prevented Jackie Gleason and Buddy Hackett from admitting TV incompatibility, but it's apparent that things haven't gone well with the new comedy team, and the other day Hackett unwittingly conceded that a "divorce" is in the offing.

The admission was contained in the news that the panda-eyed comedian, instead of being preoccupied with laugh-making on the Gleason show, is planning a weekly filmed television series for next season.

"What else have I got to do!" exclaimed Hackett, who had just learned he would be off the Gleason show for the third time in seven weeks. (The original deal calls for 24 Hackett appearances out of 28 shows.)

"THE ARRANGEMENT isn't going as well as we thought it would, but that's not Jackie's fault. Nor mine. That's the way the cookie crumbles, I guess.

"Anyway, I feel now that I have to go out on my own and take the full blame or credit for what I do. My old series, 'Stanley,' was Max Liebman's baby. The Gleason show is Gleason's show. I want the next one to be MY show."

The possibility of a third strikeout does not appear to concern him at this time.

"Luckily," he says, "there are no new comedians coming along in this business. We're all they've got, so what's to worry?"

THE OBJECT of his attention is based on the exploits of a tractor salesman named Alexander Botts, a character developed in a series of Saturday Evening Post stories by William Hazlett Upson. The title of the show is "The Good Earthworm," which will be written and jointly owned by Jack Finks.

"Jack got the idea that the character would be good for me one day when he went with me to buy a power tool," Hackett said. "You've got to be careful when you buy things like that, you know. The prices usually are more than they should be.

"Well, Jack sat by while he heard me convince the shop keeper to take $25 less for the tool, and he was in stitches. He said I was just like the guy in those Saturday Evening Post stories. That's how it all happened."

It cannot be said the project is being prepared without Gleason's knowledge. Nor can it be said that Hackett's enforced vacations have resulted in friction between the two.

"Every time I go to see Gleason," said Hackett, "he says, 'Hackie, my boy!' He gives me a few 'my boys!' and there we are."

CBS CHAIRMAN William S. Paley, honored by the Broadcast Pioneers at a luncheon, spoke interestingly about the early days at CBS Radio, where Bing Crosby played a prominent part.

Paley first heard Crosby's voice blaring from a record on a ocean liner bound for Europe. He immediately sent a radiogram to the network's artist bureau in New York, suggesting Crosby be signed by CBS.

"When I got home to New York some weeks later," Paley related, "I asked what had happened. The answer was: Nothing.

"Inquiry had developed the opinion from Los Angeles, where Crosby was singing at the Coconut Grove, that he was a rather flighty young fellow, unlikely to fit in well to the strict broadcasting schedules, so the matter had been dropped.

"I SAID I didn't care nearly so much about how this young man observed the calendar as I did about his voice, so please get going."

"This proved arduous. It seemed that our display of interest had been sniffed by the competition. This was conveyed to us as a hint that the Crosby services would not come cheap.

"At this time, $100 a week was a good guarantee for an unknown singer on a sustaining show, so I was properly stunned when the enterprising Crosby lawyer said that his client's fee would be $22,000 a week, take it or leave it.

"I did neither, but I did eventually agree to what seemed the fantastic sum of $1,500-a-week guarantee, wondering why I was doing it."

Mr. Paley ceased wondering several weeks later, of course, when the whole country started talking about "this great new vocalist, Bing Crosby."

GIVING AID to Sid Caesar on his next NBC show (Dec. 7) will be actor Paul Douglas. . . .

A memo from the producer was sent to members of the "Today" show, assuring them that, contrary to rumors, Dave Garroway is NOT quitting the early-bird program. . . .

June Lockhart's first appearance out of "Lassie" this season will be as narrator of "The Nutcracker" on "Playhouse 90" on Christmas Day. . . .

Ernie Kovacs' appearances last week on the Arthur Godfrey and Patti Page shows reminded us of the wonderfully nonsensical quality of his old morning series — and what a shame television has permitted him to move on to the movies! Nowadays, that's where all good TV people seem to go.

Electric Firm Asks 3.4 Million Rate Hike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. today asked the Utilities Commission to approve a 3.4 million dollar annual rate increase for its customers in Columbus and other parts of Franklin County.

The company said that because it has reduced residential rates three times since 1929 the new rates it proposes would be lower than the rates in effect in 1939.

League Given Play Quarters

Cumberland Council Airs Sewage Plans

NEW CUMBERLAND — Town Council met in special session Tuesday night and authorized use of the Community House for church league basketball teams following a request by a 15-member committee.

The delegation included representatives from nearly all of the community's churches. Council granted use of the building providing the league aids in repairs and general cleanup.

In other business, progress of plans for a new sewage disposal system and repairing of several streets were discussed. It was agreed that S. Chester St., would be repaired in preparation for the winter months.

Mayor Albert (Jakie) Fuccy expects to appoint two other persons to a sanitation board to operate and control the sewage system when established. It will include one citizen and a resident engineer, in addition to the mayor. The next meeting is Tuesday.

Member Drive Set By Farm Bureau

LISBON — A membership drive of the Columbiana County Farm Bureau will begin with a kickoff meeting Monday at Guilford Grange Hall.

Mrs. Arland Weaver of West Township is captain of the "deers" and Floyd Glazer of Lisbon for the "goats."

The drive will be held Tuesday through Saturday with a goal of 490 members.

Twenty-seven members representing 11 councils attended the Columbiana County Farm Bureau Advisory Council leadership training meeting Monday evening in Farm Bureau office.

Ben Glover, assistant director of youth and adult education, and Jean Wertz, assistant director of women's activities, both of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation, were leaders.

Third $40,000 Suit Filed In Traffic Crash

LISBON — Another suit for $40,000 for alleged personal injuries, stemming from auto - tractor trailer accident, was filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday by Dominic L. Papania of New Waterford. This is the third such suit for the same amount.

James W. Mason Jr. of Cairo, W. Va., was named defendant in this case. He was the driver of the tractor. Other defendants were Carol F. Mills of the Fullerton Transfer & Storage Co. of Youngstown and the Merchants Delivery, Inc., of Marietta, and Kathleen L. Brooker of Little Hocking and Gail Brooker of Belpre.

Papania asks a total of $112,000 as a result of the traffic accident Nov. 29, 1956, on Route 7 some 4.8 miles south of Rogers.

Temporary Chairman Named By Youth Group

J. Fred Allison was named temporary chairman, to succeed the Rev. Ray Brugler, when the Newell Youth Council met Tuesday night in the Presbyterian Church.

The group heard reports from chairmen on plans for constructing a recreation area at Memorial Field near Wells High School. Plans call for use of an area 50-x-50 feet to include facilities for basketball, volleyball and tennis. It will be flooded with water in the winter months for ice skating.

An Arroyo blacktopping firm plans to surface the area. Rev. Brugler tendered his resignation because of future plans. The next meeting will be in January.

Health Head At Session

LISBON — Dr. C. S. Palmer, Columbiana County health commissioner and past president of the city public health league of Ohio, attended its annual meeting Tuesday in Youngstown. He was accompanied by Tom Boyce, county sanitarian.

Another Angle Develops

Expert Testifies No Bullet In 'Torch' Victim's Body

CINCINNATI (AP) — Another angle in the slaying of Mrs. Martha Louise Bergen, 32, developed Wednesday when a pathologist testified in Municipal Court that he found no evidence of a bullet wound in her body.

Dr. Frank P. Cleveland made the statement at a hearing at which Mrs. Edythe Klumpp, 40, was ordered held to the grand jury on a charge of killing Mrs. Bergen, the estranged wife of Mrs. Klumpp's lover.

Police have said Mrs. Klumpp told them she shot Mrs. Bergen in a struggle for possession of a pistol, kept the body in the luggage compartment of her car overnight, drove 45 miles to Lake Cowan in nearly Clinton County the next day, and set it afire.

The blonde part - time sewing teacher, mother of four children, was held to the grand jury over vigorous objection of William F. Hopkins, her attorney.

"There is not a scintilla of that anything occurred in this county except Detective (Wilberg) Stagenhorst's testimony as to what the defendant said," he declared.

"The state has failed to show that anything occurred in Hamilton County, and nothing occurred in Clinton County except that a body was found.

"I know this girl must be tried, but I want to be absolutely sure she is tried in the proper county."

Detective Stagenhorst signed the murder charge against Mrs. Klumpp in Hamilton County. She had been living with William Bergen, widower of Mrs. Bergen, for some time prior to the slaying.

Dr. Cleveland told Judge Denning his first examination indicated that Mrs. Bergen had suffered a fractured skull by a "miltiple impact to the head."

The pathologist made another examination after Mrs. Klumpp said Mrs. Bergen had been shot. He explained that a series of X-rays were studied and that he did not find any additional injuries and did not find a bullet wound. There were traces of metal residue in the body, however, he said.

According to Detective Stagenhorst, police were first told by Mrs. Klumpp that she shot Mrs. Bergen at Lake Cowan. Later, he testified, she said the shooting occurred at Caldwell Park in the northern part of Hamilton County.

Mrs. Klumpp insisted throughout police questioning that the shooting was self-defense, Stagenhorst said.

Mrs. Klumpp did not speak aloud during the court hearing. She held whispered conversations with her attorney several times.

Minstrel Set For Chester

The Chester Lions Club will sponsor a minstrel Friday night at 8 at the Chester High School auditorium, featuring the traditional program of songs, acts and banter between end men.

Brush-Moore Will Ask New Trial In Suit

SALISBURY, Md. (AP) — Publishers of the Salisbury Times will ask for a new trial in the libel suit brought against them by Wicomico County Sheriff Jesse M. Pollitt, a spokesman for the newspaper said Wednesday.

Pollitt Tuesday won a $12,000 verdict from the Brush-Moore Newspapers, Inc. of Canton, Ohio, publishers of the Times.

The verdict was returned by a Worchester County jury at Snow Hill after the three circuit judges presiding had directed a verdict in Pollitt's favor. The sheriff had sought $50,000.

The trial was moved to Worcester County at the request of attorneys for the Times after the Court of Appeals reversed a dismissal of the suit and ordered further proceedings.

The state court held that an auditor's report on the conduct of the sheriff's office and other county offices was not a privileged document. The audit is made annually for the county commissioners.

One error of fact had been made in the Times' account of the audit on Nov. 14, 1956. The Times quoted the report as stating one part of the sheriff's record was "incomplete" instead of "complete."

Witnesses for the Times testified that the error had been caught early in the press run and the incorrect papers were recalled as far as possible and replaced with corrected editions.

Attorneys for Pollitt said that "malicious seeds of defamation had been sown" by the story "as part of a well-conceived, well-formulated plan to wreck the sheriff." They said the auditors' recommendation "reflected a dereliction of duty on the part of the county commissioners" rather than on the sheriff.

Attorneys for the newspaper chain said "there is not one bit of evidence that the sheriff lost one friend or made one enemy" because of the story.

Chicken For Children, Turkey For County Home Residents

The 32 youngsters at the Hancock County Children's Home near Pughtown will have a Thanksgiving dinner of chicken instead of the usual turkey, Cyrus Spear of Weirton, secretary of the home's Board of Trustees, said.

Residents of one county home will dine on turkey and chicken will be served in the other.

Spear explained the majority of the children at the Route 2 home prefer chicken to the traditional turkey. The remainder of the menu for the feast this afternoon will include mashed potatoes and gravy, peas, a salad, pie, ice cream, cake and milk.

Mrs. Nina Higgins and Mrs. Lorain Henderson, supervisor, will prepare the meal. Visiting hours will not be observed today but are scheduled Dec. 7. Thanksgiving decorations for the diningroom were completed by the home's children.

Patients at the Hancock County Infirmary at Pughtown will eat a turkey dinner to be served at 1 p. m. The menu will include mashed potatoes, gravy, cranberry sauce and pumpkin pie. The 16 residents may be visited any time during the day, Shields Mayhew, supervisor, announced.

Some 114 residents of the Columbiana County Home, west of Lisbon, will have fried chicken, mashed potatoes, cranberry sauce, cole slaw and pumpkin pie for their Thanksgiving dinner, according to Russell V. Phillis, acting superintendent.

The menu for the county jail at Lisbon for approximately 30 prisoners will be turkey and dressing, mashed potatoes, cranberries and creamed peas, according to Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan.

Stock Market Has Biggest Jump In Year

Wednesday Advance Recoups $3 Billion Of $11 Billion Lost

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made its greatest advance in a year Wednesday, bouncing back like a rubber ball from three jolting setbacks.

Like a rubber ball, however, it did not rebound to the height from which it was dropped. The advance recouped an estimated $3,700,000,000 of the approximate 11 billion dollars lost in quoted values in the prior three days, based on the movement of the Associated Press average.

Blue chip issues rose as much as three points and more. Some secondary stocks made bigger gains.

Brokers called the recovery technical and said it was greatly aided by a large assortment of rosy corporate reports such as higher dividends and stock splits. Many prices were knocked down from record highs, brokers said, and Wednesday looked like a good chance to buy at more moderate prices in anticipation of the hoped-for upward move over the long run.

The advance swept most sections of the list except for a scattering of well-known stocks which fell because of poor news or some technical market reason. All 15 most active issues rose.

The rise was the biggest one-day advance since Nov. 27, 1957 when the AP 60-stock average jumped $3.90 in relief that President Eisenhower was making good progress from his cerebral ailment.

The AP 60-stock average rose $2.90 to $201.90 with the industrials up $4, the rails up $3.60 and the utilities up 60 cents.

American Stock Exchange prices rose in active dealings. Volume was 1,770,000 shares compared with 1,440,000 Tuesday.

U.S. government bonds declined in light turnover with losses reaching 20-32. Corporates closed higher after a mixed performance.

Corporate trading was in preholiday doldrums, declining to $5,860,000 par value on the big board from $6,440,000 Tuesday.

Officers Installed For Tiger-Teens

The service was conducted by Jean Ann Monte, assisted by Millie Parker, Jackie Stone, Pat Montgomery, Kathy Judge, Melody Jackson and Connie Hall.

Mrs. Nova Runyon and Mrs. Ruthella Kerr, club leaders, were in charge. Bonnie Kiddey led the meditation and Patricia Davidson presented the emblems.

The program included piano solo, Jackie Stone; songs, "One Little Candle" and "Tom Doole," Jean Anne Monte, Kathy Judge, Marlene Maze, Barbara Edgell, Connie Hall and Miller Parker, accompanied by Mrs. Louise Lawton; club song "We," members; movie, "The Clean Look," and dance, Linda Rolley.

Flying Seed 'Blizzard' Whitens Air Like Snow

A veritable blizzard of flying white particles blew through the air in downtown East Liverpool shortly before 4 p. m. Wednesday and passersby had to look twice to discover it was an invasion of flying seeds, not snow.

The white particles proved to be tiny seeds wafted along in a cluster of filmy white like familiar milkweed seeds. Apparently the mass of fluff was picked up by a strong breeze from a tree or a plant late in shedding its fall seeds.

The phony blizzard was particularly heavy in the vicinity of the high school. The seeds flew through the air so thickly that several motorists halted their cars for a closer look at the sudden materialization of white.

4-H News

Officers of the Golden Needles 4-H Club were elected and installed at a meeting Tuesday night at the home of Mary Falconer of the Salineville Rd. They are:

Charla Grindle, president; Marilyn Bentz, vice president; Mary Falconer, secretary; Evelyn Boyd, treasurer; Glenda Shenton, reporter; Sara Wellington, recreation chairman, and Nancy Wellington, constitution committee chairman.

Charla Grindle presided for business and devotions on Ps. 107:1-2 were led by Nancy Wellington. The Lord's Prayer and the pledge of allegiance were given in unison. A favorite singer was roll call response. The club voted to pack a Thanksgiving basket for a family. Some 18 were present.

81 Ohio Motorists Have Died Racing Trains To Crossings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eighty-one motorists were killed in Ohio in unsuccessful attempts to beat trains to crossings during the first 10 months this year.

In addition to the 81 fatalities, 165 persons were injured when their autos collided with trains in the first nine months of 1958, he said.

"The wail of a train whistle down the track can serve either as a warning to cautious drivers or a mourning for foolish ones who kill themselves and others by trying to beat a locomotive," Jeffery said.

He pointed out that holiday travel during Thanksgiving and Christmas will tempt many more motorists to take chances at railway crossings. This coupled with the icy-snowy conditions of winter, may cause even greater hazards at highway and train intersections during the rest of the year, he said.

"As a reminder," he added, "we're distributing railroad safety posters to show drivers . . . that a moment saved can be a life lost when you race a crack express" along "roads that lead to death's depot."

In all types of traffic accidents throughout the state for the first nine months this year, 1,265 persons were killed and 54,685 injured. This compares with 1,456 killed and 56,162 injured for the same period in 1957, department records show.

Planks for cooking steak are usually made of a hard wood—oak, hickory or maple. They must be seasoned by oiling and placing in a slow oven for about an hour, before using, this direction is for a homemade plank that is new.

'Dimes' Drive Head Selected

Salem Man Leads Upper County Effort

Plans for the 1959 March of Dimes campaign Jan. 1-31 got under way Wednesday when William L. Wark of Salem was appointed to head the drive in northern Columbiana County.

Wark, operator of a dry cleaning firm, was named by E. Allan McKeever, chairman of the county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He will serve as co-chairman in conjunction with a southern County representative who will be selected soon, McKeever said.

Wark is county Civil Defense director and until recently served as Salem CD leader. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club. The two co-chairmen will select leaders for the drive in the communities of East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salineville, Lisbon, East Palestine and several others.

In the drive last year, approximately $30,000 was raised in Columbiana County. Money from the campaign in January will be used partly to care for persons left crippled by infantile paralysis that struck before the discovery of the Salk vaccine.

In addition, part of the funds will go to a national research program seeking to discover the causes of virus diseases, arthritis and birth defects.

Cerebral Palsy Film To Be Shown Cub Pack

Lawrence J. Zollinger, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the Columbiana County affiliate of the Cerebral Palsy Association, will screen a film on "What Is Cerebral Palsy" at the meeting of Cub Scout Pack 33 Friday night at 7:30 in the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

A Thanksgiving program has been arranged by Ray Oliver, cubmaster. The sound film will last 18 minutes.

Zollinger, institutional representative of the church which sponsors the pack, has requested that those interested in becoming den mothers to attend. If several den mothers aren't secured soon, activities of several groups will have to be discontinued, he said.

3 Men Injured As Hoist Falls 3 Floors In Store

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A construction hoist fell three stories at the city's largest department store Wednesday. Three men were injured.

The men were on the fourth floor, loading steel beams onto the hoist a floor below. The hoist plunged to the ground, taking the men with it, a company spokesman said.

At Mount Carmel Hospital, aides identified two of the men as John Cecil Rathburn, 49, Columbus, and Paul Smith, 33, of nearby Lockbourne, Rt. 1. Both were reported in fair condition, Rathburn with a possible fractured leg and possible head injuries, and Smith with a possible fractured leg and shoulder.

The accident happened at 3:15 p.m. in a new addition to the F. & R. Lazarus Co. in downtown Columbus. The addition is under construction and not yet opened to the public.

22 Attend Quota's Dinner Meeting

Twenty-two members attended the Quota Club's buffet-style dinner Tuesday night at the home of Miss Mildred McGregor of Broadview Circle.

Dr. Edith Gilmore, president, reminded the group that candy and fruitcake still are available with proceeds going for the Speech Clinic sponsored by the club.

"Pinkie Puppets" for the children's Ward of the City Hospital were made following the dinner.

Yellow mums, sprigs of ivy and turkey salt and peppers were used on the green cloth covering the table.

A Christmas dinner party will be held Dec. 17 at the home of Miss Phyllis Crook of W. 5th St. In lieu of a gift exchange, members will contribute toward the Kent State University Scholarship Fund, to be used in the speech therapy field.

Salineville

Mrs. Robert Rose and daughters Helen and Nellie, of Hammondsville were visitors here Monday.

Corporate trading was in preholiday doldrums, declining to $5,860,000 par value on the big board from $6,440,000 Tuesday.

Officers Installed For Tiger-Teens

The service was conducted by Jean Ann Monte, assisted by Millie Parker, Jackie Stone, Pat Montgomery, Kathy Judge, Melody Jackson and Connie Hall.

Mrs. Nova Runyon and Mrs. Ruthella Kerr, club leaders, were in charge. Bonnie Kiddey led the meditation and Patricia Davidson presented the emblems.

The program included piano solo, Jackie Stone; songs, "One Little Candle" and "Tom Doole," Jean Anne Monte, Kathy Judge, Marlene Maze, Barbara Edgell, Connie Hall and Miller Parker, accompanied by Mrs. Louise Lawton; club song "We," members; movie, "The Clean Look," and dance, Linda Rolley.

Flying Seed 'Blizzard' Whitens Air Like Snow

A veritable blizzard of flying white particles blew through the air in downtown East Liverpool shortly before 4 p. m. Wednesday and passersby had to look twice to discover it was an invasion of flying seeds, not snow.

The white particles proved to be tiny seeds wafted along in a cluster of filmy white like familiar milkweed seeds. Apparently the mass of fluff was picked up by a strong breeze from a tree or a plant late in shedding its fall seeds.

The phony blizzard was particularly heavy in the vicinity of the high school. The seeds flew through the air so thickly that several motorists halted their cars for a closer look at the sudden materialization of white.

4-H News

Officers of the Golden Needles 4-H Club were elected and installed at a meeting Tuesday night at the home of Mary Falconer of the Salineville Rd. They are:

Charla Grindle, president; Marilyn Bentz, vice president; Mary Falconer, secretary; Evelyn Boyd, treasurer; Glenda Shenton, reporter; Sara Wellington, recreation chairman, and Nancy Wellington, constitution committee chairman.

Charla Grindle presided for business and devotions on Ps. 107:1-2 were led by Nancy Wellington. The Lord's Prayer and the pledge of allegiance were given in unison. A favorite singer was roll call response. The club voted to pack a Thanksgiving basket for a family. Some 18 were present.

81 Ohio Motorists Have Died Racing Trains To Crossings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Eighty-one motorists were killed in Ohio in unsuccessful attempts to beat trains to crossings during the first 10 months this year.

In addition to the 81 fatalities, 165 persons were injured when their autos collided with trains in the first nine months of 1958, he said.

"The wail of a train whistle down the track can serve either as a warning to cautious drivers or a mourning for foolish ones who kill themselves and others by trying to beat a locomotive," Jeffery said.

He pointed out that holiday travel during Thanksgiving and Christmas will tempt many more motorists to take chances at railway crossings. This coupled with the icy-snowy conditions of winter, may cause even greater hazards at highway and train intersections during the rest of the year, he said.

"As a reminder," he added, "we're distributing railroad safety posters to show drivers . . . that a moment saved can be a life lost when you race a crack express" along "roads that lead to death's depot."

In all types of traffic accidents throughout the state for the first nine months this year, 1,265 persons were killed and 54,685 injured. This compares with 1,456 killed and 56,162 injured for the same period in 1957, department records show.

Planks for cooking steak are usually made of a hard wood—oak, hickory or maple. They must be seasoned by oiling and placing in a slow oven for about an hour, before using, this direction is for a homemade plank that is new.

'Dimes' Drive Head Selected

Salem Man Leads Upper County Effort

Plans for the 1959 March of Dimes campaign Jan. 1-31 got under way Wednesday when William L. Wark of Salem was appointed to head the drive in northern Columbiana County.

Wark, operator of a dry cleaning firm, was named by E. Allan McKeever, chairman of the county chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. He will serve as co - chairman in conjunction with a southern County representative who will be selected soon, McKeever said.

Wark is county Civil Defense director and until recently served as Salem CD leader. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club. The two co - chairmen will select leaders for the drive in the communities of East Liverpool, Wellsville, Salineville, Lisbon, East Palestine and several others.

In the drive last year, approximately $30,000 was raised in Columbiana County. Money from the campaign in January will be used partly to care for persons left crippled by infantile paralysis that struck before the discovery of the Salk vaccine.

In addition, part of the funds will go to a national research program seeking to discover the causes of virus diseases, arthritis and birth defects.

Cerebral Palsy Film To Be Shown Cub Pack

Lawrence J. Zollinger, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the Columbiana County affiliate of the Cerebral Palsy Association, will screen a film on "What Is Cerebral Palsy" at the meeting of Cub Scout Pack 33 Friday night at 7:30 in the Parish Hall of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church.

A Thanksgiving program has been arranged by Ray Oliver, cubmaster. The sound film will last 18 minutes.

Zollinger, institutional representative of the church which sponsors the pack, has requested that those interested in becoming den mothers to attend. If several den mothers aren't secured soon, activities of several groups will have to be discontinued, he said.

3 Men Injured As Hoist Falls 3 Floors In Store

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A construction hoist fell three stories at the city's largest department store Wednesday. Three men were injured.

The men were on the fourth floor, loading steel beams onto the hoist a floor below. The hoist plunged to the ground, taking the men with it, a company spokesman said.

At Mount Carmel Hospital, aides identified two of the men as John Cecil Rathburn, 49, Columbus, and Paul Smith, 33, of nearby Lockbourne, Rt. 1. Both were reported in fair condition, Rathburn with a possible fractured leg and possible head injuries, and Smith with a possible fractured leg and shoulder.

The accident happened at 3:15 p.m. in a new addition to the F. & R. Lazarus Co. in downtown Columbus. The addition is under construction and not yet opened to the public.

22 Attend Quota's Dinner Meeting

Twenty - two members attended the Quota Club's buffet - style dinner Tuesday night at the home of Miss Mildred McGregor of Broadview Circle.

Dr. Edith Gilmore, president, reminded the group that candy and fruitcake still are available with proceeds going for the Speech Clinic sponsored by the club.

"Pinkie Puppets" for the children's Ward of the City Hospital were made following the dinner.

Yellow mums, sprigs of ivy and turkey salt and peppers were used on the green cloth covering the table.

A Christmas dinner party will be held Dec. 17 at the home of Miss Phyllis Crook of W. 5th St. In lieu of a gift exchange, members will contribute toward the Kent State University Scholarship Fund, to be used in the speech therapy field.

New Scouting Unit Planned

VFW Will Sponsor Troop Of Explorers

A committee and advisers will be selected to set up the new unit.

This group will meet with Frank Rossi, representative of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council, prior to the issuance of a charter. He spoke at the meeting at the VFW Home.

Nick Turkaly, department youth activities chairman, said the scouts will meet at the post home, and use the facilities of the post's camp near Crockery City Farms.

At a meeting Sunday at the Post home at 2 p. m., Rossi will screen films on a new Explorer Scout program which has been adopted at the University of Michigan.

Commanders from eight district posts, including East Liverpool, East Palestine, Wellsville's two, Lisbon, Columbiana, and Salem will be present.

Fairview Grange Holds Thanksgiving Meeting

Mrs. John Rice, home economics chairman, was in charge of a program on the theme of Thanksgiving at a meeting of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night at the Pughtown Grange Hall.

Mrs. J. Hillary Johnston, chaplain, conducted devotions, read the Scripture and offered prayer.

Mrs. Jay Minor read the first Thanksgiving proclamation by Gen. Bradford and the recent by President Eisenhower.

Mrs. Wood Moore and John Mayhew sang a duet. Group singing was enjoyed.

The dues paying dinner was set for Dec. 6. C. S. Herron, master, conducted business.

Food Registration Set For Midland Residents

Benedict Zupi, surplus food administrator in Beaver County, has announced dates for registration and distribution in the Midland area.

Registration will be held Monday through Dec. 15 at 841 Corporation St., Beaver, and will entitle new eligible recipients to receive food in January. Registration will then be closed until January.

Distribution of food will be held Friday, Dec. 5, from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. at the Steelworkers Union Hall on Midland Ave., Midland. It will be confined to those registered in Midland Borough, Industry, Smiths Ferry and Ohio Township.

Each applicant must have his identification with him to obtain food. An excuse must be presented if food is picked up for someone else.

Kaycee Squires Aims Outlined At Wellsville

Requirements, purposes and aims of the Squires' organization were explained by Charles McBride, district counselor, at the open meeting of the Columbian Circle 1011 of Wellsville Monday night in the K. of C. Hall.

The speaker also outlined the duties of officers.

Tad Diloretto of East Liverpool screened a movie on boxing, taken when he was in training in Wellsville. He also showed equipment used in the sport and gave a demonstration. Lunch was served by the social committee.

Following the meeting, attended by seven prospective members, officers completed plans for a record hop tonight from 8-11 in the Immaculate Conception School Hall.

Excursion Boat Slates Stop Here Next May

The snow is scheduled to fly today but that didn't deter the management of the excursion steamer Avalon from announcing the last big river boat of its kind will be at East Liverpool next May.

The operating company at Cincinnati said the 1,300 passenger, four-deck craft will dock here May 21 after stops at Marietta and Wheeling en route to Pittsburgh.

Almost Too Perfect

A Thanksgiving Fable

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—A Thanksgiving fable:

When Marybelle suggested, "I'd like to have my brothers and their families over for Thanksgiving," Jim, her husband, didn't argue at all. He said right away, "Why, honey, what a splendid idea."

And when her folks arrived, Roscoe, the older stingy brother, brought a big bouquet. Russell, the younger brother who had learned from Roscoe how to be a tightwad and then gone on to improve the art himself, showed up with two bottles of fine wine.

And while the dinner was cooking, Roscoe and Russell asked Jim his political views instead of giving theirs.

And Marybelle's nine nephews and nieces all played contentedly together in the den, and none cried, and none broke anything.

And when everybody sat down at the table and the wives of Roscoe and Russell saw the new silverware Jim had bought Marybelle as an anniversary present, they admired the pattern and weren't the least bit jealous.

And when Marybelle brought in the turkey it was done to a perfect golden brown—not a burned spot anywhere.

And Jim didn't grumble or feel the least bit nervous about carving. The knife was sharp as a razor. The turkey didn't crumble like a tired cookie, but peeled off in one magnificent slice after another.

And everybody got just the kind of meat he wanted. The stuffing was a mottled delight, the gravy a brown ecstasy, the cranberry sauce a crimson thrill, and the pumpkin pie a tawny delight.

And, oh, the wine shed a rosy glow over all, and it was wonderful, wonderful all the way.

And Roscoe and Russell, protesting it had been a perfect day, waddled home.

Marybelle brought him his slippers, lit his cigar for him and murmured happily, "It sure was a lucky day for me when I first saw you."

And Jim murmured, "I must be dreaming all this. Maybe we'd better pinch each other."

And they did pinch each other—and sure enough, they were dreaming.

It was 6 a.m., on Thanksgiving morning, and the day hadn't even begun.

Aeronca Corp. Bares Merger With Longren

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Officials of Aeronca Manufacturing Corp. here say a merger has been set up with Longren Aircraft Co., Inc., Torrance, Calif.

Under the plan, Longren would become a Aeronca subsidiary, with no change in management of either unit. An Aeronca spokesman said Tuesday part of the deal involves a swap of each firm's stocks, based on a formula. Both firms make assemblies for military planes.

Rocket Will Burn

60 At Poultry School

LISBON — Sixty attended the third weekly poultry school Tuesday night at the Salem Memorial building.

Feeding and flock management were discussed by a panel composed of Ralph Schneider, Wayne Laughlin and Fayson Miller, Columbiana County producers; Noble Blosser, Mahoning County producer; E. A. Keller, Pennsylvania producer, and Herb McClure, a feed concern representative. Floyd Lower, county extension agent, was moderator.

Undergoes Surgery

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Col. Fred Moritz, superintendent of the Ohio Highway Patrol, underwent major surgery Wednesday at White Cross Hospital here. His condition is reported as fairly good.

CD Group Advised Of Alert Session

Herman Heiney, Glenmoor Civil Defense fire chief, advised members of the 31st Mobile Support group at a meeting Tuesday evening of an alert session to be held in Alliance Monday at 7:30 p. m.

He said it will be for staff leaders and platoon and assistant platoon leaders. It was called to plan for alerts Dec. 5-6.

He said a water relay demonstration using Civil Defense equipment will be held at Roswell Dec. 14. Equipment from Lisbon, Carrolton, Winona, Glenmoor and Roswell will be used. Members will leave Glenmoor at 11 a. m.

A special meeting of the support group will be held Dec. 4 at the Liverpool Township, fire station at LaCroft at 7:30 p. m. Next meeting will be Dec. 9 at 8 p. m. at the Glenmoor fire station.

A new refreshments committee was appointed, includes William Lockhart, Larry Keuper and Anne Emmerling. Kenneth Long, platoon leader, was in charge of business.

A committee and advisers will be selected to set up the new unit.

This group will meet with Frank Rossi, representative of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council, prior to the issuance of a charter. He spoke at the meeting at the VFW Home.

Nick Turkaly, department youth activities chairman, said the scouts will meet at the post home, and use the facilities of the post's camp near Crockery City Farms.

At a meeting Sunday at the Post home at 2 p. m., Rossi will screen films on a new Explorer Scout program which has been adopted at the University of Michigan.

Commanders from eight district posts, including East Liverpool, East Palestine, Wellsville's two, Lisbon, Columbiana, and Salem will be present.

Fairview Grange Holds Thanksgiving Meeting

Mrs. John Rice, home economics chairman, was in charge of a program on the theme of Thanksgiving at a meeting of the Fairview Grange Tuesday night at the Pughtown Grange Hall.

Mrs. J. Hillary Johnston, chaplain, conducted devotions, read the Scripture and offered prayer.

Mrs. Jay Minor read the first Thanksgiving proclamation by Gen. Bradford and the recent by President Eisenhower.

Mrs. Wood Moore and John Mayhew sang a duet. Group singing was enjoyed.

Food Registration Set For Midland Residents

Benedict Zupi, surplus food administrator in Beaver County, has announced dates for registration and distribution in the Midland area.

Registration will be held Monday through Dec. 15 at 841 Corporation St., Beaver, and will entitle new eligible recipients to receive food in January. Registration will then be closed until January.

Distribution of food will be held Friday, Dec. 5, from 9 a. m. to 2 p. m. at the Steelworkers Union Hall on Midland Ave., Midland. It will be confined to those registered in Midland Borough, Industry, Smiths Ferry and Ohio Township.

Each applicant must have his identification with him to obtain food. An excuse must be presented if food is picked up for someone else.

Kaycee Squires Aims Outlined At Wellsville

Requirements, purposes and aims of the Squires' organization were explained by Charles McBride, district counselor, at the open meeting of the Columbian Circle 1011 of Wellsville Monday night in the K. of C. Hall.

The speaker also outlined the duties of officers.

Tad Diloretto of East Liverpool screened a movie on boxing, taken when he was in training in Wellsville. He also showed equipment used in the sport and gave a demonstration. Lunch was served by the social committee.

Following the meeting, attended by seven prospective members, officers completed plans for a record hop tonight from 8-11 in the Immaculate Conception School Hall.

Excursion Boat Slates Stop Here Next May

The snow is scheduled to fly today but that didn't deter the management of the excursion steamer Avalon from announcing the last big river boat of its kind will be at East Liverpool next May.

The operating company at Cincinnati said the 1,300 passenger, four-deck craft will dock here May 21 after stops at Marietta and Wheeling en route to Pittsburgh.

Almost Too Perfect

A Thanksgiving Fable

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—A Thanksgiving fable:

When Marybelle suggested, "I'd like to have my brothers and their families over for Thanksgiving," Jim, her husband, didn't argue at all. He said right away, "Why, honey, what a splendid idea."

And when her folks arrived, Roscoe, the older stingy brother, brought a big bouquet. Russell, the younger brother who had learned from Roscoe how to be a tightwad and then gone on to improve the art himself, showed up with two bottles of fine wine.

And while the dinner was cooking, Roscoe and Russell asked Jim his political views instead of giving theirs.

And Marybelle's nine nephews and nieces all played contentedly together in the den, and none cried, and none broke anything.

And when everybody sat down at the table and the wives of Roscoe and Russell saw the new silverware Jim had bought Marybelle as an anniversary present, they admired the pattern and weren't the least bit jealous.

And when Marybelle brought in the turkey it was done to a perfect golden brown—not a burned spot anywhere.

And Jim didn't grumble or feel the least bit nervous about carving. The knife was sharp as a razor. The turkey didn't crumble like a tired cookie, but peeled off in one magnificent slice after another.

And everybody got just the kind of meat he wanted. The stuffing was a mottled delight, the gravy a brown ecstasy, the cranberry sauce a crimson thrill, and the pumpkin pie a tawny delight.

And, oh, the wine shed a rosy glow over all, and it was wonderful, wonderful all the way.

And Roscoe and Russell, protesting it had been a perfect day, waddled home.

Marybelle brought him his slippers, lit his cigar for him and murmured happily, "It sure was a lucky day for me when I first saw you."

And Jim murmured, "I must be dreaming all this. Maybe we'd better pinch each other."

And they did pinch each other—and sure enough, they were dreaming.

It was 6 a.m., on Thanksgiving morning, and the day hadn't even begun.

Aeronca Corp. Bares Merger With Longren

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Officials of Aeronca Manufacturing Corp. here say a merger has been set up with Longren Aircraft Co., Inc., Torrance, Calif.

Under the plan, Longren would become a Aeronca subsidiary, with no change in management of either unit. An Aeronca spokesman said Tuesday part of the deal involves a swap of each firm's stocks, based on a formula. Both firms make assemblies for military planes.

Rocket Will Burn

60 At Poultry School

Feeding and flock management were discussed by a panel composed of Ralph Schneider, Wayne Laughlin and Fayson Miller, Columbiana County producers; Noble Blosser, Mahoning County producer; E. A. Keller, Pennsylvania producer, and Herb McClure, a feed concern representative. Floyd Lower, county extension agent, was moderator.

CD Group Advised Of Alert Session

Herman Heiney, Glenmoor Civil Defense fire chief, advised members of the 31st Mobile Support group at a meeting Tuesday evening of an alert session to be held in Alliance Monday at 7:30 p. m.

He said it will be for staff leaders and platoon and assistant platoon leaders. It was called to plan for alerts Dec. 5-6.

He said a water relay demonstration using Civil Defense equipment will be held at Roswell Dec. 14. Equipment from Lisbon, Carrolton, Winona, Glenmoor and Roswell will be used. Members will leave Glenmoor at 11 a. m.

A special meeting of the support group will be held Dec. 4 at the Liverpool Township, fire station at LaCroft at 7:30 p. m. Next meeting will be Dec. 9 at 8 p. m. at the Glenmoor fire station.

A new refreshments committee was appointed, includes William Lockhart, Larry Keuper and Anne Emmerling. Kenneth Long, platoon leader, was in charge of business.

Thorough Preparation Eases Yule Shopping

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Know how to survive the Christmas rush?

Take it in stride.

You'll be tempted to do all your shopping in one day or leave it until the last minute, but don't succumb. Here are some ideas to mull over for a more relaxed shopping spree:

1. Shop early. Avoid the crowds by leaving home early and returning home early

2. Organize your shopping thoughts before leaving home, preferably the night before. Your gift list should include two possible gifts for each name. If you don't find one settle for the other, rather than walking 'til your feet hurt. You'll save money too, by having alternate gifts because your first impulse may be too expensive. Put the list in your handbag the night before so you will not forget it.

3. Send as many gift - wrapped packages from the stores as you can, particularly to those relatives away from home. It'll be easier for you if the store wraps and mails.

4. It's a good idea to prepare your feet for the shopping trek. Rub them with camphor ice in the morning. Mild ingredients, camphor and petroleum jelly combine to ward off aching feet. Rub your feet again when you arrive home.

5. You should have studied the ads before you set off on your shopping trip. Know the stores that carry the gifts you have in mind. This will save aimless wandering, and get you the best values.

6. Plan a simple evening meal for shopping day. Prepare part of the dinner beforehand, and set the table the night before. (A big beef stew may be made the night before, heated up to taste even better after a day of shopping.)

7. Dress for comfort. Stores are warm so wear lightweight clothes. Wear low-heeled shoes.

8. Eat a good breakfast in the morning so that you can eat a late lunch or tea and toast at home. Besides the expense, restaurants are crowded, and waiting in line will not improve your disposition.

9. Stop to sit down when you get a chance. This will ward off fatigue and lift your spirits, restoring energy.

10. "She who shops alone, shops fastest" might well be your clue to a happy shopping day. It's fun to shop with the girls the rest of the year, but when it comes to Christmas, you're better off alone. That goes for the youngsters too: it'll be cheaper in the long run to hire a baby sitter than pay for all the bribes you'll need to keep them quiet on this adventure.

11. Keep your sense of humor with sales people. They don't create the crowds, set the prices or manufacture the merchandise. They're tired too, so don't pick on them.

12. Stick to your budget. You don't want to pay for your Christmas fun for 364 other days. And if you charge your Christmas purchases, remember: bills catch up with you sooner or later. Don't buy more because you can charge it.

13. Relax at home after shopping. A good bath will help. Put some bath salts into the water and soak until your heart's content.

14. Get in bed with your check list. What didn't you manager to get? Make another list for your next shopping trip.

Open Letter To Children On Thanksgiving Day

By Garry Meyers

Dear Children: When another person says "Thank you" after you have given that person something or done something kind to him, you like to hear these words. They make you feel good. They make you like this person, too. However, it is not just the words but the way they are said that mean so much to you. You may smile, then, with pleasure, and the other person may smile, too, but neither of you smiles as if it were funny. You smile because you feel pleased. When you say "Thank you" to another person, or hear him say these words to you, you don't feel small and young, you feel big and grown-up.

YOU AND I know that everything we have was given to us by our Heavenly Father—the food we eat, the air we breathe, the clothes we wear, the houses we live in and all the other things we use and enjoy in this big world. Even the all these things, and the hearts we talents we have to use and enjoy, have to be greatful for them, are gifts from God.

Should we not then say "Thank you" to God for all his blessings? And as we are using and enjoying these gifts all the time, we can see good reasons for thanking God often.

It must make God glad to hear us thank Him and it must cause us to feel closer to God. He surely hears us whether we say "Thank you" loudly or softly, or whether we just feel it in silence.

More than a hundred years before the United States of America became a nation, the Pilgrims of Plymouth, Massachusetts, began a custom we follow today. They set aside a day in the Fall when the people went to church to thank God for all the blessings of the year.

Each year now, the President of the United States names a day to be known throughout our land as Thanksgiving Day. He urges all people of the nation to go to church on this day and give thanks to Almighty God for all the blessings of the past year.

OF COURSE, nobody is ordered by the President to go to church. In the United States of America, we are all free to worship God as we like. But if you and I lived in some countries, there would be no Thanksgiving Day and we could not worship God as we please.

Every time there is a new Thanksgiving Day, we are going to thank God that we and our friends can differ in our religious beliefs and still keep on liking and loving one another.

Let us pray that we shall never have a bit of hate in our hearts for anybody and that not a word of ridicule or unkindness shall leave our lips. Instead, let us pray that we might better understand and appreciate other religions.

Contract Signed To Plan Highway

The Pennsylvania State Highway Department and Michael Baker, Jr., Inc., Rochester engineering firm, have signed a contract for the preliminary design of the proposed Beaver Valley expressway.

The highway will run from Greater Pittsburgh Airport to Route 18 near the Beaver Valley interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The contract calls for expenditures of $271,890 and engineering fees with an estimated 27 miles of road involved.

This is the first section of a $51-million highway which will run from the airport to Sharon and will include a high free bridge over the Ohio River near the St. Joseph Lead Co.

The expressway will have limited access and include four lanes to turnpike specifications.

FCC Refuses Request To Buy Radio Station

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission has refused to let the Mansfield (Ohio) News Journal purchase radio station WCLW at Mansfield pending outcome of a hearing.

The newspaper planned to purchase the station for $45,000 from Frederick Eckhardt of Springfield, Ohio. Richland Inc., licensee of another Mansfield radio station, WMAN, protested the sale.

The commission said it wanted to inquire further into whether the Mansfield News Journal's policies and business practices are consistent with commission policy on competition.

Dieters Get Chance To Eat Today

Ida Jean Kain

Happy Thanksgiving, dieters—you have an unexpected surprise in store. You can enjoy this holiday dinner perhaps more than any meal you have eaten in your adult life.

Happily, you are now in the position of a gourmet. It's no end heartening to find that since you have curbed your appetite, you do not crave to overeat.

Your taste buds have sharpened, but with this difference—you now eat for taste rather than for quantity. What has brought about this change? Discipline of your appetite. Now you no longer think of good eating as synonymous with overeating.

LET NO TWINGES of dietitis mar the holiday meal. Dietitis is a common malady brought on by the attitude, "I shouldn't eat this but I'm going to anyway."

Such an attitude subtracts from the enjoyment of the meal even while your eating it. It spoils the fun but doesn't curb calories or control weight.

The philosophy of "I'll eat all I want today and diet tomorrow" bodes no good either. This implies doing penance and paying dearly for the enjoyment of eating a good meal.

What we need in our land of plenty is a new attitude toward food. The slimming secret is this—enjoy your meals without guilty feelings, simply do not overeat.

Help yourself to turkey and the trimmings…take seconds on your favorite part of the bird. Turkey isn't fattening. And what about the traditional dessert, pumpkin or mince pie? Certainly.

NOW YOU will find that a slimming serving will suffice. A one inch sector at the circumference, eaten slowly and savored for its delicious flavor, will be vividly gratifying.

This might well be the perfect time to resolve to have done with dietitis for good and all. Eat for enjoyment—but cut the portions to fit our modern requirements so that you do not overeat.

City Hospital Employes Get Raise, Hours Cut

A new contract granting a wage increase and reducing the work week to 40 hours has been signed by the service employes of City Hospital and Hospital Association officers.

The 125 service employes, members of Local 257 of the Building Service Employes Union, received a 5-cent hourly increase under the new agreement. The work week was cut from 48 to 40 hours.

The minimum hourly rate under the new contract is $1.05 while the maximum is $1.46. Cooks get top pay. The contract also grants six days sick leave each year.

Hancock 40 & 8 Wins Membership Trophy

The Hancock County 40 & 8 Society has won the Dr. R. D. Watkins trophy as the first West Virginia unit to surpass the membership quota for the year, Charles W. Morris of Chester, grand chef de train of the state organization, announced.

The trophy has been donated annually for five years by Dr. Watkins, Chester dentist. Dr. Watkins is a charter member and past chef de gare of the Hancock unit. This year marks the first time the county organization has won the citation.

Burcham And Finlay Will Attend Conference

Donal Burcham and Larry Finlay will attend the conference of Gov-elect Michael DiSalle at Toledo next Tuesday, it was announced at a meeting of the East Liverpool Democratic Club Tuesday night at the Orioles Hall.

Others also may attend, according to Finlay, president. A report was heard from a special committee on "the courthouse situation." All newly - elected party officeholders have been invited to the next meeting Monday night at 8.

12 Badges Given To Scouts During Newell Program

Advancement badges were awarded 12 at a court of honor of Newell Boy Scout Troop 29 Monday night in the Aaron Building.

2 Suits Ask $300,922 For Boy's Injuries

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two damage suits asking $300,922 for head injuries suffered by a small boy were filed in Common Pleas Court Tuesday against Ohio Furniture Co., Barberton, and Mrs. Rose Arenson, owner of the building in which the store is located.

The boy is William Carrico, 7, of Piketown. His father, Alvin, contends that because of the head injuries the boy will never have a normal life. He was hurt in a fall at the store Dec. 26, 1956. Charging negligence in failure to install a guard rail, the father asks $250,000 for the boy and $50,922 for his own expenses in caring for his son.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Police Judge Edward G. Burleson wants Michigan voters to approve a constitutional amendment making the maximum fine for a misdemeanor $500. Judge Burleson told the City Commission the old maximum of $100, set in 1908, has not kept up with the rising cost of living.

Man Poses As Buyer, Steals Clerk's Wallet

A man posing as a customer was blamed for the theft of a clerk's wallet containing $1 and keys to the store Tuesday afternoon at Royal Sales Co., 522 Mulberry St., a sewing machine and vacuum sweeper outlet.

Mrs. Bonnie Brooks, 419 Sugar St., said she discovered her wallet had been taken from her pocketbook on a shelf in the back room. She said the only customer who had access to the pocketbook was a Negro about 26 and weighing 170 who walked through the store on the pretext of looking at a sewing machine and examining spare parts. The theft was discovered about 1:45.

Open Letter To Children On Thanksgiving Day

By Garry Meyers

Dear Children: When another person says "Thank you" after you have given that person something or done something kind to him, you like to hear these words. They make you feel good. They make you like this person, too. However, it is not just the words but the way they are said that mean so much to you. You may smile, then, with pleasure, and the other person may smile, too, but neither of you smiles as if it were funny. You smile because you feel pleased. When you say "Thank you" to another person, or hear him say these words to you, you don't feel small and young, you feel big and grown-up.

YOU AND I know that everything we have was given to us by our Heavenly Father—the food we eat, the air we breathe, the clothes we wear, the houses we live in and all the other things we use and enjoy in this big world. Even the all these things, and the hearts we talents we have to use and enjoy, have to be greatful for them, are gifts from God.

Should we not then say "Thank you" to God for all his blessings? And as we are using and enjoying these gifts all the time, we can see good reasons for thanking God often.

It must make God glad to hear us thank Him and it must cause us to feel closer to God. He surely hears us whether we say "Thank you" loudly or softly, or whether we just feel it in silence.

More than a hundred years before the United States of America became a nation, the Pilgrims of Plymouth, Massachusetts, began a custom we follow today. They set aside a day in the Fall when the people went to church to thank God for all the blessings of the year.

Each year now, the President of the United States names a day to be known throughout our land as Thanksgiving Day. He urges all people of the nation to go to church on this day and give thanks to Almighty God for all the blessings of the past year.

OF COURSE, nobody is ordered by the President to go to church. In the United States of America, we are all free to worship God as we like. But if you and I lived in some countries, there would be no Thanksgiving Day and we could not worship God as we please.

Every time there is a new Thanksgiving Day, we are going to thank God that we and our friends can differ in our religious beliefs and still keep on liking and loving one another.

Let us pray that we shall never have a bit of hate in our hearts for anybody and that not a word of ridicule or unkindness shall leave our lips. Instead, let us pray that we might better understand and appreciate other religions.

Contract Signed To Plan Highway

The Pennsylvania State Highway Department and Michael Baker, Jr., Inc., Rochester engineering firm, have signed a contract for the preliminary design of the proposed Beaver Valley expressway.

The highway will run from Greater Pittsburgh Airport to Route 18 near the Beaver Valley interchange of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

The contract calls for expenditures of $271,890 and engineering fees with an estimated 27 miles of road involved.

This is the first section of a $51-million highway which will run from the airport to Sharon and will include a high free bridge over the Ohio River near the St. Joseph Lead Co.

The expressway will have limited access and include four lanes to turnpike specifications.

FCC Refuses Request To Buy Radio Station

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission has refused to let the Mansfield (Ohio) News Journal purchase radio station WCLW at Mansfield pending outcome of a hearing.

The newspaper planned to purchase the station for $45,000 from Frederick Eckhardt of Springfield, Ohio. Richland Inc., licensee of another Mansfield radio station, WMAN, protested the sale.

The commission said it wanted to inquire further into whether the Mansfield News Journal's policies and business practices are consistent with commission policy on competition.

West Point

Clark Ridgley's Sunday School Class of the West Point Church of the Nazarene held a party at his home on Pleasant Hill School Rd. Tuesday night. Twenty-two were present.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ridgley. The class will hold a Christmas party and gift exchange Dec. 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Clark off Route 45.

Dieters Get Chance To Eat Today

ıda Jean Kain

Happy Thanksgiving, dieters—you have an unexpected surprise in store. You can enjoy this holiday dinner perhaps more than any meal you have eaten in your adult life.

Happily, you are now in the position of a gourmet. It's no end heartening to find that since you have curbed your appetite, you do not crave to overeat.

Your taste buds have sharpened, but with this difference—you now eat for taste rather than for quantity. What has brought about this change? Discipline of your appetite. Now you no longer think of good eating as synonymous with overeating.

LET NO TWINGES of dietitis mar the holiday meal. Dietitis is a common malady brought on by the attitude, "I shouldn't eat this but I'm going to anyway."

Such an attitude subtracts from the enjoyment of the meal even while your eating it. It spoils the fun but doesn't curb calories or control weight.

The philosophy of "I'll eat all I want today and diet tomorrow" bodes no good either. This implies doing penance and paying dearly for the enjoyment of eating a good meal.

What we need in our land of plenty is a new attitude toward food. The slimming secret is this—enjoy your meals without guilty feelings, simply do not overeat.

Help yourself to turkey and the trimmings...take seconds on your favorite part of the bird. Turkey isn't fattening. And what about the traditional dessert, pumpkin or mince pie? Certainly.

NOW YOU will find that a slimming serving will suffice. A one inch sector at the circumference, eaten slowly and savored for its delicious flavor, will be vividly gratifying.

This might well be the perfect time to resolve to have done with dietitis for good and all. Eat for enjoyment—but cut the portions to fit our modern requirements so that you do not overeat.

By The Associated Press

Renascent Eastern football, original source of the idea that an afternoon in an icy stadium is the proper preliminary to a big Thanksgiving dinner, regains a share of its former glory Thursday.

With the major conference titles and the automatic bowl selections virtually wrapped up for the season, the ancient Penn-Cornell, Pitt-Penn State and Brown-Colgate tussles assume at least equal importance to the nationally televised Texas-Texas A&M encounter.

The lure of these games is largely traditional. The same thought applies to such games as Virginia Tech-V.M.I., Richmond-William and Mary, Utah-Utah State and Denver-Colorado State University — and they all fall somewhat under the shadow of the even bigger traditional classics, such as Army-Navy, coming up Saturday.

Here's what they have to offer:

Pennsylvania, whose recovery from the football doldrums began with a 14-6 upset of Cornell a year ago, can complete its most successful season in several years with a victory. Cornell, by winning, could take some sting out of the midseason collapse that cost it a chance for the Ivy League title. They're tied for third in the Ivy now and the winner will tie Princeton for second.

Colgate doesn't figure to offer too strong opposition to Brown and the big thing here is the chance for quarterback Frank Finney to take whatever Brown passing and offense records he doesn't already hold.

Pitt and Penn State, both three-time losers, still rate among the East's better teams although their bowl hopes have been dashed. Each has lost to Nebraska and Syracuse by close margins and scores against other common opponents indicate a real close tussle.

The Texas-Texas Aggie game always is a no-holds-barred affair and television viewers (NBC, 3 p.m. EST) can expect an interesting afternoon though there's nothing much at stake. They have identical 2-3 Southwest Conference records though Texas has the better over-all standing.

Second place in the Southern Conference is at stake in the meeting between Virginia Tech (2-1) and VMI (2-1-1) and South Carolina can solidify its hold on second in the Atlantic Coast Conference by beating Wake Forest. In the Missouri Valley Conference, Wichita (1-1-1)) could tie North Texas State for first place by beating Tulsa or drop almost to the bottom by losing.

The big one Saturday, of course, is the meeting between once tied but unbeaten Army and twice-beaten Navy in Philadelphia. Another service academy that hasn't lost yet, Air Force, risks this record against Colorado University.

Other major Saturday games include Southern California-Notre Dame, Southern Methodist-Texas Christian, Baylor-Rice, Houston-Texas Tech, Oklahoma State-Oklahoma, Alabama-Auburn, Georgia-Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt-Tennessee, Florida-Miami and Mississippi-Mississippi State.

Clemson Due Bid To Sugar Bowl If It Beats Furman

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Journal said Wednesday that Clemson will play in the Sugar Bowl next Jan. 1 if it defeats Furman this weekend.

A story by Gregory Favre said it was learned that Clemson had received and accepted an invitation to meet LSU in the New Orleans football classic.

The story added the agreement contains a stipulation that if Clemson should lose to Furman, the pact will be broken, but it added that a Clemson victory "is considered a mortal lock."

In New Orleans, Claude Simons, president of the Sugar Bowl, said no invitation had been extended to Clemson.

Chester's Pete Parsons Earns Titan Grid Letter

Pete Parsons, former star quarterback of Chester High School's Panthers, was one of four freshment who were awarded football letters this week at Westminster College at New Wilmington.

Parsons played under Coach Dom Amedeo and was the vital cog in Chester's powerful scoring machine in 1957 when the team won six, lost two and tied one. He was rated one of the better option play quarterbacks in the Ohio Valley as a senior.

However, his letter at Westminster was awarded on merits shown at an end position, Coach Harold Burry said. The Titans finished with a 6-1-1 record.

Fairfield-Waterford Sees An Improved Cage Season

Coach Bing Newton of Fairfield-Waterford, who guided his Rebels to the Columbiana County A championship in 1957, thinks his squad can duplicate the trick again this year despite the loss by graduation of six seniors.

The Rebels will open their 17-game regular season schedule Friday night at home against Springfield and also will participate in United High's cage preview Saturday night at the Hanoverton school.

With three lettermen in the fold from last year's club which posted a 9-11 record, Newton is pointing toward a much improved season.

The Rebels wrapped up the county A crown in 1957 by nipping United in an overtime battle, but lost to Columbiana farther along the tournament trail at Canton.

Heading the returning letter winners is Laverne Keslar, a 6-foot senior, who Newton labels "very tough on defense and also capable of scoring 15 points a game."

Keslar, a forward, will team with Joe Costanzo, a 5-9 senior guard, and Dave Groubert, a 5-8 senior, in supplying necessary experience to an otherwise young club, Newton pointed out.

Clarence Kannal, 5-10, Ross Dillon, 6-1, and Larry Peppel, 6-1, all sophomores, are being counted on as first line replacements.

Other varsity candidates include Tom Mentz, a 5-9 junior, Ray Brown, a 5-10 freshman, and Bob Webber, a 5-10 senior. Newton considers all of the replacements as "very good candidates."

Missing from last year's team are Paul Esenwein, Paul Miner, Bill Baker, Bob Cope, Oliver Cooper and Charles Olnhausen.

Newton is counting on the team's hustle to make up for a lack of height and experience. "All the boys love the game," he said. "If their hustling attitude prevails, we will win our share."

The Rebels face a tough opener Friday in Springfield, a team that defeated them last year, 53-38, but Newton is expecting United's veteran squad to provide the toughest opposition in the county A ranks.

The Rebels will oppose Beaver Local and Dennison St. Mary's in the United cage preview Saturday night. All home games will be played in the Fairfield gymnasium this year, Newton said. Reserve tilts will begin at 7 p. m.

A former Leetonia cager, Newton attended Kent State University, where he received a bachelor of science degree in education. He succeeded Ken Woods as Fairfield-Waterford mentor last year. Woods moved on to Wellsville to assume football coaching duties.

Al Dobson, who attended Brentwood High School, Pittsburgh, and was graduated from Boston University, is assisting Newton this year.

Rutgers' Billy Austin Voted As Back Of Week

By The Associated Press

Billy Austin, whose playing status was not known until shortly before the kickoff, Wednesday was named back of the week for the sensational finish he put on his Rutgers football career.

Playing with a heavy bandage on his broken left hand, the slender single wing tailback scored five touchdowns and ran for two conversions in the 11 times he handled the ball as Rutgers routed Columbia 61-0.

Despite the remarkable showing, Austin was the pick of Associated Press sports writers and broadcasters by only a narrow margin over halfback Billy Cannon of Louisiana State, Dick Bass of College of the Pacific, and Southern Methodist's Don Meredith.

Austin's 34 points gave him a season's total of 106.

Cannon received solid support for his work in the 62-0 rout of Tulane which enabled LSU to conclude its regular season unbeaten. He scored three times including the lid-lifting touchdown, gained 108 yards in 14 carries and intercepted a pass deep in Tiger territory.

Bass romped for six touchdowns and 191 rushing yards as COP smothered San Diego State.

In SMU's 33-29 hair-raiser over Baylor, Meredith was the difference—and more. The clever junior quarterback ran for two touchdowns and 50 yards while passing for a third score and 206 yards.

Treasure Hunt is a well-bred colt owned by Alfred G. Vanderbilt. He was sired by the late Discovery and his dam was Now What, a fine filly.

Five Michigan U. Students Cited On Grid Spot Cards

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Five University of Michigan students have been placed on probation for their part in the sale of football spot cards.

Included in the group are two athletes, basketball captain Jack Lewis and football fullback Tony Rio.

The probation will be effective for the remainder of the school year. Thus Rio would be eligible for football next season provided the athletic department and the Big Ten Conference approved. Lewis must miss the basketball season.

Others placed on probation were Michael Dodgson of Grand Rapids, Nick Mitea of Ecorse and John Miller of Utica. All were charged with conduct unbecoming a student.

Two Men Arrested For Football Lottery

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The continuing crackdown on a football lottery operation here has resulted in the arrest of two men. Police said the pair's print shop was a major supplier of football lottery cards in central Ohio.

Richard B. Koch, 48, pleaded innocent in Municipal Court Wednesday to charges of printing and having football lottery cards.

He is a co-owner of the Echo Press, a printing shop raided Tuesday by police vice squadmen who confiscated about 30,000 lottery cards.

His partner, George R. Showalter, was served Wednesday with a warrant citing similar charges when police returned to the shop to complete the confiscation.

Palestine Grid Team Honored At Assembly

EAST PALESTINE — A two-hour student assembly was held Tuesday by East Palestine senior and junior high school students in celebration of the winning of the Tri-County Football Championship by the high school grid team.

Taking part besides school officials and coaches were M. J. Lynch of the Booster Club; Paul Merwin, editor of The Daily Leader; Mrs. James Massey, president of the Mothers Athletic Club, and Roy S. Blackburn of the Board of Education.

Hospitality Bowl Teams Set For Dec. 6

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — The Hospitality Bowl Wednesday selected Wharton County Junior College, Pioneer Conference champion, as the Texas representative in the fourth annual game here.

Wharton will meet the Pearl River Junior College Wildcats of Poplarville, Miss., Dec. 6. Wharton, with a 8-2 season record, was undefeated in conference play. Pearl River, with a 7-2 record, tied for runnerup in the Mississippi Junior College Conference.

Washington State Denied Bowl Effort

SPOKANE (AP) — Washington State College was refused permission by the Pacific Coast Conference Wednesday to negotiate for a post season football bowl game on the votes of UCLA and Southern California.

WSC Athletic Director Stan Bates said UCLA and USC invoked an obscure veto clause in the PCC athletic code to kill the WSC petition.

"Acting PCC Commissioner Bernard Hammerbeck told us our request to waive the conference rule to prohibit members from participating in a post season game other than the Rose Bowl had been stopped short of a vote by a formal objection of UCLA and USC," Bates said.

Bates said this apparently meant the question of WSC negotiating for a Sugar or 'Gator bowl bid could only come up at a regular conference meeting.

Bates said both he and Dr. C. Clement French, WSC president, were shocked by the veto action.

The conference is due to meet Dec. 7 and Bates said there are no provisions to call for a special meeting.

The vote in the nine-school conference apparently was 7-2.

"Of course we never before have asked permission to play in an outside contest. In this case we felt that since the conference is breaking up after the present season there would be no serious objections to such a proposal as it would not establish a precedent for the future."

Marquette University Football Coach Resigns

His three-year contract expires on that date.

During his three years, Marquette won 2, lost 25 and tied one. The Warriors wind up their season Saturday night against Arizona State.

Druze's three years at Marquette were marred by frustration due to injuries to players and loss of key men. But he declined to blame his coaching troubles on injuries.

"If Marquette can find a better man to do a better job, I'm for it 100 per cent," Druze told newsmen.

Youth, 16, Fatally Injured In Explosion

ASHLAND, Wis. (AP)—A 16-year-old boy died Wednesday after an explosion in his basement workshop sent a shrapnel-like piece of steel crashing into his head.

Described as an exceptional science student, the boy often made model airplanes, rockets, missiles and explosives in his workshop.

Skiing Popular

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Skiing is developing as a sport in the Middle Atlantic states although usually associated with states to the north. A Blue Ridge Ski Council has been organized by clubs in Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia and the District of Columbia.

STRIKES, SPARES

By ROB NIBLOCK

According to reports from the Don-Bus Alleys on the boys' high school league, which is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, bowling interest among the local younger-set appears to be mounting.

Said one high school bowler: "The league competition is keen and a lot of us do open bowling on Saturday afternoon to sharpen up for the next week."

At the moment, three teams are bunched at the top in the race. Lowe's and Nelson's are locked in a first-place tie with 12 points. They are trailed closely by McFaul's with 11.

DAVE McFAUL, a young bowler with big scores, leads the individual scoring department in the league. He has the high game, 234, and last week rolled a 223. His 173 average is also tops for the league.

Other high single games last week include a 185 by Bill Blackhurst and a 177 by Jim Birkhimer. High two-game series were posted by McFaul, 353, Blackhurst, 340, and Henry Dock, 337.

The second-round races are shaping up around the circuit and it appears the leagues may be even tighter at the finish than in the first round.

The National and Big Eight League are particularly close. In the former, only four points separate the first- and fifth-place teams —with three deadlocked for third place.

In the Big Eight, which was a battle royal all the way last round, West Virginia was bumped from first place when Michigan swept three games from them Monday. The spread from the third- to the fifth-place teams is now only three points.

CONVERSIONS of splits to spares in the Cats 'n Dogs League was made by Roy Wolfe, 5-8-10, and 3-9-10, Jean Putnam 5-6-10, Margaret Wotring 5-10, Harry Early 4-10, Dick Springer 4-7-9, Ed Nelson 5-10 and Evelyn Wolfe 3-9-10.

T. S. & T. bowlers collected nine splits, with Paul Dawson getting the 2-7-8 combination, Bob Reed 3-6-7-8-10, Ralph Carpenter 5-8-10, Glen Wilson 5-10, Clarence Moore 5-7-9, Dick Cundiff 6-7 and John Vervin 5-6. Emil Hasenstab Jr. and Sam Wright both brought in the 6-10.

In American League action, Ron Talbot clipped the 4-5-7, Al Abdulla 5-6, Ralph Yanni 6-7-10, Roy Wolfe 5-7-9 and Al Troiana 4-7-9.

Pete Chefalo converted the 5-7 and 5-10 in the Big Eight circuit, with Regina Dickey bringing in the 5-6-10, John Clendenning 5-6, Ann Creaturo 4-5 and Wilma Zoellers and Mary Clendenning both got the 5-7. Sara Purton made that conversion twice.

National League bowlers Al Sayre, Chic Comparetta and Angie Cellini each got the 4-5-7 and Hancock and Chisler the 5-7.

Cosmo League bowlers brought in a trio of splits. Betty Croxall picked up the 5-6-10, Lucy Carter the 5-8-10 and Mary Mathias the 5-7.

THE FEDERAL Leaguers collected 11 splits Wednesday night. Getting a pair each were John Canne, 4-5 and 4-10, and Bill Sutherland, 5-8-10 and 5-7. Len Shields, Gil Liberatore and Dick Cundiff all clipped the 5-7, Art Haney 5-8-10, Bill Savage 4-5-7, Bud Applegate 2-5-7 and Al Logston 5-10.

In the City Ten Pin League, Gibbey Kiernan dropped the 6-7-10 combination, Henry Cain 4-5-7, John Marrelli 5-8-10, Bill McGinty 1-9-7, Paul Hobbs 5-10 and Larry Weinberg 3-7.

At the Head Pin in East End, two Little League bowlers each converted a pair of splits. Roy Allen got the 7-6 and 4-10 and John Klinsky brought in the 2-3 and 5-10.

21st Bill Booth Award To Be Made At Dinner

The 21st annual Bill Booth trophy will be awarded to an outstanding senior during East Liverpool High School's football banquet Dec. 9 at 6:30 p. m. in Westgate Junior High School.

Guest speaker for the post-season event sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club will be Vince Costello, middle guard of the Cleveland Browns and former three-sports star at Magnolia High School and Ohio University.

Among other awards to be presented are those for an honorary captain of this year's Potter team, most valuable player, outstanding lineman and the coaches merit award to the "rookie of the year" who has not won a previous football letter.

Twenty-six varsity letters and 12 reserve letters will be presented by head coach Lou Venditti.

The coveted Bill Booth award, given by the Senior Hi-Y each year, will go to the senior selected by a secret committee "for character, sportsmanship, scholastic standing and leadership."

Jim Kapp was the fifth guard and 12th lineman to win the award last year. He was also named honorary captain. Dave Zelch won last year's merit award and George Hale, now at Ohio State, was named most valuable player. Except for the Bill Booth trophy winner, other recipients are selected by the team members.

Costello was one of the Cleveland Browns' outstanding rookies in 1957. The 6-foot, 224-pound native of Dellroy played minor league baseball before entering the Air Force as a first lieutenant. He has coached football at Big Walnut, Ohio.

Costello, 26, is employed by the Timken Roller Bearing Co. of Canton in its recreation department in the off-season. He is single. He is in his second year with the Browns.

Jim Lowery, WOHI sportscaster, will be toastmaster. Guests will include former East Liverpool coaches.

Not Very Timely

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Kiwanis Club President Phil Jonsson arose at an annual banquet to present awards to members with perfect attendance records for the year. The first five members he named were absent.

Newell High Adopts Name Of 'Vikings'

Wells High of Newell adopted its first official nickname — the Vikings — following an all-student election, sponsored by the student council, Tuesday afternoon.

The announcement of the selected name was made by Principal Harold Gregory, who is the student council sponsor, at the traditional Thanksgiving assembly Wednesday.

The townspeople had narrowed the possible choices from four to two — the Mustangs and the Vikings — and the students then voted overwhelmingly in favor of the Vikings — the final count being 203 to 71.

Gregory pointed out that the Big Green and Warriors were bestowed on Wells High by area newspapermen and were not really authentic — never having been adopted by the student body.

He added the impetus for the change probably was provided by this year's Newell football team, which was of the flyweight variety —and tabbed the Big Green.

The assembly was sponsored by the Newell cheerleaders, who are coached by Mrs. Nancy Bottorf. The program included Thanksgiving poems and songs.

Grand Jury Life Is Extended In Probe Of Boxing

NEW YORK (AP) — General Sessions Judge Charles Marks Wednesday extended until next April 30 the life of the New York County grand jury which is investigating charges of racketeering and corruption in professional boxing.

The extension of the grand jury's life, which began last April, was requested by Alfred J. Scotti, chief assistant district attorney.

Scotti told the court that the grand jury had not completed its work. Since its inception, the grand jury has indicted several alleged figures of the underworld as undercover fight managers, including Frankie Carbo, reputed underworld czar of boxing, who still is a fugitive from the indictment.

Joe Schultz Named To Pilot Omaha Club

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Joe Schultz, former major league catcher and veteran minor league manager, Wednesday was named to manage Omaha of the triple A American Assn. next year.

Schultz was given the pilot's job by the St. Louis Cardinals, operators of the Omaha club. At present, he is managing the Licey team in the Dominican Republic Winter Baseball League.

Versatile Sophomore

Traditional Grid Games In East Regain Share Of Glory

By The Associated Press

Renascent Eastern football, original source of the idea that an afternoon in an icy stadium is the proper preliminary to a big Thanksgiving dinner, regains a share of its former glory Thursday.

With the major conference titles and the automatic bowl selections virtually wrapped up for the season, the ancient Penn-Cornell, Pitt-Penn State and Brown-Colgate tussles assume at least equal importance to the nationally televised Texas-Texas A&M encounter.

The lure of these games is largely traditional. The same thought applies to such games as Virginia Tech-V.M.I., Richmond-William and Mary, Utah-Utah State and Denver-Colorado State University — and they all fall somewhat under the shadow of the even bigger traditional classics, such as Army-Navy, coming up Saturday.

Here's what they have to offer:

Pennsylvania, whose recovery from the football doldrums began with a 14-6 upset of Cornell a year ago, can complete its most successful season in several years with a victory. Cornell, by winning, could take some sting out of the midseason collapse that cost it a chance for the Ivy League title. They're tied for third in the Ivy now and the winner will tie Princeton for second.

Colgate doesn't figure to offer too strong opposition to Brown and the big thing here is the chance for quarterback Frank Finney to take whatever Brown passing and offense records he doesn't already hold.

Pitt and Penn State, both three-time losers, still rate among the East's better teams although their bowl hopes have been dashed. Each has lost to Nebraska and Syracuse by close margins and scores against other common opponents indicate a real close tussle.

The Texas-Texas Aggie game always is a no-holds-barred affair and television viewers (NBC, 3 p.m. EST) can expect an interesting afternoon though there's nothing much at stake. They have identical 2-3 Southwest Conference records though Texas has the better over-all standing.

Second place in the Southern Conference is at stake in the meeting between Virginia Tech (2-1) and VMI (2-1-1) and South Carolina can solidify its hold on second in the Atlantic Coast Conference by beating Wake Forest. In the Missouri Valley Conference, Wichita (1-1-1)) could tie North Texas State for first place by beating Tulsa or drop almost to the bottom by losing.

The big one Saturday, of course, is the meeting between once tied but unbeaten Army and twice-beaten Navy in Philadelphia. Another service academy that hasn't lost yet, Air Force, risks this record against Colorado University.

Other major Saturday games include Southern California-Notre Dame, Southern Methodist-Texas Christian, Baylor-Rice, Houston-Texas Tech, Oklahoma State-Oklahoma, Alabama-Auburn, Georgia-Georgia Tech, Vanderbilt-Tennessee, Florida-Miami and Mississippi-Mississippi State.

Clemson Due Bid To Sugar Bowl If It Beats Furman

ATLANTA (AP)—The Atlanta Journal said Wednesday that Clemson will play in the Sugar Bowl next Jan. 1 if it defeats Furman this weekend.

A story by Gregory Favre said it was learned that Clemson had received and accepted an invitation to meet LSU in the New Orleans football classic.

The story added the agreement contains a stipulation that if Clemson should lose to Furman, the pact will be broken, but it added that a Clemson victory "is considered a mortal lock."

In New Orleans, Claude Simons, president of the Sugar Bowl, said no invitation had been extended to Clemson.

Chester's Pete Parsons Earns Titan Grid Letter

Pete Parsons, former star quarterback of Chester High School's Panthers, was one of four freshment who were awarded football letters this week at Westminster College at New Wilmington.

Parsons played under Coach Dom Amedeo and was the vital cog in Chester's powerful scoring machine in 1957 when the team won six, lost two and tied one. He was rated one of the better option play quarterbacks in the Ohio Valley as a senior.

However, his letter at Westminster was awarded on merits shown at an end position, Coach Harold Burry said. The Titans finished with a 6-1-1 record.

Fairfield-Waterford Sees An Improved Cage Season

Coach Bing Newton of Fairfield-Waterford, who guided his Rebels to the Columbiana County A championship in 1957, thinks his squad can duplicate the trick again this year despite the loss by graduation of six seniors.

The Rebels will open their 17-game regular season schedule Friday night at home against Springfield and also will participate in United High's cage preview Saturday night at the Hanoverton school.

With three lettermen in the fold from last year's club which posted a 9-11 record, Newton is pointing toward a much improved season.

The Rebels wrapped up the county A crown in 1957 by nipping United in an overtime battle, but lost to Columbiana farther along the tournament trail at Canton.

Heading the returning letter winners is Laverne Keslar, a 6-foot senior, who Newton labels "very tough on defense and also capable of scoring 15 points a game."

Keslar, a forward, will team with Joe Costanzo, a 5-9 senior guard, and Dave Groubert, a 5-8 senior, in supplying necessary experience to an otherwise young club, Newton pointed out.

Clarence Kannal, 5-10, Ross Dillon, 6-1, and Larry Peppel, 6-1, all sophomores, are being counted on as first line replacements.

Other varsity candidates include Tom Mentz, a 5-9 junior, Ray Brown, a 5-10 freshman, and Bob Webber, a 5-10 senior. Newton considers all of the replacements as "very good candidates."

Missing from last year's team are Paul Esenwein, Paul Miner, Bill Baker, Bob Cope, Oliver Cooper and Charles Olnhausen.

Newton is counting on the team's hustle to make up for a lack of height and experience. "All the boys love the game," he said. "If their hustling attitude prevails, we will win our share."

The Rebels face a tough opener Friday in Springfield, a team that defeated them last year, 53-38, but Newton is expecting United's veteran squad to provide the toughest opposition in the county A ranks.

The Rebels will oppose Beaver Local and Dennison St. Mary's in the United cage preview Saturday night. All home games will be played in the Fairfield gymnasium this year, Newton said. Reserve tilts will begin at 7 p. m.

A former Leetonia cager, Newton attended Kent State University, where he received a bachelor of science degree in education. He succeeded Ken Woods as Fairfield-Waterford mentor last year. Woods moved on to Wellsville to assume football coaching duties.

Al Dobson, who attended Brentwood High School, Pittsburgh, and was graduated from Boston University, is assisting Newton this year.

Rutgers' Billy Austin Voted As Back Of Week

By The Associated Press

Billy Austin, whose playing status was not known until shortly before the kickoff, Wednesday was named back of the week for the sensational finish he put on his Rutgers football career.

Playing with a heavy bandage on his broken left hand, the slender single wing tailback scored five touchdowns and ran for two conversions in the 11 times he handled the ball as Rutgers routed Columbia 61-0.

Despite the remarkable showing, Austin was the pick of Associated Press sports writers and broadcasters by only a narrow margin over halfback Billy Cannon of Louisiana State, Dick Bass of College of the Pacific, and Southern Methodist's Don Meredith.

Austin's 34 points gave him a season's total of 106.

Cannon received solid support for his work in the 62-0 rout of Tulane which enabled LSU to conclude its regular season unbeaten. He scored three times including the lid-lifting touchdown, gained 108 yards in 14 carries and intercepted a pass deep in Tiger territory.

Bass romped for six touchdowns and 191 rushing yards as COP smothered San Diego State.

In SMU's 33-29 hair-raiser over Baylor, Meredith was the difference—and more. The clever junior quarterback ran for two touchdowns and 50 yards while passing for a third score and 206 yards.

Treasure Hunt is a well-bred colt owned by Alfred G. Vanderbilt. He was sired by the late Discovery and his dam was Now What, a fine filly.

Five Michigan U. Students Cited On Grid Spot Cards

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—Five University of Michigan students have been placed on probation for their part in the sale of football spot cards.

Included in the group are two athletes, basketball captain Jack Lewis and football fullback Tony Rio.

The probation action was taken by the university on recommendation of the Joint Judiciary Council, a 10-member student government group.

The probation will be effective for the remainder of the school year. Thus Rio would be eligible for football next season provided the athletic department and the Big Ten Conference approved. Lewis must miss the basketball season.

Others placed on probation were Michael Dodgson of Grand Rapids, Nick Mitea of Ecorse and John Miller of Utica. All were charged with conduct unbecoming a student.

Two Men Arrested For Football Lottery

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The continuing crackdown on a football lottery operation here has resulted in the arrest of two men. Police said the pair's print shop was a major supplier of football lottery cards in central Ohio.

Richard B. Koch, 48, pleaded innocent in Municipal Court Wednesday to charges of printing and having football lottery cards.

He is a co-owner of the Echo Press, a printing shop raided Tuesday by police vice squadmen who confiscated about 30,000 lottery cards.

His partner, George R. Showalter, was served Wednesday with a warrant citing similar charges when police returned to the shop to complete the confiscation.

Palestine Grid Team Honored At Assembly

EAST PALESTINE — A two-hour student assembly was held Tuesday by East Palestine senior and junior high school students in celebration of the winning of the Tri-County Football Championship by the high school grid team.

Taking part besides school officials and coaches were M. J. Lynch of the Booster Club; Paul Merwin, editor of The Daily Leader; Mrs. James Massey, president of the Mothers Athletic Club, and Roy S. Blackburn of the Board of Education.

Hospitality Bowl Teams Set For Dec. 6

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP) — The Hospitality Bowl Wednesday selected Wharton County Junior College, Pioneer Conference champion, as the Texas representative in the fourth annual game here.

Wharton will meet the Pearl River Junior College Wildcats of Poplarville, Miss., Dec. 6. Wharton, with a 8-2 season record, was undefeated in conference play. Pearl River, with a 7-2 record, tied for runnerup in the Mississippi Junior College Conference.

Washington State Denied Bowl Effort

SPOKANE (AP) — Washington State College was refused permission by the Pacific Coast Conference Wednesday to negotiate for a post season football bowl game on the votes of UCLA and Southern California.

WSC Athletic Director Stan Bates said UCLA and USC invoked an obscure veto clause in the PCC athletic code to kill the WSC petition.

"Acting PCC Commissioner Bernard Hammerbeck told us our request to waive the conference rule to prohibit members from participating in a post season game other than the Rose Bowl had been stopped short of a vote by a formal objection of UCLA and USC," Bates said.

Bates said this apparently meant the question of WSC negotiating for a Sugar or 'Gator bowl bid could only come up at a reular conference meeting.

Bates said both he and Dr. C. Clement French, WSC president, were shocked by the veto action.

The conference is due to meet Dec. 7 and Bates said there are no provisions to call for a special meeting.

The vote in the nine-school conference apparently was 7-2.

"Of course we never before have asked permission to play in an outside contest. In this case we felt that since the conference is breaking up after the present season there would be no serious objections to such a proposal as it would not establish a precedent for the future."

Marquette University Football Coach Resigns

His three-year contract expires on that date.

During his three years, Marquette won 2, lost 25 and tied one. The Warriors wind up their season Saturday night against Arizona State.

Druze's three years at Marquette were marred by frustration due to injuries to players and loss of key men. But he declined to blame his coaching troubles on injuries.

"If Marquette can find a better man to do a better job, I'm for it 100 per cent," Druze told newsmen.

Youth, 16, Fatally Injured In Explosion

ASHLAND, Wis. (AP)—A 16-year-old boy died Wednesday after an explosion in his basement workshop sent a shrapnel-like piece of steel crashing into his head.

Described as an exceptional science student, the boy often made model airplanes, rockets, missiles and explosives in his workshop.

STRIKES, SPARES

By ROB NIBLOCK

According to reports from the Don-Bus Alleys on the boys' high school league, which is sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, bowling interest among the local younger-set appears to be mounting.

Said one high school bowler: "The league competition is keen and a lot of us do open bowling on Saturday afternoon to sharpen up for the next week."

At the moment, three teams are bunched at the top in the race. Lowe's and Nelson's are locked in a first-place tie with 12 points. They are trailed closely by McFaul's with 11.

DAVE McFAUL, a young bowler with big scores, leads the individual scoring department in the league. He has the high game, 234, and last week rolled a 223. His 173 average is also tops for the league.

Other high single games last week include a 185 by Bill Blackhurst and a 177 by Jim Birkhimer. High two-game series were posted by McFaul, 353, Blackhurst, 340, and Henry Dock, 337.

The second - round races are shaping up around the circuit and it appears the leagues may be even tighter at the finish than in the first round.

The National and Big Eight League are particularly close. In the former, only four points separate the first- and fifth-place teams —with three deadlocked for third place.

In the Big Eight, which was a battle royal all the way last round, West Virginia was bumped from first place when Michigan swept three games from them Monday. The spread from the third- to the fifth-place teams is now only three points.

CONVERSIONS of splits to spares in the Cats 'n Dogs League was made by Roy Wolfe, 5-8-10, and 3-9-10, Jean Putnam 5-6-10, Margaret Wotring 5-10, Harry Early 4-10, Dick Springer 4-7-9, Ed Nelson 5-10 and Evelyn Wolfe 3-9-10.

T. S. & T. bowlers collected nine splits, with Paul Dawson getting the 2-7-8 combination, Bob Reed 3-6-7-8-10, Ralph Carpenter 5-8-10, Glen Wilson 5-10, Clarence Moore 5-7-9, Dick Cundiff 6-7 and John Vervin 5-6. Emil Hasenstab Jr. and Sam Wright both brought in the 6-10.

In American League action, Ron Talbot clipped the 4-5-7, Al Abdulla 5-6, Ralph Yanni 6-7-10, Roy Wolfe 5-7-9 and Al Troiana 4-7-9.

Pete Chefalo converted the 5-7 and 5-10 in the Big Eight circuit, with Regina Dickey bringing in the 5-6-10, John Clendenning 5-6, Ann Creaturo 4-5 and Wilma Zoellers and Mary Clendenning both got the 5-7. Sara Purton made that conversion twice.

National League bowlers Al Sayre, Chic Comparetta and Angie Cellini each got the 4-5-7 and Hancock and Chisler the 5-7.

Cosmo League bowlers brought in a trio of splits. Betty Croxall picked up the 5-6-10, Lucy Carter the 5-8-10 and Mary Mathias the 5-7.

THE FEDERAL Leaguers collected 11 splits Wednesday night. Getting a pair each were John Canne, 4-5 and 4-10, and Bill Sutherland, 5-8-10 and 5-7. Len Shields, Gil Liberatore and Dick Cundiff all clipped the 5-7, Art Haney 5-8-10, Bill Savage 4-5-7, Bud Applegate 2-5-7 and Al Logston 5-10.

In the City Ten Pin League, Gibbey Kiernan dropped the 6-7-10 combination, Henry Cain 4-5-7, John Marrelli 5-8-10, Bill McGinty 1-9-7, Paul Hobbs 5-10 and Larry Weinberg 3-7.

At the Head Pin in East End, two Little League bowlers each converted a pair of splits. Roy Allen got the 7-6 and 4-10 and John Klinsky brought in the 2-3 and 5-10.

21st Bill Booth Award To Be Made At Dinner

The 21st annual Bill Booth trophy will be awarded to an outstanding senior during East Liverpool High School's football banquet Dec. 9 at 6:30 p. m. in Westgate Junior High School.

Guest speaker for the post-season event sponsored by the Blue and White Nonpareil Club will be Vince Costello, middle guard of the Cleveland Browns and former three - sports star at Magnolia High School and Ohio University.

Among other awards to be presented are those for an honorary captain of this year's Potter team, most valuable player, outstanding lineman and the coaches merit award to the "rookie of the year" who has not won a previous football letter.

Twenty - six varsity letters and 12 reserve letters will be presented by head coach Lou Venditti.

The coveted Bill Booth award, given by the Senior Hi-Y each year, will go to the senior selected by a secret committee "for character, sportsmanship, scholastic standing and leadership."

Jim Kapp was the fifth guard and 12th lineman to win the award last year. He was also named honorary captain. Dave Zelch won last year's merit award and George Hale, now at Ohio State, was named most valuable player. Except for the Bill Booth trophy winner, other recipients are selected by the team members.

Costello was one of the Cleveland Browns' outstanding rookies in 1957. The 6-foot, 224-pound native of Dellroy played minor league baseball before entering the Air Force as a first lieutenant. He has coached football at Big Walnut, Ohio.

Costello, 26, is employed by the Timken Roller Bearing Co. of Canton in its recreation department in the off-season. He is single. He is in his second year with the Browns.

Jim Lowery, WOHI sportscaster, will be toastmaster. Guests will include former East Liverpool coaches.

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Kiwanis Club President Phil Jonsson arose at an annual banquet to present awards to members with perfect attendance records for the year. The first five members he named were absent.

Newell High Adopts Name Of 'Vikings'

Wells High of Newell adopted its first official nickname — the Vikings — following an all - student election, sponsored by the student council, Tuesday afternoon.

The announcement of the selected name was made by Principal Harold Gregory, who is the student council sponsor, at the traditional Thanksgiving assembly Wednesday.

The townspeople had narrowed the possible choices from four to two — the Mustangs and the Vikings — and the students then voted overwhelmingly in favor of the Vikings — the final count being 203 to 71.

Gregory pointed out that the Big Green and Warriors were bestowed on Wells High by area newspapermen and were not really authentic — never having been adopted by the student body.

He added the impetus for the change probably was provided by this year's Newell football team, which was of the flyweight variety —and tabbed the Big Green.

The assembly was sponsored by the Newell cheerleaders, who are coached by Mrs. Nancy Bottorf. The program included Thanksgiving poems and songs.

Grand Jury Life Is Extended In Probe Of Boxing

NEW YORK (AP) — General Sessions Judge Charles Marks Wednesday extended until next April 30 the life of the New York County grand jury which is investigating charges of racketeering and corruption in professional boxing.

The extension of the grand jury's life, which began last April, was requested by Alfred J. Scotti, chief assistant district attorney.

Scotti told the court that the grand jury had not completed its work. Since its inception, the grand jury has indicted several alleged figures of the underworld as undercover fight managers, including Frankie Carbo, reputed underworld czar of boxing, who still is a fugitive from the indictment.

Joe Schultz Named To Pilot Omaha Club

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Joe Schultz, former major league catcher and veteran minor league manager, Wednesday was named to manage Omaha of the triple A American Assn. next year.

Schultz was given the pilot's job by the St. Louis Cardinals, operators of the Omaha club. At present, he is managing the Licey team in the Dominican Republic Winter Baseball League.

Versatile Sophomore

Two Matches Featured In Wales Tennis

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A dramatic, unfinished marathon doubles match involving Ham Richardson and Alex Olmedo of the U.S. Davis Cup team and a brilliant singles victory by Earl Buchholz of St. Louis featured Wednesday's play in the New South Wales Tennis Championships.

Richardson and the Peruvian-born Olmedo, the likely American Davis Cup doubles pair, trailed Australia's Ashley Cooper and Rod Laver, 6-3, 8-10, 9-11, 16-14, 4-5 with Olmedo's serve coming up when the semifinal was called because of darkness after 3½ hours. The match will be completed Thursday.

The victors will meet the top-ranking Aussie tandem of Mal Anderson and Neale Fraser for the title. The Anderson-Fraser team eliminated Bob Howe and Don Candy of Australia, 6-1, 9-11, 8-6, 6-4.

Buchholz, the 18-year-old sensation of the championships at White City Stadium, is trying for a junior-championship flight double. He already has reached the semifinals of the main tournament.

Wednesday he raced into the junior semifinals by soundly trouncing Australian Bob Pearson, 6-0, 6-1. On Friday he will meet Martin Mulligan, the Aussie junior titleholder. Mulligan disposed of countryman Frank Gorman, 12-10, 0-6, 6-2.

More important to the St. Louis marvel is his championship semifinal Thursday against Roy Emerson. The 22-year-old Aussie is playing the best tennis right now of all the home products and is battling for a Davis Cup berth.

Hancock Due Hospital For Civil Defense Use

Norman D. Ferrari, Hancock County Civil Defense director, reported Wednesday that the county will soon receive a portable, 200-bed hospital unit for use in possible emergencies.

The unit will contain X-ray devices, generators and other equipment worth some $500,000.

It may be transported to nearby areas such as East Liverpool or Wellsville or other communities in Civil Defense Area 6 on both sides of the Ohio River.

Ferrari said he had been negotiating for the hospital for over a year, along with Hancock County Commissioners William C. Graham, Dave Thomas and Lyle Virden. Two amphibious ducks were also purchased for emergency flood work, he said.

When facilities are prepared, the hospital unit will be stored in a vacated building at Tomlinson Run State Park near Pughtown.

They have resided on their farm 35 years. Mrs. Stewart is the former Miss Ethel Williams of Chester.

Visitors Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gardner and Mrs. Carrie Gardner of Shippingport.

During a community service project of the Hookstown Grange, personnel of South Side Joint School were entertained with a smorgasbord dinner Friday evening.

There was dancing and 500 and bridge. Harry Shane was in charge of the program and Mrs. Bernard Glenn for the dinner. Mrs. Gregg McElhaney and Mrs. Archie Laughlin were aids.

Mrs. John M. Finley entertained her Church School class from St. Luke's Episcopal Church at her home Monday evening.

The class selected a name, "The Juniors," and elected officers. They are Mary Lou Adney, president; David Trimble, vice president; Jo Ann McHaffie, secretary, and Sandra Laughlin, treasurer.

A theater party was planned for December. Games were played. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Finley, assisted by her daughter, Jane.

They were Mrs. Paul Mackall, Mrs. Joseph Simcox, Mrs. Geneva Butcher, Mrs. Gilbert McHaffie, and Mrs. Wendell Welborn. Mrs. Robert Christy attended from the Shippingport church.

Three Returning Regulars Nucleus For Salem Quint

Though the 18-straight regular season victories posted in 1957-58 may be out of reach for this year's Salem quint, Coach John Cabas is expecting another successful season.

Two things the 1958-59 edition of the Quakers appears to lack are overall depth and rebound strength.

Graduation claimed their ace rebounder of last season, Bill Pauline, a 6-5 center. But back in the fold are three regulars from last year — all of whom top the six-foot mark.

Returnees include center Lou Slaby, 6-feet, 3-inches, who averaged 9.2 a game last year, forwards Clyde Marks, 6-feet, 3 inches, and Woody Deitch, 6-feet, 1-inch. All three are seniors.

Three juniors are battling for the remaining guard posts. They include Jim Lewald, 6-feet, Dave Hunter, 5-feet, 10-inches, and Dan Krichbaun, 5-feet, 9-inches.

Possessing good speed, Cabas said the Quakers will employ a switching defense, being able to convert to a pressing man-for-man from a zone.

Offensively, Salem has several good shotmakers and probably will rely heavily on the fast break.

To the Quakers' advantage are the 13 games they will play on the home court. Only five games are away.

Salem will be looking for its 110th victory under Cabas in the opener against Struthers at home Dec. 9. In an eight-year span, the veteran mentor has experienced only 47 losses.

After stretching its unbeaten string to 20 last year, the Quakers were beaten in their third tourney game.

'Life Is Too Short'

NEW YORK

David Niven resents life. Not the weary length of it, but the brevity of it.

"I want to live another 150 years," he said. "I want to go on and on, doing what I'm doing. I can't visualize myself retiring and sitting in a little house by the seashore watching seagulls.

"I resent deeply the fact I can't read all the books I want to, know all the people, see all the places."

As debonair in real life as he is on the screen, Niven believes in meeting the problems of living with a mixture of granite and quicksilver.

After 6½ years of service in the British army during World War II (he emerged a colonel), he quickly resumed his star status. He was one of the first Hollywood figures to venture into television, despite a film mogul's stern warning: "If you do, you'll never work in my studio again."

"That's all right," Niven assured him. "I haven't worked in it for the last 10 years anyway."

Since then he has been busier than ever. As vice president of the Four Star Playhouse, he has helped supervise the production of nearly 1,200 TV dramas. He makes a dozen or so TV appearances a year, acts in two or three films.

In his latest, "Separate Tables," he portrays a lonely, seedy, scandal-haunted major, a role his fans may find somewhat surprising.

"I try to look for something different every time," Niven said. "My theory is that if you are lucky enough to make a good living acting, it's better to keep working than to sit around a year waiting for the perfect script.

"You learn something every day you work."

"I think we all eventually evolve our own faith. I am convinced that heaven and hell are right where we are now—on this earth.

Motion Asks Court Vacate Conviction Of Minister

CINCINNATI (AP) — Court-appointed attorneys for the Rev. Maurice McCrackin filed a motion in U. S. District Court Wednesday to have the minister's contempt of court conviction vacated.

They declared he was convicted improperly.

Judge John H. Druffel said he would hear aguments on the motion Friday.

The Rev. Mr. McCrackin, 52-year-old pacifist minister, is being held in the county jail on the contempt convention. Judge Druffel convicted him Monday after he had to be carried into court and then refused to plead to an indictment charging him with failure to respond to an Internal Revenue Service summons.

Fred A. Dewey and Theodore M. Berry, the attorneys whose services McCrackin never has accepted, contended in their motion the minister should have been given an opportunity for a jury trial on the contempt charge.

Their contention was that court followed a rule governing "contempt committed in the actual presence of the court, when it should have followed a rule which deals with contempt "not in the presence of the court."

Although he was in court, the minister was found guilty of disobeying a court order and misbehaving in a way which obstructed justice. The court's written order omitted the misbehaving charge, the attorneys declared.

Thus, the contempt charge happened outside the courtroom, at whichever place the minister ignored the order, they contended, and the court would be bound to offer trial by jury and enter a plea of not guilty on behalf of the defendant if he remained mute.

The Rev. Mr. McCrackin, Judge Druffel has ruled, must remain in jail until he agrees in writing to sign his own bond, return to court, enter a plea and cooperate in the proceedings.

Ohio Won't Bother Deer From Alaska For Ike's Parade

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Reindeer from Alaska for President Eisenhower's Christmas parade won't run into any trouble going through Ohio.

That's the word Ted Seipel of the Utilities Commission passed on Wednesday to attorney Robert C. Smith of Indianapolis.

An Alaskan donated the two dozen reindeer. A trucking firm in Portland, Ore., offered to cart the reindeer to Washington.

The Interstate Commerce Commission granted permission to do that without paying any special taxes or fees. Smith was assigned to see what red tape, if any, there would be in moving the reindeer through Indiana and Ohio.

He telephoned Seipel of the commission's Motor Transport Division. Seipel said to just drive through Ohio.

Repairs Slated Soon For Street At Newell

William C. Graham, Hancock County commissioner, said that 1st St., Newell, is slated for repairs soon by workers from the Pughtown Garage of the State Road Commission.

Residents of the street had complained that trucks were dumping dirt for repairs on empty lots instead of the street itself. Dirt will be used to fill the gutted places of the street whenever it is available, he said.

Driver Of Plunging Car Fined $50 On 2 Counts

George C. Smith of Chester R. D. 1, driver of a car which plunged down a steep embankment on Fairview Rd. late Monday night, was fined $50 and costs each on two traffic violations by Mayor Burton Ward of Chester Wednesday night.

Smith pleaded guilty to reckless driving and to leaving the scene of an accident. City police, who investigated, said Smith's car sideswiped two parked autos along Fairview Rd. inside the city before he lost control and his car veered over the steep hillside.

A passenger of Smith — Mark Hufford, 39, of Chester R. D. 1— was trapped in the wrecked car for about an hour, and was admitted to City Hospital with a shoulder injury.

Considerable damage resulted to the parked autos of Roscoe Wilson and Mrs. Millie Brooks, both of Fairview Rd., authorities said.

WOHI Given License For FM Broadcasting

The East Liverpool Broadcasting Co., operators of WOHI, was granted an application for a new radio station Wednesday by the Federal Communications Commission at Washington.

The FM station will operate on 104.3 megacycles, early in 1959. At the outset, the same programs as are now broadcast on WOHI will be used.

A slightly beaten egg white and a crushed egg shell may be used to clear a quart of stock for soup or sauces. The albumen in the egg coagulates as it is heated with the stock and any meat residue combines with the coagulated albumen. The cleared stock should be allowed to settle and then strained through a couple of thickness of cheesecloth placed over a fine sieve.

Two Matches Featured In Wales Tennis

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — A dramatic, unfinished marathon doubles match involving Ham Richardson and Alex Olmedo of the U.S. Davis Cup team and a brilliant singles victory by Earl Buchholz of St. Louis featured Wednesday's play in the New South Wales Tennis Championships.

Richardson and the Peruvian-born Olmedo, the likely American Davis Cup doubles pair, trailed Australia's Ashley Cooper and Rod Laver, 6-3, 8-10, 9-11, 16-14, 4-5 with Olmedo's serve coming up when the semifinal was called because of darkness after 3½ hours. The match will be completed Thursday.

The victors will meet the top-ranking Aussie tandem of Mal Anderson and Neale Fraser for the title. The Anderson-Fraser team eliminated Bob Howe and Don Candy of Australia, 6-1, 9-11, 8-6, 6-4.

Buchholz, the 18-year-old sensation of the championships at White City Stadium, is trying for a junior-championship flight double. He already has reached the semifinals of the main tournament.

Wednesday he raced into the junior semifinals by soundly trouncing Australian Bob Pearson, 6-0, 6-1. On Friday he will meet Martin Mulligan, the Aussie junior titleholder. Mulligan disposed of countryman Frank Gorman, 12-10, 0-6, 6-2.

More important to the St. Louis marvel is his championship semifinal Thursday against Roy Emerson. The 22-year-old Aussie is playing the best tennis right now of all the home products and is battling for a Davis Cup berth.

Hancock Due Hospital For Civil Defense Use

Norman D. Ferrari, Hancock County Civil Defense director, reported Wednesday that the county will soon receive a portable, 200-bed hospital unit for use in possible emergencies.

The unit will contain X-ray devices, generators and other equipment worth some $500,000.

It may be transported to nearby areas such as East Liverpool or Wellsville or other communities in Civil Defense Area 6 on both sides of the Ohio River.

Ferrari said he had been negotiating for the hospital for over a year, along with Hancock County Commissioners William C. Graham, Dave Thomas and Lyle Virden. Two amphibious ducks were also purchased for emergency flood work, he said.

When facilities are prepared, the hospital unit will be stored in a vacated building at Tomlinson Run State Park near Pughtown.

Georgetown

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Stewart of R. D. 1 celebrated their 48th wedding anniversary Sunday with a dinner at their home, arranged by their son, Harold Stewart, and his wife.

They have resided on their farm 35 years. Mrs. Stewart is the former Miss Ethel Williams of Chester.

Visitors Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gardner and Mrs. Carrie Gardner of Shippingport.

During a community service project of the Hookstown Grange, personnel of South Side Joint School were entertained with a smorgasbord dinner Friday evening.

There was dancing and 500 and bridge. Harry Shane was in charge of the program and Mrs. Bernard Glenn for the dinner. Mrs. Gregg McElhaney and Mrs. Archie Laughlin were aids.

Mrs. John M. Finley entertained her Church School class from St. Luke's Episcopal Church at her home Monday evening.

The class selected a name, "The Juniors," and elected officers. They are Mary Lou Adney, president; David Trimble, vice president; Jo Ann McHaffie, secretary, and Sandra Laughlin, treasurer.

A theater party was planned for December. Games were played. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Finley, assisted by her daughter, Jane.

They were Mrs. Paul Mackall, Mrs. Joseph Simcox, Mrs. Geneva Butcher, Mrs. Gilbert McHaffie, and Mrs. Wendell Welborn. Mrs. Robert Christy attended from the Shippingport church.

Three Returning Regulars Nucleus For Salem Quint

Though the 18-straight regular season victories posted in 1957-58 may be out of reach for this year's Salem quint, Coach John Cabas is expecting another successful season.

Two things the 1958-59 edition of the Quakers appears to lack are overall depth and rebound strength.

Graduation claimed their ace rebounder of last season, Bill Pauline, a 6-5 center. But back in the fold are three regulars from last year — all of whom top the six-foot mark.

Returnees include center Lou Slaby, 6-feet, 3-inches, who averaged 9.2 a game last year, forwards Clyde Marks, 6-feet, 3 inches, and Woody Deitch, 6-feet, 1-inch. All three are seniors.

Three juniors are battling for the remaining guard posts. They include Jim Lewald, 6-feet, Dave Hunter, 5-feet, 10-inches, and Dan Krichbaun, 5-feet, 9-inches.

Possessing good speed, Cabas said the Quakers will employ a switching defense, being able to convert to a pressing man-for-man from a zone.

Offensively, Salem has several good shotmakers and probably will rely heavily on the fast break.

To the Quakers' advantage are the 13 games they will play on the home court. Only five games are away.

Salem will be looking for its 110th victory under Cabas in the opener against Struthers at home Dec. 9. In an eight-year span, the veteran mentor has experienced only 47 losses.

WOHI Given License For FM Broadcasting

The East Liverpool Broadcasting Co., operators of WOHI, was granted an application for a new radio station Wednesday by the Federal Communications Commission at Washington.

The FM station will operate on 104.3 megacycles, early in 1959. At the outset, the same programs as are now broadcast on WOHI will be used.

A slightly beaten egg white and a crushed egg shell may be used to clear a quart of stock for soup or sauces. The albumen in the egg coagulates as it is heated with the stock and any meat residue combines with the coagulated albumen. The cleared stock should be allowed to settle and then strained through a couple of thickness of cheesecloth placed over a fine sieve.

Ohio Court Rules

Radar Is Upheld In Speeding Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Use of radar to catch speeders won unanimous approval of the Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday.

The decision upheld the conviction of Glen Ferell for driving 42 m.p.h. in an East Cleveland 25 m.p.h. zone March 7, 1956.

Ferell protested his conviction solely on evidence obtained from a radar speedmeter without testimony by an expert on its construction and operation.

"In this case," the high court said, "the scientific principle of the radar speedmeter has been used for over a century by scientists to detect the speed of moving objects."

The court noted that the meter in question was properly set up and tested by a trained technician and that the meter functioned properly.

The Supreme Court declined to review refusal of Portage County Appellate Court to prevent discharge of sewage into a tributary of Aurora Lake.

The appellate court said sewage from Aurora Acres, Inc., a residential development, did not create a nuisance. The development is near the lake used by Aurora Lake, Inc., for boating, fishing and picknicking by about 60,000 persons annually.

In other actions, the Supreme Court:

Rejected the appeal of Henry Kennard from refusal of Stark County Appellate Court to require unemployment compensation paid to him after his discharge in 1956 by Timken Roller Bearing Co.

Let stand a Fayette County Appellate Court decision holding that Clarence E. Wohlheater had an interest in fairgrounds land under litigation at Washington Court House. Wohlheater claimed his interest from his late wife, Flossie Scott Wohlheater, a beneficiary under the will of Earl L. Scott, owner of 280 acres, who died in 1916.

Good Driving, Car's Condition Help Avoid Skidding Mishaps

Alerting East Liverpool district drivers to prepare for the hazards of slippery streets, Police Chief Americo J. Radeschi said Wednesday that skilful driving and properly-equipped autos play a big role in helping avoid skidding accidents.

"Many people have the idea that accidents which occur when roads are slippery are caused entirely by ice and snow, but this is not the case at all," the chief said. "Slippery streets do contribute to crashes, but most often it's the driver's inability to cope with hazardous conditions that leads to an accident."

A motorist's judgment and co-ordination are basic qualifications for sizing up a potential danger and acting to avoid it, Radeschi asserted. For example, one situation may call for slowing down and steering around it or coming to a complete stop, he said.

"An important factor in safe winter driving is the prompt, sure response of the vehicle itself," Radeschi said. "A turn of the steering wheel should result in instant response. A touch of the brake pedal should reduce speed or bring the car to a halt with no loss of control, particularly on slippery pavement."

He pointed out that good traction is a highly important factor in winter driving because it controls the vehicle's capability for acceleration or braking.

"Without good traction, a driver's judgment and co - ordination and the steering and brakes mean very little," he said.

He pointed out that National Safety Council tests show some snow tread tires give 51 per cent better pulling power than conventional treads on loosely - packed snow. However, the percentage is less on grades or in deep snow, the tests showed. The Safety Council reported that tire chains boost traction 313 per cent on snow and 400 per cent on ice.

"The research showed that a car traveling 20 miles an hour and equipped with regular tires could be stopped in 21 feet on dry pavement, but 60 feet or more was required to halt the same car on loosely-packed snow and it covered nearly 200 before stopping on glare ice," the chief said. Tire chains cut the braking distance to 77 feet on ice and to 38 feet on snow, he added.

Kiwanis Expects 800 Will Attend Cossack Concert

Over 800 are expected to attend a concert by the famed Don Cossack Chorus and Dancers Friday night at the Westgate School auditorium, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club.

The program will be presented in three parts. The first will include "Blessed Is the Name of the Lord of Zion," "Church Bells of Novgorod," "Prayers to the Lord," "Sleep, My Girlie," "Song of the Plains" and "Lord Have Mercy."

The second part will include "My Beautiful One," "Old Village," "Monotonously Rings the Little Bell," "Cavalry March," "Malena," "In 1893," and "Lezginka," the latter a Caucasian dance.

In the final section, the chorus will sing "Dance Song," Galitzky's aria from "Prince Igor," "Two Guitars," "Cheer Up, You Brave Cossacks," "Malania" and "Kozatchok."

Nicholas Kostruckoff is director of the 26-member unit which is noted for its stirring rendition of Russian music along with exciting native dances.

Proceeds from the concert will be used for the service club's youth projects, Rowland Kaufman, chairman, said.

'Serendipity' Subject Of Talk To Kiwanis

"Serendipity" — a word meaning open - mindedness — could well be a proper attitude for Thanksgiving, Dr. D. Finley Wood of the First Methodist Church told members of the Kiwanis Club Wednesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Dr. Wood said the word stemmed from a story written by Sir Horace Walpole about Ceylon, the large island in the Indian Ocean whose ancient name was Serendip.

In "The Three Princes of Serendip," the three were always discovering by chance or sagacity, in their travels, things they did not seek. Walpole coined the word to mean the gift of finding valuable or agreeable things one did not seek.

The natives of the land were noted for their intelligent open-mindedness and receptivity of all ideas and today, scientists have come to use the word in describing a broadminded viewpoint without preconceived bias.

Dr. Wood said this attitude has resulted in many scientific discoveries such as rubber, penicillin and the theory of specific gravity — where scentists made a finding and were able to realize its benefits and utilize it intelligently.

"Many people were struck on the head by falling apples before Isaac Newton was hit and theorized the law of gravity," Dr. Wood pointed out.

Thanksgiving is a time for people to review their lives and benefits with an open mind, and to be not only appreciative but willing to make better use of them, he indicated. "We should not only be thankful for God's physical gifts, but for the deeper values and inner spiritual benefits such as courage and love," he concluded.

Dr. Charles Waggoner was program chairman.

400 Attend Play Given By South Side Seniors

Warren Firm Granted Order

Health Board Restrained In Banning McAllister Milk

A temporary restraining order was issued in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon Wednesday afternoon forbidding East Liverpool municipal officials from interfering with deliveries of milk here from McAllister Dairy Farms, Inc., at Warren until the court rules on the constitutionality of a city licensing ordinance under which a driver for the dairy concern was arrested Tuesday afternoon.

The order was issued by Judge Joel H. Sharp on an action for injunction and declaratory judgment filed on behalf of the dairy firm by Atty. Donald D. Shay.

The judge's order was three-way. It instructed the Board of Health to issue a milk permit to McAllister, which will be effective from yesterday until the date the case is heard, told McAllister to pay the usual permit and inspection fees required under the ordinance and instructed the defendants not to interfere with McAllister's milk deliveries pending settlement of the case.

In its action for declaratory judgment, the dairy firm asks the court to rule on the validity and constitutionality of Ordinance No. 4303, enacted in 1954, which sets up licensing and inspection requirements for concerns selling milk in East Liverpool. In the court order, the city is given until Friday to answer.

The action names 11 defendants — first the city as a municipal corporation, then Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, Safety - Service, Director Dan Maggianetti, Police Chief Americo Radeschi, Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, health commissioner, Sanitary Inspector Septimus Cook and the five members of the Health Board, Dr. Clarence Mayberry, Dr. J. Keith Rugh, Emil Liebschner, Mrs. Ila Johnston and Frank Dales.

The dairy firm acted after one of its drivers, Dennis George Langham of Warren, was arrested in East End at 12:20 Tuesday afternoon on a charge of bringing milk into the city illegally for sale. He posted a $56 bond to regain his freedom. No date has been set for the hearing.

McAllister has five East Liverpool outlets. Arrest of the driver followed up on a Health Board announcement Nov. 5 that the concern had been denied a city milk permit for 1958. The denial resulted from "inspection of numerous samples of milk delivered into this city and the inspection of the milk processing plant at Warren," the Health Board said in an announcement at that time.

The company's president, Temple McAllister, was defendant in a Municipal Court action about five years ago, accused of selling milk without a city permit. The charge, filed shortly after his concern opened its first outlet here, was dismissed on a technicality after a lengthy hearing before a jury.

Hawk Which Bit Man Found To Have Rabies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Natural Resources said Wednesday that a hawk which bit and clawed a Noble County man has been found to have rabies.

The victim of the attack, Oliver Montgomery of Batesville, is undergoing treatment for rabies, the department said.

The red-shouldered hawk was caught Saturday by two unidentified boys, but the bird escaped from them and attacked Montgomery. In the struggle, the hawk was killed. It was then turned over to Don Smith, Noble County game warden. Further investigation showed the hawk to be rabid.

Red German Troops Due Nuclear Training

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany is going to train its troops for nuclear warfare, a private West Berlin intelligence agency said Wednesday.

Information Bureau West said it has learned the East German army will get its first nuclear maneuver area sometime next year.

Its purpose will be to train troops to fight in an area contaminated by nuclear weapons.

Dog Has Bloody Struggle To Keep From Drowning

WOODBRIDGE, N.J. (AP) — Police plan to reward a stray dog who waged a bloody struggle to keep from drowning in a private pool Wednesday.

They will spare his life.

Officers Robert Egan and Joseph Nagy found the dog on his back in the pool with one paw hanging weakly on the side. His paws were bloody and all his claws had been ripped off in his attempt to pull himself out of the water.

They gave him artificial respiration, wrapped him in blankets and took him to headquarters.

There they discovered the small, black mixed breed wore no license or other identification tag. Strays found under such circumstances are usually put to death after a few days.

But not this one.

"Any dog who wanted to live so badly we'd be glad to foot the bill to take care of him," one policeman said.

Benson Again Evades 'Yes' Or 'No' For Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson gave the same answer Wednesday to questions whether he is (A) for or (B) against Vice President Nixon for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination:

"I am not."

The questions were put separately to Benson at a news conference.

While he said he has not joined the Nixon bandwagon, Benson said "He is a good man and there are a lot of good men."

As he has done many times in the past, Benson again disclaimed any political aspirations of his own including the vice presidential nomination.

Warren Firm Granted Order

Health Board Restrained In Banning McAllister Milk

A temporary restraining order was issued in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon Wednesday afternoon forbidding East Liverpool municipal officials from interfering with deliveries of milk here from McAllister Dairy Farms, Inc., at Warren until the court rules on the constitutionality of a city licensing ordinance under which a driver for the dairy concern was arrested Tuesday afternoon.

The order was issued by Judge Joel H. Sharp on an action for injunction and declaratory judgment filed on behalf of the dairy firm by Atty. Donald D. Shay.

The judge's order was three-way. It instructed the Board of Health to issue a milk permit to McAllister, which will be effective from yesterday until the date the case is heard, told McAllister to pay the usual permit and inspection fees required under the ordinance and instructed the defendants not to interfere with McAllister's milk deliveries pending settlement of the case.

In its action for declaratory judgment, the dairy firm asks the court to rule on the validity and constitutionality of Ordinance No. 4303, enacted in 1954, which sets up licensing and inspection requirements for concerns selling milk in East Liverpool. In the court order, the city is given until Friday to answer.

The action names 11 defendants — first the city as a municipal corporation, then Mayor Fred P. Lawrence, Safety-Service, Director Dan Maggianetti, Police Chief Americo Radeschi, Dr. E. G. Kuhlman, health commissioner, Sanitary Inspector Septimus Cook and the five members of the Health Board, Dr. Clarence Mayberry, Dr. J. Keith Rugh, Emil Liebschner, Mrs. Ila Johnston and Frank Dales.

The dairy firm acted after one of its drivers, Dennis George Langham of Warren, was arrested in East End at 12:20 Tuesday afternoon on a charge of bringing milk into the city illegally for sale. He posted a $56 bond to regain his freedom. No date has been set for the hearing.

McAllister has five East Liverpool outlets. Arrest of the driver followed up on a Health Board announcement Nov. 5 that the concern had been denied a city milk permit for 1958. The denial resulted from "inspection of numerous samples of milk delivered into this city and the inspection of the milk processing plant at Warren," the Health Board said in an announcement at that time.

The company's president, Temple McAllister, was defendant in a Municipal Court action about five years ago, accused of selling milk without a city permit. The charge, filed shortly after his concern opened its first outlet here, was dismissed on a technicality after a lengthy hearing before a jury.

Hawk Which Bit Man Found To Have Rabies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Natural Resources said Wednesday that a hawk which bit and clawed a Noble County man has been found to have rabies.

The victim of the attack, Oliver Montgomery of Batesville, is undergoing treatment for rabies, the department said.

The red-shouldered hawk was caught Saturday by two unidentified boys, but the bird escaped from them and attacked Montgomery. In the struggle, the hawk was killed. It was then turned over to Don Smith, Noble County game warden. Further investigation showed the hawk to be rabid.

Red German Troops Due Nuclear Training

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany is going to train its troops for nuclear warfare, a private West Berlin intelligence agency said Wednesday.

Information Bureau West said it has learned the East German army will get its first nuclear maneuver area sometime next year.

Its purpose will be to train troops to fight in an area contaminated by nuclear weapons.

Dog Has Bloody Struggle To Keep From Drowning

WOODBRIDGE, N.J. (AP) — Police plan to reward a stray dog who waged a bloody struggle to keep from drowning in a private pool Wednesday.

They will spare his life.

Officers Robert Egan and Joseph Nagy found the dog on his back in the pool with one paw hanging weakly on the side. His paws were bloody and all his claws had been ripped off in his attempt to pull himself out of the water.

They gave him artificial respiration, wrapped him in blankets and took him to headquarters.

There they discovered the small, black mixed breed wore no license or other identification tag. Strays found under such circumstances are usually put to death after a few days.

But not this one.

"Any dog who wanted to live so badly we'd be glad to foot the bill to take care of him," one policeman said.

Benson Again Evades 'Yes' Or 'No' For Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson gave the same answer Wednesday to questions whether he is (A) for or (B) against Vice President Nixon for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination:

"I am not."

The questions were put separately to Benson at a news conference.

While he said he has not joined the Nixon bandwagon, Benson said "He is a good man and there are a lot of good men."

As he has done many times in the past, Benson again disclaimed any political aspirations of his own including the vice presidential nomination.

Sheppard Counsel Told To Tell Who 'Hid Evidence'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court told counsel for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard Wednesday to say by Dec. 31 who concealed evidence at the Cleveland wife-slayer's trial or forget about habeas corpus action to free him.

Attorney William J. Corrigan claimed at a recent hearing that evidence was withheld but declined to make any identification at that time.

"He is higher than a police official," Corrigan said in answer to a question by Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt.

The exchange came during a hearing on Corrigan's request for the court to change its entry denying a writ of habeas corpus sought to free Sheppard.

Corrigan asked that the entry show he was not permitted to submit evidence in a legal maneuver that would lead to an appeal to federal courts.

The Ohio court overruled the motion to amend and said the habeas corpus action would be dismissed unless Corrigan named "the authorities claimed to have concealed material evidence beneficial to him, and by specifying such evidence."

AT Smith & Phillips
YOU CAN Trade-In Your Old
AS YOU WOULD YOUR OLD CAR
Read The Facts

Now your old furniture can help pay for the beautiful new furniture you've been wanting

"The trouble with furniture" people say "is that it costs too much and lasts too long."

Soundly built furniture seems to refuse to "wear out". Relatively few families are in a position to discard usable furniture, to give it away or sell it for peanuts, in order to refurnish their homes with the beautiful new things they see in our store and in our advertisements. That's what makes this announcement of Smith and Phillips Trade-In plan of such significance to homemakers in this area.

Smith & Phillips will appraise your old furniture, tell you how large a trade-in allowance you can receive.

No "gimmicks," no "sleight of hand," no "flat allowances" offered regardless of the value of your furniture, no prices inflated to absorb the allowance you receive. You dial Smith & Phillips FU 5-1215 We send an appraiser to your home without the slightest obligation to you whatsoever. You then visit your Smith & Phillips store. You choose the furniture you want from one of the largest, finest, most value-conscious collections in East Liverpool. You deduct your Trade-In allowance from the prices on the tags—and if you prefer, you arrange payment of the balance to suit your convenience.

Some questions and answers

We've been discussing this plan with some of our customers. They've asked some questions that may be occurring to you now. Here they are!

Can I come in to see whether I can find the new furniture I want before you send an appraiser to my home?

Of course. You are decidedly welcome to visit your Smith & Phillips store (and if you haven't shopped Smith & Phillips lately, you're in for an eye-opening treat!) After you have made your selection, we can arrange to have an appraiser call at your home.

What if I decide not to make a purchase after you make an appraisal?

You are under no obligation at any time. If you decide not to make a purchase, we'll thank you for having given us an opportunity to be of service—and hope that you'll give us another opportunity some time soon.

May I trade-in any suite of furniture I own toward the purchase of a new suite?

Yes. For example, you can trade-in your old living room suite toward the purchase of a new living room suite; you can trade in your old bedroom for a new bedroom. Or you can trade-in your old bedroom suite for a new living room.

And here's the $64,000 question! If your prices are as low as they possibly can be, how can you afford to offer trade-in allowances?

You know what happens to your old car when you trade it in. That's exactly what will happen to your old furniture. We plan to recondition it and resell it through our Used Furniture Departments. Our trade-in allowance will not be price discounts. They represent actual value we expect to recover through the resale of your old furniture.

May I trade-in my furniture and not purchase anything immediately?

Yes. For example, you may wish to have that old sofa out of your way, but may not be able to purchase anything right away. We will appraise the sofa and allow you an amount toward the purchase of a certain amount in the future. Let us say we allow $30.00 for the old sofa on the purchase of $150.00 at any time in the future. Your account will be marked with a credit of $30.00. If your next purchase is for $75.00 we apportion the credit or in other words, we will allow you $15.00 at that time and you will still have $15.00 credit due on $75.00 worth of purchase. Many persons have taken advantage of this unique trade-in plan in the past, but some of you may not have known of it.

Sheppard Counsel Told To Tell Who 'Hid Evidence'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court told counsel for Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard Wednesday to say by Dec. 31 who concealed evidence at the Cleveland wife-slayer's trial or forget about habeas corpus action to free him.

Attorney William J. Corrigan claimed at a recent hearing that evidence was withheld but declined to make any identification at that time.

"He is higher than a police official," Corrigan said in answer to a question by Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt.

The exchange came during a hearing on Corrigan's request for the court to change its entry denying a writ of habeas corpus sought to free Sheppard.

Corrigan asked that the entry show he was not permitted to submit evidence in a legal maneuver that would lead to an appeal to federal courts.

The Ohio court overruled the motion to amend and said the habeas corpus action would be dismissed unless Corrigan named "the authorities claimed to have concealed material evidence beneficial to him, and by specifying such evidence."

YOU CAN Trade-In Your Old
AS YOU WOULD YOUR OLD CAR
Read The Facts

Now your old furniture can help pay for the beautiful new furniture you've been wanting

"The trouble with furniture" people say "is that it costs too much and lasts too long."

Soundly built furniture seems to refuse to "wear out". Relatively few families are in a position to discard usable furniture, to give it away or sell it for peanuts, in order to refurnish their homes with the beautiful new things they see in our store and in our advertisements. That's what makes this announcement of Smith and Phillips Trade-In plan of such significance to homemakers in this area.

Smith & Phillips will appraise your old furniture, tell you how large a trade-in allowance you can receive.

No "gimmicks," no "sleight of hand," no "flat allowances" offered regardless of the value of your furniture, no prices inflated to absorb the allowance you receive. You dial Smith & Phillips FU 5-1215 We send an appraiser to your home without the slightest obligation to you whatsoever. You then visit your Smith & Phillips store. You choose the furniture you want from one of the largest, finest, most value-conscious collections in East Liverpool. You deduct your Trade-In allowance from the prices on the tags—and if you prefer, you arrange payment of the balance to suit your convenience.

Some questions and answers

We've been discussing this plan with some of our customers. They've asked some questions that may be occurring to you now. Here they are!

Can I come in to see whether I can find the new furniture I want before you send an appraiser to my home?
Of course. You are decidedly welcome to visit your Smith & Phillips store (and if you haven't shopped Smith & Phillips lately, you're in for an eye-opening treat!) After you have made your selection, we can arrange to have an appraiser call at your home.

What if I decide not to make a purchase after you make an appraisal?
You are under no obligation at any time. If you decide not to make a purchase, we'll thank you for having given us an opportunity to be of service—and hope that you'll give us another opportunity some time soon.

May I trade-in any suite of furniture I own toward the purchase of a new suite?
Yes. For example, you can trade-in your old living room suite toward the purchase of a new living room suite; you can trade in your old bedroom for a new bedroom. Or you can trade-in your old bedroom suite for a new living room.

And here's the $64,000 question! If your prices are as low as they possibly can be, how can you afford to offer trade-in allowances?
You know what happens to your old car when you trade it in. That's exactly what will happen to your old furniture. We plan to recondition it and resell it through our Used Furniture Departments. Our trade-in allowance will not be price discounts. They represent actual value we expect to recover through the resale of your old furniture.

May I trade-in my furniture and not purchase anything immediately?
Yes. For example, you may wish to have that old sofa out of your way, but may not be able to purchase anything right away. We will appraise the sofa and allow you an amount toward the purchase of a certain amount in the future. Let us say we allow $30.00 for the old sofa on the purchase of $150.00 at any time in the future. Your account will be marked with a credit of $30.00. If your next purchase is for $75.00 we apportion the credit or in other words, we will allow you $15.00 at that time and you will still have $15.00 credit due on $75.00 worth of purchase. Many persons have taken advantage of this unique trade-in plan in the past, but some of you may not have known of it.

Ann Bell Says:

THIS IS HOME

A world of strife shut out;
A world of love shut in
The place where the great are small and the small are great.
The father's kingdom, the child's paradise, and the mother's world.
The place where we grumble the most and are treated the best.
The center of affection around which our hearts best wishes twine.
A place where our stomachs get three square meals a day and our hearts a thousand.
The only place on earth, where the faults and failings of humanity are hidden under the sweet mantle of charity.
Give thanks for this—

Ann Bell Says:

THIS IS HOME

A world of strife shut out;
A world of love shut in
The place where the great are small and the small are great.
The father's kingdom, the child's paradise, and the mother's world.
The place where we grumble the most and are treated the best.
The center of affection around which our hearts best wishes twine.
A place where our stomachs get three square meals a day and our hearts a thousand.
The only place on earth, where the faults and failings of humanity are hidden under the sweet mantle of charity.

WHY BUY At Ideal?

We've built up a reputation for fair dealing. Here's how we plan to help it grow. We've found that the best way to keep our customers is to give them the best in service. So we have a clean, efficient service department, always on its toes. Planned every inch of the way to provide the kind of service today's motorists need. Whatever the make of car you now drive, its a good idea to bring it in when it needs service. We are pretty sure you will keep coming back.

NOW is the time to PREPARE for WINTER.

We pick up and deliver, or will provide transportation if needed.

Why Not Stereophonic Sound For Those Who Enjoy Music?

Music lovers this Christmas have a special treat awaiting them in stereophonic sound, the new tonal magic now available for home high fidelity music systems.

With stereophonic sound, the concert hall is literally brought right into the living room. For the first time, music lovers can enjoy most faithful reproduction, actually listening in depth.

Without being technical, this new dimension in recorded sound is achieved through the calculated placement of performers and equipment in the recording studio.

Two microphones are used, resulting in two independent sound tracks impressed on a single record groove. For playback on your hi-fi system, a special stereo cartridge designed to pickup both tracks is used.

Up to now, home music systems have been designed to play a single track record, disc or tape.

Opposed to this monaural or "one-eared" system, stereophonic recording is binaural or "two-eared."

It is simple to adapt existing home music systems to stereophonic. The main requirement is a stereo cartridge.

Other components needed are an auxiliary amplifier and speaker easily incorporated into any existing system.

Shaking Reunion

MCALESTER, Okla. (AP)—Barney Bulard was a bit shaken when a woman walked into his home and he realized it was his sister, Mrs. Effie Smith. He believed she had died in an automobile wreck 15 years earlier.

These New Ideas Could Help Make Cookies Tastier

First of all, prepared mixes are only slightly more expensive than "starting from scratch" but are great time-savers.

Fancy, thin cookies tend to lose their shapes in transferring them from cutting board to baking sheet, so roll the dough directly on a greased and lightly-floured cooky sheet, cut desired shapes and remove the surplus.

If you wish to hang decorative cookies on the tree, press a small navy bean into the top of the cooky for a loophole and remove after baking.

Colored bead candies will adhere perfectly to cooky surfaces if you brush rolled-out cookies with a pastry brush dipped sparingly in cold water.

To flatten drop cookies, cover bottom of glass with damp white cloth, and use to press down cookies.

THERE WILL BE a hot meal waiting when these tired Christmas shoppers come home. Mother sets automatic timer and temperature control on oven before leaving. Oven will go on automatically, bake or roast correct time and turn off.

Purses Confuse Him

URBANA, Ill. — Two University of Illinois coeds called at the police station to report thefts of their purses. It proved too much for Sgt. Al Konradt who listed compacts, lipsticks, small change, identification cards, glass cleaners, etc. To fill out the list on the police blotter, he added: "And various other necessities of a woman's fancy."

Very Good Excuse

ROANOKE, Va. — If George Dowdy, 13, missed the school bus he had a sufficient excuse. Just after he started for the bus he was attacked by a buck deer, knocked down and trampled. The deer was finally driven off in about ten minutes by George's mother and the family dog.

Something Missing

MOUNT SIDNEY, Va. (AP) — Voters found something missing here in the 1958 election. The something was Col. C. S. Roller Jr., who has missed just twice as an election judge since he was appointed in 1900. He missed in 1918 when in France with the 89th Division. This year he was in the hospital.

Stormy Weather

International Flavor

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — A Nogales bar has come up with a drink entitled U. N. Sling. The recipe: Fill a tall glass with crushed ice, add two ounces of London gin, a dash of French vermouth, an ounce of California orange juice, fill with Canada dry sparkling water and float an ounce of vodka on top.

Cavalry Authority

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — He has never ridden a horse, but James Hutchins is a nationally recognized authority on the U. S. Cavalry. Hutchins, a Columbus auto dealer and ex-infantryman, has been named historical consultant to the National Park Service. He will advise the government mainly on old Western cavalry posts.

Santa Stars Space Toys

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The space age, may frighten grown-ups, but it's all in the day's play for children.

Proof of this fact is the predominance of space toys in the Christmas toy pack this year. Children from toddlers to teenagers will be reconstructing Cape Canaveral equipment this year, shooting the moon and maneuvering satellites in orbit. Even electric trains have rocket launching attachments. Girls as well as boys get in the act with special kits beamed to the female atomic scientists.

The younger generation takes guided missiles and space ships in stride, says Melvin Freud, president of Toy Guidance Council. These are the things which will be commonplace when they grow up, and so they get conditioned to changing times with playroom counterparts.

But there are other Toyland reflections of modern living. There is, for instance, a record turnout of Wild West equipment, with the most authentic replicas of pioneer shooting irons ever presented to small desperadoes.

The fast-changing scene of suburbia, too, has exerted influence on the year's toys. New construction kits provide short-cuts for reproducing the latest trends in housing developments, down to the last detail of the shopping center.

America's concern for dressing up the home is evidenced in modern styling of doll houses and playroom furniture. The pastel matched kitchen equipment is a favorite of modern-minded little girls.

Toy designers also continue to dream up new approaches to career training. There is a new version of the hospital cart, for instance, with equipment for blood transfusions and other emergencies, for the juvenile doctor-nurse team. Girder panel sets help the future engineer produce superhighways. The astronomer, the entomologist, the food chemist and the geologist are provided with various kits to spark career interest.

The junior artist, too, has a wide range of activity. Water-color crayons permit a fast switch from plain crayon work to finger paint, just by using water.

Toyland hits a new high in musical instruments this year, too. Now ideas include a roll harmonica and xylophones that achieve broader tone effects, as well as a table-model electronic organ.

For young hobbyists, new creative play activities range from a kit for making costume jewelry to a two-color printing press.

Here's How Your Tot Can Be Santa's Helper

Wouldn't your little boy (or girl) love to play "Santa's helper" in their very own red and white-fur suit?

Red flannel feet-in slippers that you can make or buy suddenly turn into a Santa-suit with the addition of white fake fur at collar, cuffs and down the front.

If you are unable to find a suitable red stocking cap, it is very simple to make—using the principle of a triangle turned into a cone. Sew a rim of white around the brow and a bit on the tip end.

Santa Stars Space Toys

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

The space age, may frighten grown-ups, but it's all in the day's play for children.

Proof of this fact is the predominance of space toys in the Christmas toy pack this year. Children from toddlers to teenagers will be reconstructing Cape Canaveral equipment this year, shooting the moon and maneuvering satellites in orbit. Even electric trains have rocket launching attachments. Girls as well as boys get in the act with special kits beamed to the female atomic scientists.

The younger generation takes guided missiles and space ships in stride, says Melvin Freud, president of Toy Guidance Council. These are the things which will be commonplace when they grow up, and so they get conditioned to changing times with playroom counterparts.

Waldorf Salad Is Attractive, Versatile

Attractive salads and desserts that can be made ahead of time—that's what everyone is asking for these days. "Waldorf Fruit Salad" is just such a recipe. What a versatile recipe it is too. According to your choice of dish — it's a salad — it's a dessert!

A recipe that "doubles" well "comes in handy oftentimes. "Waldorf Fruit Salad" does that too!

Waldorf Fruit Salad

1 quart apples, chopped
1 cup celery, chopped
1 cup broken pecans
1 can pineapple chunks (drained)
2 cups miniature marshmallows
½ cup whipping cream
½ cup mayonnaise
Cranberry sauce (cut in cubes)

Combine the first 5 ingredients. Whip the cream and stir in the mayonnaise until well blended.

Fold mayonnaise-cream mixture into the fruit salad until salad is well coated with dressing. Spoon salad onto lettuce leaf and sprinkle with cranberry cubes. Makes sixteen to eighteen servings.

Filmstrips Give Planners Ideas Of Yule Programs

Program planners during the Yuletide season will find a host of materials available at the Carnegie Public Library, according to Miss Frances Jones, librarian. Ten fimlstrips specifically concerned with Christmas customs and spirit are now being booked for December showings. These include the following for children — "Littlest Angel," "When the Littlest Camel Knelt" and "Christopher Mouse."

Those primarily for adults are "The Christmas Story" and "The Other Wise Man." A series of four strips on Christmas in other lands includes "Christmas In Norway, Germany, England and Mexico." All of these strips are most effectively used with a recorded background — though they can be used with spoken commentary. Applicants should phone early to place requests.

The library has stocked many new pamphlets which provide outlines for pageants. Outstanding among these are the following carol services, "The Light Shines," "Now Sing We," "Messengers at Christmas" and "Simple Chancel Dramas."

A refreshing approach for families is a discussion on "Making Christmas Christian." Additional books concerned with customs which are new this season are Harnett Kane's "Southern Christmas Book," turkey and sauerkraut being one of the dishes common in that region at Yuletide; "Christmas Here and There," by Allstrom, and Hale's "Christmas and Its Customs."

New seasonal stories for wee tots are "A Christmas Alphabet" by Lee Maro, "The Wee Tree's Christmas" by James Hatch, and "The Year Without Santa Claus" by Phyllis McGinley.

The fun of decorating has not been forgotten. The Dennison Co. has a handy new manual on wrapping. There is a new text on how to make sock toys — and lots of ideas about greeting cards. The library also recommends highly the fine annual from Better Homes and Gardens on decorating and cooking, Miss Jones said.

Spotless Kitchen Adds Charm To The Season

So sponge clean all cupboards and appliances well in advance of the shopping rush. Clean floors, too, using a long-handled sponge-type mop to save energy and use a rapid drying cleanser that doesn't need rinsing — all of which leaves you with more pep for holiday fun.

If you have a bulletin board, pin some colorful Christmas cards on it. Or put short pine branches in a bowl on the window sill or a shelf and attach some tinsel, tiny Christmas balls or little bows, so that it looks like a miniature tree.

Do-It-Yourself Plan Gets Rid Of Wasps

He took a vacuum cleaner out to their nest, sucked them into the tank of the cleaner and went to his garage.

There he plugged the vacuum cleaner into the exhaust of his auto and started the motor.

Better Business Unit Rejects Complaint

A woman said she hired a lawyer to represent her in a divorce suit and wanted a refund of his fee, but couldn't get it. The husband, she said, died three days after the decree was granted.

Pony Project Offered 4-H Club Members

CAMBRIDGE, Ill. (AP)— Henry County 4-H Club members now have the opportunity to include a yearling pony filly or stock or riding horse yearling filly with their projects.

"The project is primarily for members desiring to breed and raise ponies for pleasure and profit," said Jerry Payne, assistant farm adviser.

A woman said she hired a lawyer to represent her in a divorce suit and wanted a refund of his fee, but couldn't get it. The husband, she said, died three days after the decree was granted.

Pony Project Offered 4-H Club Members

CAMBRIDGE, Ill. (AP)— Henry County 4-H Club members now have the opportunity to include a yearling pony filly or stock or riding horse yearling filly with their projects.

"The project is primarily for members desiring to breed and raise ponies for pleasure and profit," said Jerry Payne, assistant farm adviser.

Appliances Will Please Most Of Those Upon Your Gift List

"Come out of the kitchen!" can well be applied to the newest small appliances.

Smart Santas will note that these convenient time - savers have blossomed forth with a sparkling beauty of modern design that makes them "at home" on dining, buffet, supper or patio table, as well as in the kitchen work-center.

This is featured by many of America's finest appliance makers, and serves the double purpose of reducing the price on individual appliances, plus making it a cinch to feature an attractive, modern "cook center" anywhere.

It's also a wonderful way for a family to pool its funds and give mom the gift of a lifetime — a heat control plus a complete set of appliances to go with it.

A waffler - grill combination is a terrific double - hit gift. With this single appliance, she (or he) can fry bacon and eggs, pancakes, toast sandwiches, even make waffles.

You can prepare a complete hot meal on the large cooking area, then place it right on the table for deluxe serving.

Steam and dry irons, toasters, automatic corn poppers, bun warmers and the newest hot 'n' cold servers are other gifts that rate "thank - you's" straight from the heart.

Fun - to - use rotisseries are available in many sizes and make baking, grilling and broiling a thrilling experience.

And there's the ever - so - useful blender which also purees vegetables.

An electric mixer with bowls, or the smaller - hand type is another "I want" at the top of every homemaker's list.

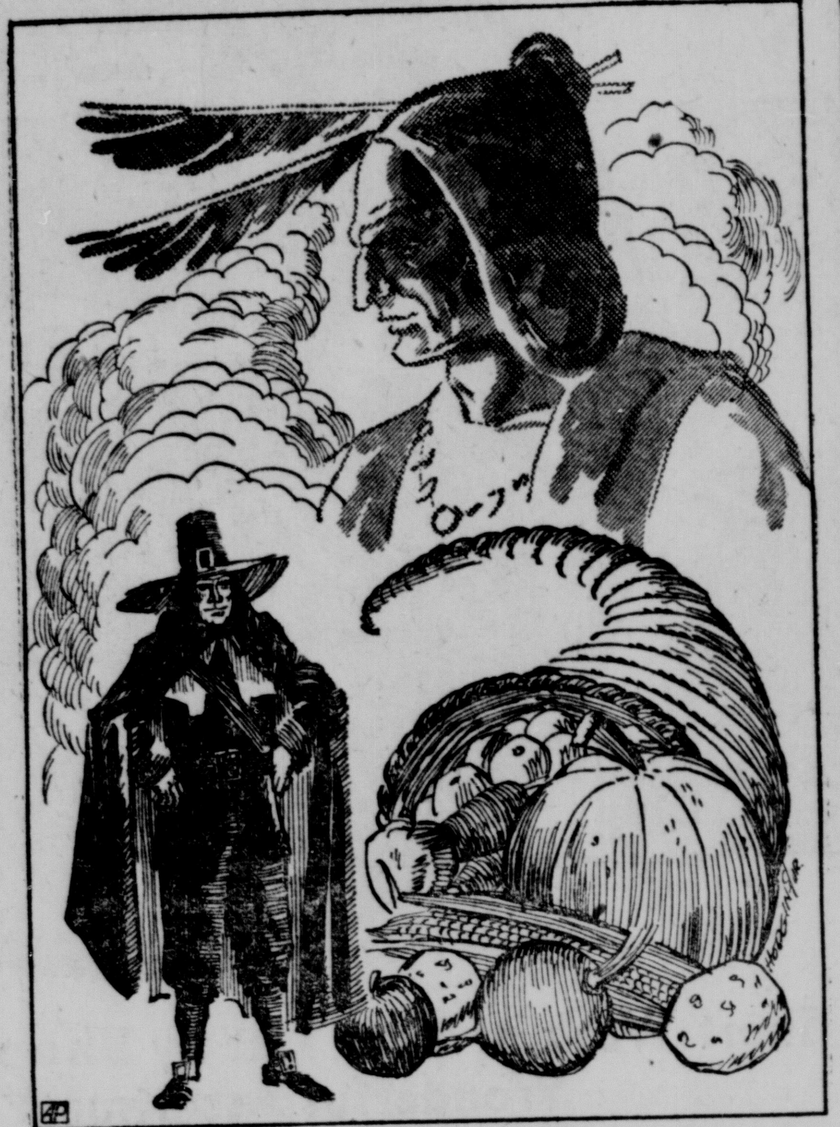
Thanksgiving's Forgotten Hero

Squanto Taught Pilgrims Planting



By FRANKIE SHARP
AP Newsfeatures

He was the Indian Saint of Plymouth and Gov. Bradford called him "a special instrument sent by God for their good beyond expectation" — but few people would recognize his name today.

Historians say that without him, there would have been no first Thanksgiving Day 337 years ago—for the Pilgrims would have had no crops to give thanks for.

But there are no towns named for him, no highways or bridges—only a lonely point on the Massachusetts coast and a dreary little side street in Plymouth.

He is the forgotten man of Thanksgiving.

He was Tisquantum, a Patuxet Indian whom the Pilgrims called Squanto.

Squanto was captured in 1605 by an English exploring party led by Capt. George Weymouth who wanted a souvenir of his trip to the New World.

The young Indian was taken back to England for exhibition as a curiosity. He was apparently well treated — although there is very little information on these years—and he was sent back to America in 1614 with Capt. John Smith.

Freedom was short.

One of Smith's ships was instructed to tarry in what is now Plymouth Harbor and trade with the Indians for fish and furs. When ready to depart, the captain lured some Indians on board, threw them in the hold and later sold them as slaves in Spain.

Squanto was one of the unfortunates. Luckily for him, he was bought by a kindly group of friars who treated him well and converted him to Christianity.

After several years, he escaped and made his way to England where kind-hearted men sent him back to America with Capt. Thomas Derner. He landed at Plymouth about six months before the Pilgrims. With two round trips to Europe behind him, he undoubtedly was the most traveled Indian in New England.

But homecoming this time was sad. Disease — probably measles or smallpox — had killed Squanto's entire family and tribe. He stayed with the neighboring Wampanoag tribe, also much weakened by disease. Several months after the Pilgrims landed, Squanto attached himself to the European colony.

If the little band of Englishmen had landed in territory held by a strong tribe of Indians, they would probably have been killed or driven off immediately.

But they happened upon the empty Patuxet lands. Then came Squanto, Governor Bradford's "special instrument sent by God," to show the Pilgrims how to plant the seed corn they had found hidden by a tribe on Cape Cod where they stopped before coming to Plymouth.

The Patuxet lands were old and not too fertile, but Squanto showed the Pilgrims how to plant the corn in properly spaced hillocks with three herrings in each to fertilize the plants.

Squanto showed his new friends how to hunt and fish in the strange woods, what crops were good to eat and how they could be grown and he acted as a tireless interpreter between the Pilgrims and neighboring Indians.

Squanto was the interpreter who negotiated the treaty with Massasoit — an important chief in the Massachusetts area. That treaty gave the Pilgrims peace and the opportunity to build their first little settlement into a thriving town. He died of an "Indian fever" about two years after the Pilgrims arrived.

Squanto's title of the Indian Saint of Plymouth was earned — not given. Those who could stick to the most stern regulations of the hard Pilgrim life were called Saints. Those families who did not quite measure up were known as Strangers.

Squanto, the one - time slave and captive, lived up to the most rigid rules . . . and earned his title of Saint.

Exciting Dolls Bring Joy To 'Little Moms'

The instinct of most little girls to play "grown-up" is catered to more than ever in the pack of toys that herald the approach of Santa.

Completely clothed with extra outfits available, these dolls reflect the newest Paris trends in silhouettes and accessories. Empire gowns are of course, the favored style.

This basic training in personal care is equaled only by the head start she receives in the profession of baby - sitting, provided by a kit containing pinless diapers, colic - proof nipples, a draft - proof doll carriage and a miniature bath-master.

All in all, it seems to be just a few steps from "play-pretend" to "for - real," with toys acting as her introduction to an adult world.

Carols Bring True Spirit Of Yule Season

What would Christmas be without carols?

How well they express both the joy and solemnity of Christmastide, when even the least musical among us is awakened to the spirit of the season through traditional songs.

"And suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, 'Glory to God in the Highest...' "

Beginning with this "first carol," as the years went by, each people and each nation contributed to the music of Christmas.

Traditional folk songs were set to music and passed by word of mouth from one generation to the next.

Other carols were the work of great writers and composers who found inspiration for their creative genius in the always-new story of Christmas.

Musicians such as Felix Mendelssohn, Friedrich Handel, and Franz Gruber composed some of our best known carols, while Martin Luther, Charles Wesley, Isaac Watts and Phillips Brooks are listed among the more famous of the lyric writers.

Carols are usually either religious or convivial. The religious carols are often included in church services, and hail the birth of the Holy Child. The convivial exalt the fun and festivities of the season.

Just about the best known and best loved Christmas Carol, "Silent Night" is comparatively recent, having been composed in the early 19th century by Franz Gruber and Fr. Joseph Mohr in Arnsdorf, Austria.

Very Familiar Words

SUFFOLK, Va. — "I thought I could make it back to the road by myself but I missed the track and got lost." The words were those of S.Sgt. Raymond Alley, found in Virginia's Dismal Swamp after being lost 24 hours on a deer hunt. He is one among many who have found the swamp baffling and required rescue.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Group Exercise Can Be Fun

Ida Jean Kain

A young mother who is reducing with her two duaghters has asked for streamlining exercises that can be taken family style. "Excellent! Studies continue to show that American children are growing weaker and flabbier every year. Modern living has brought on a muscular deficiency for both children and adults.

Our young mother needs exercise to banish the middle spread. Specific exercises which tone the girdle muscles are just the shape-ups needed by chubby little girls. The first exercise also serves the important purpose of counteracting the tendency toward sway-back.

POSITION: Lying on back on floor, knees flexed with soles of feet on floor. Arms are straight out from shoulders, elbows bent, and forearms back on floor, backs of hands on floor. In other words, each arm forms the letter L. This is a good shoulder straightener-outer.

Movement: First, pull up-and-in forcibly with the girdle muscles and get small of back smack against the floor. Hold this up-and-in pull for a slow count of ten, counting out loud so as not to hold breath. Repeat six times.

Now to progress: Flex right knee toward chest and circle with point of knee. Make sure the abdominal muscles get into the action and keep small of back against floor. Repeat 8 to 10 times, then circle with left knee point.

Movement: Using waist as a pivot, whirl around and bend to touch right fingers to outstretched left toes. Come back to position, whirl and touch left fingers to right toes. Throughout the exercise, pull up-and-in firmly.

The third exercise slims and supples the entire middle measurement. Position: Standing "tall" on knees, have arms out at sides, shoulder level.

All slimming bets are off if you crumple in the middle and let hips jut out rearward! Keep check on each other.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Ceremony Of Yule Log Helps Brighten Season

Remember those familiar scenes of men and horses pulling a freshly - cut log home over the snow from the forest?

It was the Yule log, destined for a Christmas fireplace. It lighted up the house with a cheery glow, turned night into day, and made the holiday festivities so much gayer.

This custom, which is still observed in many places, goes far back into pagan times, long before Christianity.

Our ancestors called it the Mid-Winter Fire Festival. It was held indoors because of the bad weather outside.

The Yule log, generally an oak tree, would be ceremoniously lighted from a fragment saved expressly for this purpose from the year before.

When the new log sent out its brilliant flames, it was believed that the house and family once again would be protected against lightning and fires; that the cattle and grain fields would thrive, and all the earth would be fertile.

Tips Are Offered For Turning Out Gay Place Cards

Place cards add a real party touch to your Christmas dinner. You don't have to expect a large crowd. They're fun to use, even for two.

Remove the ring from a tiny Christmas tree ball. Insert a small candle instead and print the name on the ball with paint or fingernail polish.

Paint large corks green and decorate them with beads and sequins. Blue or straight pins will do the trick. Spray with glitter and then set the large side down on top of a smaller brown cork and you have a Christmas tree to attach to name cards.

Stuff infant-size red socks so they will stand rather erect. Tie a ribbon and card to the sock and stand against the water tumblers.

Lesson For Whom?

HAMDEN, Conn. — Joseph Liscio was arrested on a complaint from his wife who told police he had "pushed her around." He pleaded guilty and was fined $9 for breach of the peace. When Liscio heard the fine, he turned to his wife and said: "Gimmie, please." Even the judge smiled as Mrs. Liscio opened her handbag and paid the fine.

Thanksgiving's Forgotten Hero

Squanto Taught Pilgrims Planting

By FRANKIE SHARP
AP Newsfeatures

He was the Indian Saint of Plymouth and Gov. Bradford called him "a special instrument sent by God for their good beyond expectation" — but few people would recognize his name today.

Historians say that without him, there would have been no first Thanksgiving Day 337 years ago— for the Pilgrims would have had no crops to give thanks for.

But there are no towns named for him, no highways or bridges— only a lonely point on the Massachusetts coast and a dreary little side street in Plymouth.

He is the forgotten man of Thanksgiving.

He was Tisquantum, a Patuxet Indian whom the Pilgrims called Squanto.

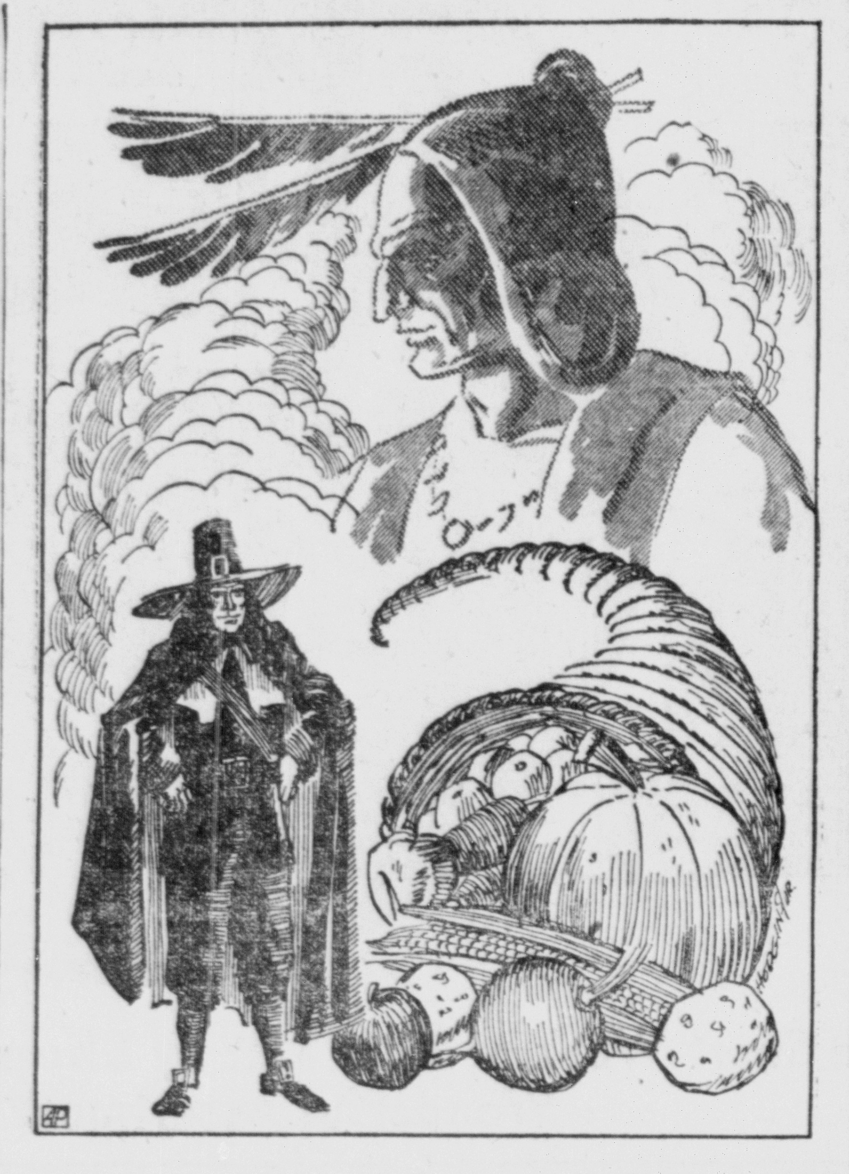
Squanto was captured in 1605 by an English exploring party led by Capt. George Weymouth who wanted a souvenir of his trip to the New World.

The young Indian was taken back to England for exhibition as a curiosity. He was apparently well treated — although there is very little information on these years— and he was sent back to America in 1614 with Capt. John Smith.

Freedom was short.

One of Smith's ships was instructed to tarry in what is now Plymouth Harbor and trade with the Indians for fish and furs. When ready to depart, the captain lured some Indians on board, threw them in the hold and later sold them as slaves in Spain.

Squanto was one of the unfortunates. Luckily for him, he was bought by a kindly group of friars who treated him well and converted him to Christianity.



After several years, he escaped and made his way to England where kind-hearted men sent him back to America with Capt. Thomas Derner. He landed at Plymouth about six months before the Pilgrims. With two round trips to Europe behind him, he undoubtedly was the most traveled Indian in New England.

But homecoming this time was sad. Disease — probably measles or smallpox — had killed Squanto's entire family and tribe. He stayed with the neighboring Wampanoag tribe, also much weakened by disease. Several months after the Pilgrims landed, Squanto attached himself to the European colony.

If the little band of Englishmen had landed in territory held by a strong tribe of Indians, they would probably have been killed or driven off immediately.

But they happened upon the empty Patuxet lands. Then came Squanto, Governor Bradford's "special instrument sent by God," to show the Pilgrims how to plant the seed corn they had found hidden by a tribe on Cape Cod where they stopped before coming to Plymouth.

The Patuxet lands were old and not too fertile, but Squanto showed the Pilgrims how to plant the corn in properly spaced hillocks with three herrings in each to fertilize the plants.

Squanto showed his new friends how to hunt and fish in the strange woods, what crops were good to eat and how they could be grown and he acted as a tireless interpreter between the Pilgrims and neighboring Indians.

Squanto was the interpreter who negotiated the treaty with Massasoit — an important chief in the Massachusetts area. That treaty gave the Pilgrims peace and the opportunity to build their first little settlement into a thriving town. He died of an "Indian fever" about two years after the Pilgrims arrived.

Squanto's title of the Indian Saint of Plymouth was earned — not given. Those who could stick to the most stern regulations of the hard Pilgrim life were called Saints. Those families who did not quite measure up were known as Strangers.

Squanto, the one - time slave and captive, lived up to the most rigid rules . . . and earned his title of Saint.

Exciting Dolls Bring Joy To 'Little Moms'

The instinct of most little girls to play "grown-up" is catered to more than ever in the pack of toys that herald the approach of Santa.

Completely clothed with extra outfits available, these dolls reflect the newest Paris trends in silhouettes and accessories. Empire gowns are of course, the favored style.

This basic training in personal care is equaled only by the head start she receives in the profession of baby - sitting, provided by a kit containing pinless diapers, colic - proof nipples, a draft - proof doll carriage and a miniature bath-master.

All in all, it seems to be just a few steps from "play-pretend" to "for - real," with toys acting as her introduction to an adult world.

Carols Bring True Spirit Of Yule Season

What would Christmas be without carols?

How well they express both the joy and solemnity of Christmastide, when even the least musical among us is awakened to the spirit of the season through traditional songs.

"And suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God and saying, 'Glory to God in the Highest...' "

Beginning with this "first carol," as the years went by, each people and each nation contributed to the music of Christmas.

Traditional folk songs were set to music and passed by word of mouth from one generation to the next.

Other carols were the work of great writers and composers who found inspiration for their creative genius in the always-new story of Christmas.

Musicians such as Felix Mendelssohn, Friedrich Handel, and Franz Gruber composed some of our best known carols, while Martin Luther, Charles Wesley, Isaac Watts and Phillips Brooks are listed among the more famous of the lyric writers.

Carols are usually either religious or convivial. The religious carols are often included in church services, and hail the birth of the Holy Child. The convivial exalt the fun and festivities of the season.

Just about the best known and best loved Christmas Carol, "Silent Night" is comparatively recent, having been composed in the early 19th century by Franz Gruber and Fr. Joseph Mohr in Arnsdorf, Austria.

Very Familiar Words

SUFFOLK, Va. — "I thought I could make it back to the road by myself but I missed the track and got lost." The words were those of S.Sgt. Raymond Alley, found in Virginia's Dismal Swamp after being lost 24 hours on a deer hunt. He is one among many who have found the swamp baffling and required rescue.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Group Exercise Can Be Fun

Ida Jean Kain

A young mother who is reducing with her two duaghters has asked for streamlining exercises that can be taken family style. "Excellent! Studies continue to show that American children are growing weaker and flabbier every year. Modern living has brought on a muscular deficiency for both children and adults.

Our young mother needs exercise to banish the middle spread. Specific exercises which tone the girdle muscles are just the shape-ups needed by chubby little girls. The first exercise also serves the important purpose of counteracting the tendency toward sway-back.

POSITION: Lying on back on floor, knees flexed with soles of feet on floor. Arms are straight out from shoulders, elbows bent, and forearms back on floor, backs of hands on floor. In other words, each arm forms the letter L. This is a good shoulder straightener-outer.

Movement: First, pull up-and-in forcibly with the girdle muscles and get small of back smack against the floor. Hold this up-and-in pull for a slow count of ten, counting out loud so as not to hold breath. Repeat six times.

Now to progress: Flex right knee toward chest and circle with point of knee. Make sure the abdominal muscles get into the action and keep small of back against floor. Repeat 8 to 10 times, then circle with left knee point.

Movement: Using waist as a pivot, whirl around and bend to touch right fingers to outstretched left toes. Come back to position, whirl and touch left fingers to right toes. Throughout the exercise, pull up-and-in firmly.

The third exercise slims and supples the entire middle measurement. Position: Standing "tall" on knees, have arms out at sides, shoulder level.

All slimming bets are off if you crumple in the middle and let hips jut out rearward! Keep check on each other.

Send a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled "Away With Middle Spread." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Ceremony Of Yule Log Helps Brighten Season

Remember those familiar scenes of men and horses pulling a freshly - cut log home over the snow from the forest?

It was the Yule log, destined for a Christmas fireplace. It lighted up the house with a cheery glow, turned night into day, and made the holiday festivities so much gayer.

This custom, which is still observed in many places, goes far back into pagan times, long before Christianity.

Our ancestors called it the Mid-Winter Fire Festival. It was held indoors because of the bad weather outside.

The Yule log, generally an oak tree, would be ceremoniously lighted from a fragment saved expressly for this purpose from the year before.

When the new log sent out its brilliant flames, it was believed that the house and family once again would be protected against lightning and fires; that the cattle and grain fields would thrive, and all the earth would be fertile.

Tips Are Offered For Turning Out Gay Place Cards

Place cards add a real party touch to your Christmas dinner. You don't have to expect a large crowd. They're fun to use, even for two.

Remove the ring from a tiny Christmas tree ball. Insert a small candle instead and print the name on the ball with paint or fingernail polish.

Paint large corks green and decorate them with beads and sequins. Blue or straight pins will do the trick. Spray with glitter and then set the large side down on top of a smaller brown cork and you have a Christmas tree to attach to name cards.

Stuff infant-size red socks so they will stand rather erect. Tie a ribbon and card to the sock and stand against the water tumblers.

Lesson For Whom?

HAMDEN, Conn. — Joseph Liscio was arrested on a complaint from his wife who told police he had "pushed her around." He pleaded guilty and was fined $9 for breach of the peace. When Liscio heard the fine, he turned to his wife and said: "Gimmie, please." Even the judge smiled as Mrs. Liscio opened her handbag and paid the fine.

Here Are Gift Thoughts For Teen-Agers

Somewhere on that gift list you have the name of a teenager.

Picking the "right" gift for him or her can be most perplexing and bewildering.

At this vulnerable age, boys and girls do not, as a rule, seek individuality. So selections have to be "exactly right."

High school crowds in different locales each have their own code of "fads," so it's a good idea to talk it over with someone in that age group before you go gift hunting.

To make the problem a little easier, here are some "basic" gift ideas that can't go wrong.

Swaeters — soft and cuddly or big and bulky are tops. And, get-together with another gift-giver and "present" her with a skirt to match.

Dances and proms are big events in the life of a teenager, so "formal" accessories such as an evening bag gloves, stole, or a jeweled sweater — score high!

Also good are: at-home pants, wash 'n' wear blouses, pajamas, robe or duster, lingerie . . . a car coat, sheer nylons, a light perfume, Chukka boots, a "date" dress . . . records (according to her taste) . . . or a cuddly French poodle (stuffed or real — according to your budget).

In jewelry: Creamy white pearls make a treasured gift — whether they are beautifully-faked, or precious cultured ones.

Compacts, purse accessories, personal leather items and luggage items — all are welcome gifts to the teen.

Last but not least, here's a tip for an unusual gift. If that teen-age girl has trouble with her hair and skin, give her a trip to a reputable beauty salon to have her hair styled, and perhaps get a few new ideas on make-up and complexion care.

They may range from science to sports — and the gift he'll go for is "something he can really use."

Lads of this age become increasingly conscious of their appearance.

Boy, 6, Was Plenty Busy At Square Dance

He made it.

Hazards Of Traffic Apply To Everyone

NORFOLK, Va. — It seems that traffic hazards apply to all. Here's what was in a 24-hour report here:

An out-of-town policeman was hurt in a collision.

A police accident investigator was injured in an accident en-route to the scene of an accident.

A police-hit-and-run investigator was the victim of a hit-and-run driver.

TURKEY TURNS THE TABLES. Turkey rancher Wayne Cornwell — the one with his head on the block — is thankful that the camera is only kidding. He hopes that turkey raising never will be this big a "pain in the neck" as this bird is about to give him the ax. Cornwell has 4,500 turkeys on his farm at Battle Creek, Mich. (UPI Telephoto)

2 Main Things To Be Thankful For

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thursday is Thanksgiving Day. And what do we have to be thankful for?

For two things, mainly:

1. That we're still alive at a time when the United States and the Soviet Union have enough atomic and hydrogen bombs to make the human race look like a piece of wrapping paper that was burned in an open field years ago.

2. That so long as there is no war we can go on hoping that war between the East and West, between the Communist and non-Communist world, can be postponed until in the end there will be no war.

But every year ahead — from one Thanksgiving Day till the next — will be an uneasy one.

Communism is a crusading belief, bent on capturing the world. The Western democracies have the task of building dikes against the tide, with aid and arms, hoping in the end their way of life will look more attractive.

It won't be easy. In the struggle between the two beliefs, the democracies may have to move further and further towards socialism, and communism further and further towards individual freedom.

In the end — if peace can be preserved — communism and capitalistic democracy may have lost so much of their original identity that they will have become something different from what either side imagines now, and almost identical.

The best reason for thinking so is that life itself — and life means both ideas and men's desire — is steadily undergoing change.

At this moment when the West is giving aid to more backward peoples — and still trying to balance its budget — it feels that it is doing the best it can. Years from now, if communism wins, the West may feel it did far less than enough.

Communism, both in China and in the Soviet Union, is straining its utmost to come abreast of and surpass the West in a matter of a few years. As an example: the recently announced Soviet economic plan.

The West has no reason to be self-satisfied. It's in a life and death struggle. Because it has led the world for centuries — in production and living standards — is no guarantee it can continue to do so.

What is unknown now, and seldom talked about, is the potential of the backward people, in Asia and Africa. That potential will become clearer when they get started on the road to the 20th century and begin to perform with the energy all men are capable of.

It is these people with the black and yellow skins who, when they begin to assert their potential, may change the course of history and the direction of both communism and capitalistic democracy.

One thing is sure: On this Thanksgiving eve the West, proud and self-assured for so long, cannot look into the future and be positive that on some future Thanksgiving Day it will be the winner.

Count on needing one cup of tart red jelly for an old-fashioned jelly roll when the sponge-cake batter is baked in a 15 by 10 inch pan.

Quick Family Gets Too Much Service

ENID, Okla. (AP) — Kenneth Quick and his family probably feel that all the service they have been getting is too much.

In a week's time some joker sent to their home: four typewriters: $10 worth of medicine; dairy products from two firms and a lawn mower.

They saw an advertisement in the newspaper offering their furniture for sale and dozens of calls have been made by dry cleaning pickup men, plumbers, television repairmen and cab companies.

Slick Thief Makes Steal Before His Eyes

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Wilton Wahl was fed up with the thief who was stealing archery equipment from his car. He planned an ambush.

First he put some bows and arrows in the front seat. Then he put his watchdog in the back seat. He then climbed to the roof of his house to get a clear view of the scene. Several hours passed but Wahl could see no burglar. He climbed down and found: His bows and arrows gone, his dog resting comfortably.

For two things, mainly:

1. That we're still alive at a time when the United States and the Soviet Union have enough atomic and hydrogen bombs to make the human race look like a piece of wrapping paper that was burned in an open field years ago.

2. That so long as there is no war we can go on hoping that war between the East and West, between the Communist and non-Communist world, can be postponed until in the end there will be no war.

But every year ahead — from one Thanksgiving Day till the next — will be an uneasy one.

Communism is a crusading belief, bent on capturing the world. The Western democracies have the task of building dikes against the tide, with aid and arms, hoping in the end their way of life will look more attractive.

It won't be easy. In the struggle between the two beliefs, the democracies may have to move further and further towards socialism, and communism further and further towards individual freedom.

In the end — if peace can be preserved — communism and capitalistic democracy may have lost so much of their original identity that they will have become something different from what either side imagines now, and almost identical.

The best reason for thinking so is that life itself — and life means both ideas and men's desire — is steadily undergoing change.

At this moment when the West is giving aid to more backward peoples — and still trying to balance its budget — it feels that it is doing the best it can. Years from now, if communism wins, the West may feel it did far less than enough.

Communism, both in China and in the Soviet Union, is straining its utmost to come abreast of and surpass the West in a matter of a few years. As an example: the recently announced Soviet economic plan.

The West has no reason to be self-satisfied. It's in a life and death struggle. Because it has led the world for centuries — in production and living standards — is no guarantee it can continue to do so.

What is unknown now, and seldom talked about, is the potential of the backward people, in Asia and Africa. That potential will become clearer when they get started on the road to the 20th century and begin to perform with the energy all men are capable of.

It is these people with the black and yellow skins who, when they begin to assert their potential, may change the course of history and the direction of both communism and capitalistic democracy.

One thing is sure: On this Thanksgiving eve the West, proud and self-assured for so long, cannot look into the future and be positive that on some future Thanksgiving Day it will be the winner.

Count on needing one cup of tart red jelly for an old-fashioned jelly roll when the sponge - cake batter is baked in a 15 by 10 inch pan.

Quick Family Gets Too Much Service

ENID, Okla. (AP)— Kenneth Quick and his family probably feel that all the service they have been getting is too much.

In a week's time some joker sent to their home: four typewriters: $10 worth of medicine; dairy products from two firms and a lawn mower.

They saw an advertisement in the newspaper offering their furniture for sale and dozens of calls have been made by dry cleaning pickup men, plumbers, television repairmen and cab companies.

Slick Thief Makes Steal Before His Eyes

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Wilton Wahl was fed up with the thief who was stealing archery equipment from his car. He planned an ambush.

First he put some bows and arrows in the front seat. Then he put his watchdog in the back seat. He then climbed to the roof of his house to get a clear view of the scene. Several hours passed but Wahl could see no burglar. He climbed down and found: His bows and arrows gone, his dog resting comfortably.

PERT SHOES, and handbags, complement latest fashions. While selecting, young woman wears thong sandals in aqua kid. Choices run (left to right) two-strap green polished leather sandal, open-toe wedge in pale blue, classic wedge with tapered toe, pointed-toe model in warm coral, to white slipper, medieval style in gold brushed leather or thong sandal. Handbags (inset) styled for trapeze include cherry red leather (left) or one in teal blue brushed leather.

Here Are Some 'Male-Pleasers'

A new Yuletide custom is for the entire family to chip in and buy their favorite male something big.

A handsome wool outerjacket is one gift, whether he's 16 or 60, that's really appreciated.

Even junior will be glad the folks gave him a good-looking melton cloth outerjacket with a warm wool shawl collar. It's smart and practical, just what boys and youths are wearing today.

Wool plaid outerjackets are the right gift for the out-of-doors man, too. Keep the hunter happy and warm in the new safety color—yellow—now being endorsed by hunting and safety clubs. Yellow wool hunting shirts, caps and outerjackets are shown, too.

For other warmly-welcome gifts, choose wool socks in either fancy designs or conservative sweaters, in gay solid colors to go with a checked or striped Shetland sports coat, or, comfortable wool slipper-socks for at-home ease.

Woll flannel slacks are new in pleatless types with back-strap and buckle, for young men.

The more mature look best in pleated trousers. But whatever the style, remember that all-wool slacks hold a sharp crease and wear best.

Wrinkle-and-crush-proof wool challis ties in striped and foulard patterns are popular and many can be bought with matching belts. Knitted wool ski caps are tops of course, for sportsmen.

A gift set of matching ski-patterned gloves or mittens and muffler in wool, provides warmth, helps prevent chills and lends a bright inexpensive note to the Christmas season. They're popular-priced, so kids can give them to each other.

High schoolers and collegians will write a very warm thank-you note if you gift them with a six-footer wool muffler in campus colors.

Youngsters Have Fun Preparing For Santa

AP Newsfeatures

Christmas plans require organization in the household. The first thing to do is to figure out ways to keep the youngsters busy to that they aren't underfoot during this season of frayed nerves and dwindling cash reserves.

Put them to work making Christmas gifts or decorating gift wrappings or making Christmas ornaments. A bowl of soap suds, opaque paint, and old boxes and juice cans can keep a young crew of potential noise makers on the silent beam for a good spell.

Large cereal or soap boxes, for instance, may be pressed into service as Christmas card holders. When finished you'll have Santa Claus going down a cardboard chimney.

First there is the paper work. A crayoned area of bricks is made on paper and then pasted over the cereal box that should be in a chimney shape. The top of the box should be removed of course. Santa's face may be drawn on another piece of paper and put on a piece of cardboard and pasted at the top of the "chimney". Santa Claus Christmas seals are good for that. If Santa's head is placed properly it should look like it is just peeking out of the chimney.

The chimney may be edged with a wide border of suds-snow. And do the children love to get into that! Give them a handful of packaged soap or detergent and a little water. Let them whip it with a hand or electric beater until it gets to a thick consistancy. It is applied with a wooden spoon or spatula, or fingered on. It will remain white and fresh for a good number of weeks, so the mail box may be made long before Junior or Sis' Christmas cards come rolling in.

A pencil holder may be made out of a frozen juice can. These are decorated with tempera-detergent paint, made by adding one teaspoon of soap or detergent to two or three teaspoons of paint.

This recipe is the answer to making the paint stick to shiny, waxed or metal surfaces. The little pencil holder may be painted in a green or sky blue background. Little fir trees may be daubed on with thick, pale green and white paint in the tempera - detergent mixture. Use a stiff brush.

Leather Gifts Are Suggested For Those With 'Everything'

Finding a gift for the people who seem to "have everything" is no problem this year, say the Luggage and Leather Goods Manufacturers of America.

A selection of distinctive and unusual items will be available to solve your problems.

For the man who smokes, what could be more perfect than a leather covered pipe? A similar guy might like a tobacco humidor in pigskin, shaped cans, sized exactly like a football, or a smaller cigaret box just like a basketball.

The convivial traveler will be delighted with a deluxe bar-in-a-suitcase which contains bottles, shaker, glasses and the necessary accoutrements for mixing.

If it's a relative who is family-minded, choose a perfect gift from among several photo albums labeled "My Grandchildren," "Family Reunions," or other titles for the unofficial collector of family records and events.

One puzzler on your list will enjoy a leather kit containing several decks of cards and pencils, plus score pads for his or her favorite card games; these come in sets of six or more.

Another complete game set will allow for many evenings of fun with checkers, chess, backgammon and many more, all in one handy case.

The executive on your list gets checked off when you see the desk accessories covered in polished leather, piped in gold.

There is a special gadget which holds his spectacles in an upright case, or a combination scissors and letter opener.

SWISS SWEATER pajamas are the newest addition to the sleep-warm scene. This style is created in flannelette of rich stained - glass colorings. The lightweight, but bulky - looking top suggests a hand-knit Swiss sweater.

IT'S A FAMILY AFFAIR. Little sister, teen-age brother and big sister, they are all dolls, and so is the little "mama" who is dressed just like a little doll! It's a new idea, "dress alikes," for doll and "mother." There is a variety of different patterns in girls' wear to match the dolls' ensembles. They are easy for true-to-life mothers to make for the little "mother." The Ginny, Jeff and Jan dolls shown here have extensive wardrobes, too.

Space Age Plays Important Part In New Toy World

From missile launching to space stations, the limitless future of our scientific age is re-produced in miniature for Christmas - giving.

It's the age of the junior scientist, and such subjects as chemistry, minerology, entomology, archeology, atomic energy, missile construction and ICBM launchings are featured in a variety of new play kits, designed to discover and develop the scientific aptitude of young Americans.

A space-station was designed by the noted scientist Werner Von Braun, and is an authentic replica of our projected bridge to outer space.

Those Who Like Music Will Enjoy Harmonica

Tiny tots will adore the simple, one - key, one - octave models, while advanced musicians will find a challenge in the harmonicas that can play 90 chromatic tones.

Perfect for young or old, the harmonica is one of the easiest instrument of all to learn to play.

Toyland Is Packed With New Thrills

America's 1958 toylands are geared to spark juvenile interest in science from toddlers on up.

Santa's billion - dollar pack will carry a record number of play kits slanted to instruct virtually every type of educational basic, according to the Toy Guidance Council.

Ready for gift - giving is a complete roundup of U. S. Army and Navy equipment for guided missile launching.

It ranges from kits for rocket buildings to miniatures of specially constructed trucks which transport the missiles at Cape Canaveral and working launching platforms. Some toy rocket ships anticipate the future with full - scale crews.

CONCERN over outer space is reflected in more toys aimed at basic astronomy. There is also a wealth of new scientific play kits on entomology, atomic energy, chemistry, minerology, electronics and electricity.

Even electric train sets are recruited to rocket work with special launching platform cars. Newest addition to realistic rolling stock is a car designed for disposing of atomic energy wastes.

It's a year of specialization in the automotive sector of toyland. In Toy Guidance Council's selection of prestige toys are a sportsman's convertible which pulls a trailer - mounted speedboat, a new model cattle transport, a pick-up truck, a tilt-top trailer, a cat-loading power tractor and a whole garage full of road - building equipment.

TOYLAND'S music will tootle in top volume. There's a roll harmonica which plays sharps and flats over two chromatic octaves with full-bodied organ tone.

Then there is the Wild West—smoking rifles (which actually shoot nothing but are strong on sound effects), midget pistols, fire bolt -guns and authentic models of Colts.

And on the kitchen range, homemaking play continues to evoke strong interest.

New model washing machines offer drying action, too, just like Mother's. Matched kitchen equipment in pastels tunes in with high-style adult trends for home decorations.

Housing developments in suburban areas have inspired varied building kits. New girder - panel building kits are slanted to construction of realistic highway bridges as well as skyscrapers.

And for those on the go, there is a roller skate wheel that makes it practical for the beginner to practice indoors as well as out.

Sale Of Candy Ideal Method For Young To Get Yule Money

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

A candy sale is an ideal way to raise Christmas money. Many young people find that a gaily wrapped box or jar of Christmas candy, jelly, cookies, fruit cake sells like hot cakes, putting money into the club treasury or their own bank account.

Before you start your candy or cookie-making, assemble some attractive, inexpensive containers. These may be found in variety stores, and make handsome gizmos. If they serve a dual purpose so much the better.

Small tins, foil pie and casserole pans all make attractive receptacles for your prize concoctions. The small apothecary jars, now reproduced inexpensively are especially interesting selling inducements. They may be used later for a number of things. A red ribbon bow completes that package to any purchaser's satisfaction.

Here are some recipes: Maybe you can pry an extra-special one loose from grandma, and that selling point labeled "family secret" will have impact on the buyer.

Caramel Fudge Drops: Mix 2-3 cup (small can) of evaporated milk with 1 2-3 cups of sugar and ½ teaspoon of salt in a saucepan over low heat. When fudge boils, cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Now add marshmallows, caramel chips, vanilla and pecans. You'll need about 1 ½ cups caramel chips, 1 teaspoon vanilla and ½ cup chopped pecans.

Fudge Rolls: Omit caramel chips and use semi-sweet chocolate chips instead. Omit pecans. Cool for 30 minutes. Divide into 4 portions. Shape into rolls. Chop ½ cup pecans very fine and coat fudge with it.

Almond Chiffon Squares: Sprinkle 3 tablespoons of gelatin on ½ cup of cold water in a large mixing bowl. Combine 2 cups of sugar, 2 tablespoons of light corn syrup, ¾ cup of water in a 2 quart sauce pan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until syrup reaches rolling boil. Boil for 5 minutes without stirring. Remove from heat Pour over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add ½ teaspoon vanilla and ½ teaspoon almond flavoring. Cool at room temperature to consistency of thick syrup (about 45 to 60 minutes). Stir occasionally. Pour ½ cup of ice water into a bowl. Add ½ cup instant dry milk crystals and whip until little soft peaks form (about 3 or 4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons of lemon or lime juice and whip until stiff (about 3 to 4 minutes). Beat into the gelatin mixture. Blend until the mixture is smooth. Pour into buttered 9-inch square pan. Chill 1 hour. Cut into 49 pieces, making 7 cuts on each side. Roll in almonds.

Diamond Will Add Sparkle To Gift Lists

Since ancient times the inner fire of a diamond has been likened to love.

As a ring on your finger, it is the traditional symbol signifying mutual devotion. And, nowadays, many families delight in showing their love for Mother and Grandmother by pooling finances in order to give them an impressive diamond gift.

Jewelry designers today have produced diamond pieces in just about every price scale to meet happily with purse and budget.

If you're buying for a lady who is sentimental, consider a heart motif as a locket of gold or platinum paved with diamonds or a cut-out heart framed in diamonds suspended on a necklace chain.

No rule exists to prevent a husband from placing a diamond engagement ring on his wife's finger even after years of marriage. Jewelers say many men do it.

Anniversary rings, too, are a memorable way of renewing the original promise to love and to cherish.

They come in a galaxy of delicate blossoms, swirling scrolls and refreshing modern designs; to be worn either on the fourth finger of the right hand or on the pinkie finger.

Why not visit a reliable jeweler and pre-select several pieces of jewelry well within your price range?

Then be prepared for a stir of excitement as you usher the lovely recipient into the jewelers to make her final choice from those you've already set aside. Remember, diamonds are dateless, to be worn a lifetime.

Holiday Table Decor Ideas

Bring out the evergreens, glittering tinsel and colored balls and make your Christmas table merry and bright for the holidays.

Here are some colorful, inexpensive table decoration ideas that are easy-to-make.

First of all, buy some gay red linen-weave material; hem, and use as a table colth.

Of course every table must have a centerpiece, and with your colored or white cloth, try one of these motifs.

An evergreen bough makes a wonderful base; add shimmering gold-sprayed pine cones, colored balls and candles, or put a ceramic Madonna or other Christmas figurine, in the center, and surround with pebbles of hard candy.

Fill a wicker cornucopia or a toy Santa and sleigh with sweets, ornaments and make-believe gifts.

Take two fancy candy dishes, place one on top of the other, cover with painted chicken wire, and decorate with balls.

Pins Play Their Part In Your Gift Hit Parade

Ideal matchmates for the big bulky knit sweaters are classic or jewelled bar pins, worn in pairs parallel to each other or in a staggered design.

Bright pin dazzlers also appear on the head, either fastened to a velvet hairband or worn in the hair itself.

Tree Can Be Trimmed With Cute 'Easter Eggs'

"Easter Eggs" on a Christmas tree?

Make them especially glittery and glamorous—and they are perfect on a miniature tree or a small piece of tree-shaped drift wood.

First paint brown hen's eggs and then trim with gold or silver braid, rick rack, sequins and jewels.

Designs can be painted on with oil or water base paint. Thread a small ribbon through with a needle that has been waxed and tie on to the tree with a bow. They're stunning!

THE PERFECT JEWEL for beneath the Christmas tree is this lovely set of massed and mobile jewelry. The multi-strand necklace of milky pearls has a moveable shower sparked by iridescent peacock stones. Wear it as you will for throat, shoulder or back accenting. The huge drop earrings are miniature showers of pearls and stones to match the necklace.

GOLDEN TOUCH. Wise Santas will "present" her with jewelry in such designs as this new 30" long, golden mesh rope with the elegant dangling golden tassel. Earrings and bracelets to match are available.

Silver Tray Service Will Serve Many Needs

A complete silver "tray wardrobe," the Jewelry Industry Council tells us, might include as many as 15 different types of trays.

The fact that someone special on your Christmas list already has a silver tray or two shouldn't deter you from presenting her with another, for there are scores of important uses to which different trays may be put to good use.

Serving trays are among the most beautiful and decorative examples of the silversmiths art, be they sterling or silver plate.

Choose them large or small, round or rectangular, deep or shallow. You'll find a variety for every purpose, every purse.

New Dressy Clothes Call For Jeweled Pins

Fashion is literally "pinpointed" this holiday season as new dressy clothes call for rich jeweled accents of pins in new and different places, the Fashion Coordination Institute reports.

Big new pins dripping with jewels score a bright fashion note worn smack in the bodice center of the new high - rising bustlines, while some pins pair off in twos and threes on sleeve cuffs, collars or at low - cut back lines.

Gold was discovered in California in 1848, nine days before Mexico ceded the territory to the United States.

Toyland Is Packed With New Thrills

America's 1958 toylands are geared to spark juvenile interest in science from toddlers on up.

Santa's billion - dollar pack will carry a record number of play kits slanted to instruct virtually every type of educational basic, according to the Toy Guidance Council.

Ready for gift - giving is a complete roundup of U. S. Army and Navy equipment for guided missile launching.

It ranges from kits for rocket buildings to miniatures of specially constructed trucks which transport the missiles at Cape Canaveral and working launching platforms. Some toy rocket ships anticipate the future with full - scale crews.

CONCERN over outer space is reflected in more toys aimed at basic astronomy. There is also a wealth of new scientific play kits on entomology, atomic energy, chemistry, minerology, electronics and electricity.

Even electric train sets are recruited to rocket work with special launching platform cars. Newest addition to realistic rolling stock is a car designed for disposing of atomic energy wastes.

It's a year of specialization in the automotive sector of toyland. In Toy Guidance Council's selection of prestige toys are a sportsman's convertible which pulls a trailer - mounted speedboat, a new model cattle transport, a pick-up truck, a tilt-top trailer, a cat-loading power tractor and a whole garage full of road - building equipment.

TOYLAND'S music will tootle in top volume. There's a roll harmonica which plays sharps and flats over two chromatic octaves with full-bodied organ tone.

Then there is the Wild West—smoking rifles (which actually shoot nothing but are strong on sound effects), midget pistols, fire bolt -guns and authentic models of Colts.

And on the kitchen range, homemaking play continues to evoke strong interest.

New model washing machines offer drying action, too, just like Mother's. Matched kitchen equipment in pastels tunes in with high-style adult trends for home decorations.

Housing developments in suburban areas have inspired varied building kits. New girder - panel building kits are slanted to construction of realistic highway bridges as well as skyscrapers.

And for those on the go, there is a roller skate wheel that makes it practical for the beginner to practice indoors as well as out.

GOLDEN TOUCH. Wise Santas will "present" her with jewelry in such designs as this new 30" long, golden mesh rope with the elegant dangling golden tassel. Earrings and bracelets to match are available.

Sale Of Candy Ideal Method For Young To Get Yule Money

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

A candy sale is an ideal way to raise Christmas money. Many young people find that a gaily wrapped box or jar of Christmas candy, jelly, cookies, fruit cake sells like hot cakes, putting money into the club treasury or their own bank account.

Before you start your candy or cookie-making, assemble some attractive, inexpensive containers. These may be found in variety stores, and make handsome gizmos. If they serve a dual purpose so much the better.

Small tins, foil pie and casserole pans all make attractive receptacles for your prize concoctions. The small apothecary jars, now reproduced inexpensively are especially interesting selling inducements. They may be used later for a number of things. A red ribbon bow completes that package to any purchaser's satisfaction.

Here are some recipes: Maybe you can pry an extra-special one loose from grandma, and that selling point labeled "family secret" will have impact on the buyer.

Caramel Fudge Drops: Mix 2-3 cup (small can) of evaporated milk with 1 2-3 cups of sugar and ½ teaspoon of salt in a saucepan over low heat. When fudge boils, cook 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Now add marshmallows, caramel chips, vanilla and pecans. You'll need about 1 ½ cups caramel chips, 1 teaspoon vanilla and ½ cup chopped pecans.

Fudge Rolls: Omit caramel chips and use semi-sweet chocolate chips instead. Omit pecans. Cool for 30 minutes. Divide into 4 portions. Shape into rolls. Chop ½ cup pecans very fine and coat fudge with it.

Almond Chiffon Squares: Sprinkle 3 tablespoons of gelatin on ½ cup of cold water in a large mixing bowl. Combine 2 cups of sugar, 2 tablespoons of light corn syrup, ¾ cup of water in a 2 quart sauce pan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until syrup reaches rolling boil. Boil for 5 minutes without stirring. Remove from heat Pour over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add ½ teaspoon vanilla and ½ teaspoon almond flavoring. Cool at room temperature to consistency of thick syrup (about 45 to 60 minutes). Stir occasionally. Pour ½ cup of ice water into a bowl. Add ½ cup instant dry milk crystals and whip until little soft peaks form (about 3 or 4 minutes). Add 2 tablespoons of lemon or lime juice and whip until stiff (about 3 to 4 minutes). Beat into the gelatin mixture. Blend until the mixture is smooth. Pour into buttered 9-inch square pan. Chill 1 hour. Cut into 49 pieces, making 7 cuts on each side. Roll in almonds.

Diamond Will Add Sparkle To Gift Lists

Since ancient times the inner fire of a diamond has been likened to love.

As a ring on your finger, it is the traditional symbol signifying mutual devotion. And, nowadays, many families delight in showing their love for Mother and Grandmother by pooling finances in order to give them an impressive diamond gift.

Jewelry designers today have produced diamond pieces in just about every price scale to meet happily with purse and budget.

If you're buying for a lady who is sentimental, consider a heart motif as a locket of gold or platinum paved with diamonds or a cut-out heart framed in diamonds suspended on a necklace chain.

No rule exists to prevent a husband from placing a diamond engagement ring on his wife's finger even after years of marriage. Jewelers say many men do it.

Anniversary rings, too, are a memorable way of renewing the original promise to love and to cherish.

They come in a galaxy of delicate blossoms, swirling scrolls and refreshing modern designs; to be worn either on the fourth finger of the right hand or on the pinkie finger.

Why not visit a reliable jeweler and pre-select several pieces of jewelry well within your price range?

Then be prepared for a stir of excitement as you usher the lovely recipient into the jewelers to make her final choice from those you've already set aside. Remember, diamonds are dateless, to be worn a lifetime.

Silver Tray Service Will Serve Many Needs

A complete silver "tray wardrobe," the Jewelry Industry Council tells us, might include as many as 15 different types of trays.

The fact that someone special on your Christmas list already has a silver tray or two shouldn't deter you from presenting her with another, for there are scores of important uses to which different trays may be put to good use.

Serving trays are among the most beautiful and decorative examples of the silversmiths art, be they sterling or silver plate.

Choose them large or small, round or rectangular, deep or shallow. You'll find a variety for every purpose, every purse.

New Dressy Clothes Call For Jeweled Pins

Fashion is literally "pinpointed" this holiday season as new dressy clothes call for rich jeweled accents of pins in new and different places, the Fashion Coordination Institute reports.

Big new pins dripping with jewels score a bright fashion note worn smack in the bodice center of the new high - rising bustlines, while some pins pair off in twos and threes on sleeve cuffs, collars or at low - cut back lines.

Gold was discovered in California in 1848, nine days before Mexico ceded the territory to the United States.

Holiday Table Decor Ideas

Bring out the evergreens, glittering tinsel and colored balls and make your Christmas table merry and bright for the holidays.

Here are some colorful, inexpensive table decoration ideas that are easy-to-make.

First of all, buy some gay red linen-weave material; hem, and use as a table colth.

Of course every table must have a centerpiece, and with your colored or white cloth, try one of these motifs.

An evergreen bough makes a wonderful base; add shimmering gold-sprayed pine cones, colored balls and candles, or put a ceramic Madonna or other Christmas figurine, in the center, and surround with pebbles of hard candy.

Fill a wicker cornucopia or a toy Santa and sleigh with sweets, ornaments and make-believe gifts.

Take two fancy candy dishes, place one on top of the other, cover with painted chicken wire, and decorate with balls.

Pins Play Their Part In Your Gift Hit Parade

Ideal matchmates for the big bulky knit sweaters are classic or jewelled bar pins, worn in pairs parallel to each other or in a staggered design.

Bright pin dazzlers also appear on the head, either fastened to a velvet hairband or worn in the hair itself.

Tree Can Be Trimmed With Cute 'Easter Eggs'

"Easter Eggs" on a Christmas tree?

Make them especially glittery and glamorous—and they are perfect on a miniature tree or a small piece of tree-shaped drift wood.

First paint brown hen's eggs and then trim with gold or silver braid, rick rack, sequins and jewels.

Designs can be painted on with oil or water base paint. Thread a small ribbon through with a needle that has been waxed and tie on to the tree with a bow. They're stunning!

THE PERFECT JEWEL for beneath the Christmas tree is this lovely set of massed and mobile jewelry. The multi-strand necklace of milky pearls has a moveable shower sparked by iridescent peacock stones. Wear it as you will for throat, shoulder or back accenting. The huge drop earrings are miniature showers of pearls and stones to match the necklace.

Poison For Mice

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — City sanitary inspector, John E. Pipes looked around a storage room at the city public health laboratory, which probably holds enough poison to kill thousands of rats. "What's that?" he asked, pointing to a can. "It's for poison," an attendant said. "We are having trouble with mice in here."

Shoes Will Please The Average Man

Such a gift is bound to be a sure hit because eight out of 10 men are short on shoes.

Seen most often in leathers with a fine grain, it comes in many variations of the slip-on style or in the two or three eyelet ties for both street and casual wear.

Any man would welcome a three-eyelet blucher in a highly polished smooth leather, detailed with the new inverted moc seams. This lighter-look seaming will be featured in a great many shoe styles.

For his casual attire, he'll be easy to please with hand - sewn moccasins or the popular ankle-high chukka boot in soft brushed leathers with flexible leather soles.

Christmas Card Display Opportunity For Ingenuity

If you are bored with the old routine way of displaying Christmas cards in your home, consider putting your ingenuity to work to make a Christmas card holder that may be stored away and used each year.

Take your choice of the long style, patterned after the lines of a butler's pull. Or create a Jolly Santa that will hold considerably more cards, and will liven up entrance or living room.

To make the Noel card holder cut a piece of felt 55 inches long, 5 inches wide. Make a stylized angel, transfering it to the felt. Cut 5 five-inch squares of felt. Decorate each of 5 squares with scattered stars. These will form the pockets for the cards. Make stars with the decorator attachment set for the icicle stitch. Form one complete stitch pattern.

At the last stitch, lift the presser bar, pivot the fabric slightly, lowever the presser bar and make another complete stitch pattern. Continue until a star is formed. Paste a colored stone in the center of each to add a touch of holiday sparkle.

Baste pockets one above the other on the outline of the angel, starting at the bottom. Use under or top braider to stitch outline of the angel using gold soutache braid. This stitching should hold the pockets in place. Put a couple of button holders at the top of the felt after burning the top down about an inch. Run soutache gold through it and tie in bow. If the holder needs more body, put a strip of buckram, wire or a pencil at the top to hold in shape.

A free-form Santa doesn't need a pattern. A large circle can form the body, a smaller circle placed on top forms the head. The arms are two "bumps" drawn on either side of the circle. A cap is placed on the top circle and two boots extend at angles at the bottom. Red felt goes to body and cap, black is good for boots and belt, pink felt is for the face, and odd scraps of colored felt may be used for eyes, nose and mouth. His beard, cap and boot edging, and tassel are made of white outing flannel.

Cut a piece of red felt that is the size of half of the body circle. Trim the top edge in a moon shape. Cut a 1-inch wide piece of black felt to fit this edge and baste into place to form belt. Now place a piece of tarlatan or other heavy backing in back of this pocket section.

Set decorator attachment to arrowhead stitch, making a line of stitching down the center of the belt section, following the line of the belt. Make two lines of stitching on either side of this with the "blind stitch pattern of the automatic decorator. Using this same combination of stitches, make 3 vertical design lines in the center of the large circle in same pattern stitch.

This pocket section may now be placed on Santa's body by basting it. Applique body, head, cap and boots on to a piece of heavy backing material. Zigzag eyes, nose, mouth and moustache on to head. Cut white outing flannel into 1½ inch strips. Hem both edges with narrow hemmer. Place strips between two blades of the ruffler so stitching will be in center of strip, and gather.

Stitch finished ruffles in rows to fill in beard, at top of boots, and around cap. Form tassel from remaining ruffles. Bend a wire hanger to go across Santa's back and extend up into the head portion. Hand tack into palce. This helps to keep Santa sturdy. Tie a ribbon to the top of the hanger.

NOEL CARD HOLDER. Slim model for conservative types.

Do You Need A Fireplace For Christmas Stockings?

It's simple. Build yourself a bookcase. It doesn't make any difference whether the bookcase is built into the wall or free-standing or what the size is.

The key is to make the shelf or shelves removable for converting into a simulated fireplace, according to the Western Pine Association.

Incorporate the bookcase-fireplace idea into a paneling or wainscoting project or add it where the walls are already paneled.

One homeowner who felt the lack of a fireplace every Christmas decided to install wainscoting in a room.

He gave a custom look and utility to the job by constructing a bookcase as a part of the wainscoting at an inconvenient abutment in the room.

Construction materials for a fireplace insert include plastic brick facing, a wood box of the appropriate size for the firebox of the fireplace, and some half-inch thick lumber for the frame.

Dimensions depend upon the size of the bookcase. But it's a good idea to figure out first the size of the plastic brick and to construct the frame so that the bricks will not have a chopped up appearance.

In this case, the frame around the firebox was made the width of one full brick and the space above equal to four layers of bricks.

Strips of one-by-two-inch lumber reinforced the corners where the wood facing joined the box. To fasten plastic brick onto the wood frame, a tacking stapler was used. But glue or nails are suitable.

No matter what color of plastic brick is used, it's a good idea to paint the back of the indented firebox a sooty black.

Troublesome Animals

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The debut of Richmond's permanent wildlife exhibit in Maymont Park was a bit inauspicious. A gray fox escaped, two wild geese wandered away for a couple of hours and City Manager Horace Edwards was bitten twice on the hand by a skunk.

These Gifts Will Ring Bell For The Belle

Topping skirts, slipped over sheaths or used as mini - wraps over cocktail and evening outfits, these cover-ups are available in "everyday" or evening fabric from rich brocades to bright woolens and plushy mohairs.

Knit toppings make fresh news in nubby - textured wools and straight-as-a-die, long-line orlons; coat-sweaters that turn casual separates into city-bound ensembles are favored, too.

'Overindulgence' Can Put Damper On Holiday Fetes

A steady hand and strong heart to push away that "one for the road" and that second helping are the best defenses against hang-over, hiccups and upset stomach.

Physicians explain that a drink may aid relaxation and release of tension. Many drinks, however, will blur good feelings—for alcohol is a depressant on the nervous system.

The body is able to dispose of one ounce of whisky per hour. After three ounces in an hour, inhibitions are weakened and judgment blunted, depending on individual reactions. After six hookers the alcohol in the bloodstream staggers motion and slurs speech.

The process is slowed when there is food in the stomach; accelerated, it is said, when the drink is carbonated, like champagne.

Too much food, though hard to avoid at Christmas dinner, can bring on that heavy, uncomfortable feeling commonly recognized as dyspepsia.

There is a new antacid for relief from heart-burn and it need not be chewed, thereby eliminating the chalky taste. A carbonated soft drink also will ease that heavy stomach feeling.

Hiccups? Two physicians of Boston's Lahey Clinic report that most old wives' remedies for curing simple hiccups are effective. Blowing into a paper bag, being frightened or pressing on the eyeballs set up counter irritations and really work.

CHEERY FIREPLACE matches the season's mood. And gift wrapping is fun, especially for the person who means most on a Christmas list. This portable television model is slim enough to fit on a bookshelf.

Most New Games Are Tailored For The Whole Family

The trend toward flexible rules makes it easier than ever for different age groups to participate on equal terms.

Continuing in popularity is "Rack-O," a numbered card game played with racks. "Go To The Head Of the Class," a take off on TV quiz shows, comes in a new edition that caters to the knowledge of three different age levels.

SCANDIA SPORTS cardigan is the style that's fast "copping" the casual scene. This one is in three - dimensional knit with a truly bulky look. It combines soft, fleecy lambswool and iron-strength Orlon, amazingly warm yet light in weight. Imported metal buttons and two-tone trim set it off.

Set decorator attachment to arrowhead stitch, making a line of stitching down the center of the belt section, following the line of the belt. Make two lines of stitching on either side of this with the "blind stitch pattern of the automatic decorator. Using this same combination of stitches, make 3 vertical design lines in the center of the large circle in same pattern stitch.

This pocket section may now be placed on Santa's body by basting it. Applique body, head, cap and boots on to a piece of heavy backing material. Zigzag eyes, nose, mouth and moustache on to head. Cut white outing flannel into 1½ inch strips. Hem both edges with narrow hemmer. Place strips between two blades of the ruffler so stitching will be in center of strip, and gather.

Stitch finished ruffles in rows to fill in beard, at top of boots, and around cap. Form tassel from remaining ruffles. Bend a wire hanger to go across Santa's back and extend up into the head portion. Hand tack into palce. This helps to keep Santa sturdy. Tie a ribbon to the top of the hanger.

Do You Need A Fireplace For Christmas Stockings?

It's simple. Build yourself a bookcase. It doesn't make any difference whether the bookcase is built into the wall or free-standing or what the size is.

The key is to make the shelf or shelves removable for converting into a simulated fireplace, according to the Western Pine Association.

He gave a custom look and utility to the job by constructing a bookcase as a part of the wainscoting at an inconvenient abutment in the room.

Construction materials for a fireplace insert include plastic brick facing, a wood box of the appropriate size for the firebox of the fireplace, and some half-inch thick lumber for the frame.

Dimensions depend upon the size of the bookcase. But it's a good idea to figure out first the size of the plastic brick and to construct the frame so that the bricks will not have a chopped up appearance.

In this case, the frame around the firebox was made the width of one full brick and the space above equal to four layers of bricks.

Strips of one-by-two-inch lumber reinforced the corners where the wood facing joined the box. To fasten plastic brick onto the wood frame, a tacking stapler was used. But glue or nails are suitable.

Troublesome Animals

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The debut of Richmond's permanent wildlife exhibit in Maymont Park was a bit inauspicious. A gray fox escaped, two wild geese wandered away for a couple of hours and City Manager Horace Edwards was bitten twice on the hand by a skunk.

These Gifts Will Ring Bell For The Belle

A wonderful gift for the style-conscious are the newest costume cover-ups, loose-lined jackets artfully designed to overlook the waist and snuggled to a controlled stop at the hips.

In varied shapes, sizes and colors, they are created to turn any outfit into a high-fashion costume.

Topping skirts, slipped over sheaths or used as mini - wraps over cocktail and evening outfits, these cover-ups are available in "everyday" or evening fabric from rich brocades to bright woolens and plushy mohairs.

The newest casual jerkins are longer and unfitted, while the shortened jacket style is frequently self-belted at the hipline.

'Overindulgence' Can Put Damper On Holiday Fetes

Too much of a good thing, food or drink, can easily dampen the high spirits of the holiday season.

A steady hand and strong heart to push away that "one for the road" and that second helping are the best defenses against hangover, hiccups and upset stomach.

Physicians explain that a drink may aid relaxation and release of tension. Many drinks, however, will blur good feelings—for alcohol is a depressant on the nervous system.

The body is able to dispose of one ounce of whisky per hour. After three ounces in an hour, inhibitions are weakened and judgment blunted, depending on individual reactions. After six hookers the alcohol in the bloodstream staggers motion and slurs speech.

The process is slowed when there is food in the stomach; accelerated, it is said, when the drink is carbonated, like champagne.

Too much food, though hard to avoid at Christmas dinner, can bring on that heavy, uncomfortable feeling commonly recognized as dyspepsia.

To calm the digestive upset, the first step is to get rid of excess acid.

There is a new antacid for relief from heart-burn and it need not be chewed, thereby eliminating the chalky taste. A carbonated soft drink also will ease that heavy stomach feeling.

Hiccups? Two physicians of Boston's Lahey Clinic report that most old wives' remedies for curing simple hiccups are effective. Blowing into a paper bag, being frightened or pressing on the eyeballs set up counter irritations and really work.

CHEERY FIREPLACE matches the season's mood. And gift wrapping is fun, especially for the person who means most on a Christmas list. This portable television model is slim enough to fit on a bookshelf.

Most New Games Are Tailored For The Whole Family

It was once a standing family joke that Junior's model trains were really purchased for Dad.

Today, with Christmas almost upon us again, it bceomes more and more apparent that the latest children's games are really designed for family fun.

The trend toward flexible rules makes it easier than ever for different age groups to participate on equal terms.

"Name That Tune," a form of musical bingo is the first game to base the play on a phonograph record. Ten can play, and probably will.

Continuing in popularity is "Rack-O," a numbered card game played with racks. "Go To The Head Of the Class," a take off on TV quiz shows, comes in a new edition that caters to the knowledge of three different age levels.

From 6 to 60, everyone plays games this Christmas.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Child Must Be Taught He Can't Always Win

By Garry Meyers

You know the adult who, at a game of cards, can't bear to lose several times in succession. He may complain that he never gets good cards or he may say nasty things about others in the game. I once knew a woman who, after losing several bids or being unable to bid for a long while, insisted on changing her seat with her partner. Such persons were probably like that in childhood.

WHEN OUR eldest son was around 8 or 9, he and his younger sister used to play card games for hours. More often than not he won, but she would cheerfully keep on playing.

After a year or so, they began to play a foursome game with us parents, and she caught on pretty well. After he and his partner lost a few times, he began to complain and weep and even run away from the group.

It was only with considerable persuasion that we were able to keep him playing. But he gradually gained in skill and by and by became a very good sport at games.

This problem may arise early with some children. Unless they have long and skillful guidance, they may not soon recover, if ever.

And we need to remember that it may take a long, long time and a lot of practice in many situations to transform a child who is a poor sport into a good one.

"My husband and I have just given our boy his seventh birthday party. What a time we had!

"We first had the ten children play 'Musical Chairs.' When our son was left without a chair, he raised a great fuss. We tried to explain the game, but he cried and wouldn't listen.

"ANOTHER game was played and the same thing happened. He said the other children weren't playing right. He even went to the bedroom and had a good cry.

"After the party, my husband talked very kindly to the boy and explained that he should not always expect to win, but must try to be a good sport. However, he insisted it was his party and he should win. We told him we were not going to give him any more parties if he continued to act that way."

This was my reply, in part:

Instead of threatening him with no more parties, work on this problem over weeks and months in the family. Aim to have him practice in contests in which he is watched, so that he will learn from experience not to expect to win more often than he loses.

Parents of younger children should begin on this problem early.

My bulletins, "The Very Selfish Child" and "Your Child And His Playmates," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

'Heavyweight' Loses

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — William Jenkins, a sea cook taken off his ship with a cargo boom when he became ill, is ready for the sea again although he has lost weight. Jenkins, down from a top of 537 pounds to 456, says a group of doctors who wanted to know why he weighed so much concluded that he lived too near a grocery store.

She Enjoyed Exhibit

A Good Book Can Help Ease Gift Problems

Books hold the answer to just about every practical or esthetic problem we can encounter — and at Christmas time, books are definitely the answer for the "have everything" or "difficult to please" on our list.

Whether selected for reading pleasure or reference, you'll find just the book to suit every taste, preference and interest on the shelves of your local book shop.

Family groups will appreciate a beautifully bound Bible. Dictionaries and works of reference are also fine family gifts which will be used constantly.

For the hobbyist, you'll find complete volumes on every subject from astronomy to zoology, including gardening, cooking, sewing, decorating, "how-to" subjects, and all the sports.

There's a host of informative books for the arm-chair traveler, which will transport him mentally to every far-away place he's ever dreamed of.

Books for children cater to every youthful interest, from the love of adventure to their eagerness to learn.

From books they can learn in a practical manner just what it takes to be a doctor, jet pilot, atomic scientist or whatever else they are interested in becoming.

It's plain to see, that whatever their age, a good book can still be the perfect answer to "what to give so-and-so."

Rolling Blaze

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Ronald Chappel of Ramey Air Force Base, Puerto Rico, had unexpected trouble when his car caught fire in a parking lot on the outskirts of Tucson. The city fire department couldn't help because the auto was out of the city limits. Chappel and some friends solved the problem by pushing the blazing vehicle across the city limit line. The fire department quickly extinguished the flames.

More Dock Space Set

VANCOUVER (AP) — The first stage has been completed of a new deep-sea dock and warehouse project in Burrard Inlet. The complete work will include two deep-sea berths and two berths for coastal ships.

The first school in what is now the United States was established by the Dutch West Indies Company in 1633 on Manhattan Island. It still continues as the Collegiate School.

Well Stocked Library

ST. MARYS, Ont. (AP) — Downie Township farmer David J. Worden has plenty to read. He acquired between 50,000 and 70,000 books, the property of his father who ran a bookstore in Toronto. Worden plans to catalogue the volumes.

If you are planning to brown flour before using it in making gravy, remember that it will have about half the thickening power of unbrowned flour.

Some 'Auto Buy' Gift Hints

The person who's proud of his auto will be delighted to receive a gift along the motoring line. And the array of items to choose from is extra large.

Quite inexpensive, novel and nice are packs that attach to the visor and hold glasses, cigarettes, tissues, etc., all within easy reach, or a tissue dispenser to be placed under the dashboard, along with trays to make snacking in the car more convenient.

The whirling car - washing - brush that attaches to a regular garden hose is the first consideration. But how about a water bucket filled with jars and cans of cleaners and waxes, scrub brushes, a full - skinned oil-tanned chamois, and a can of spray - on touch-up enamel for those tiny scrapes and nicks on the car.

White rubber tire sidewall disks can be bought to slip on right over regular black tires.

And, if he must leave the car parked on the street for any length of time, a locking gas tank cap could save money and inconvenience.

Food Gifts Are Welcome

It's the gift that's bound to please those "hard to - please" on your list.

Best of all food gifts can fit any purse. Whether it's $1 for a gaily - decorated box of snacks or $50 for a luxurious basket, you'll find food gifts to fit.

THE FLAVOR of home - made plum pudding, fruit cake, cookies, candies or relishes is unequaled; gaily wrapped and tied, it makes a gift hard to duplicate at any price.

Most of us will look to the local shops and markets for a tremendous array of every type of food gift.

Whether they're 6 or 60, you can always delight with a gift of candy. Chocolates, hard mixes, fruit centers, mints and nuts, in individual boxes or assortments, will hit the spot with all goodie-lovers.

Delicious cakes and cookies ranging from traditional fruit cake and pfeffernusse cookies to tins and boxes chock - full of other holiday goodies also make tasty gifts.

A WIDE variety of gifts is available for the lover of fine foods, including exotic cheese assortments, and packs with a selection of imported and domestic spreads, crackers, olives, and cocktail tidbits.

A delightful extra gift can be any one of a number of jam and jelly packages. These come in sets of 2, 3, and right up to a dozen and include every type of fruit preserve.

Out - of - season fruits are always something extra special, whether packaged in a huge, fancy basket or in a simple crate.

And did you ever think of a ham, turkey, duck or goose as a Christmas gift? Oven - ready or smoked, these are real treats in their bright wrappings.

Hanging Toys On Crib Can Harm Baby's Eyes

WINNIPEG (AP) — A visual training expert warns parents not to hang toys directly over a baby's crib.

Dr. Leo Manas, head of visual training at the Illinois College of Optometry, told a public meeting here that "the percentage of cases of eyes 'turning in' is much greater now than it was 20 years ago — and I'm convinced it's partly because of these toys."

If one of the child's eyes turns in, Dr. Manas said, parents should always hand him objects from the side. If the eyes turn out, toys or other objects should be directed straight to the child.

He said the method — phonics or sigh recognition — is not important.

"The main thing is to get Johnny to read," he said. And this depends on the child's basic visual skills, along with such things as balance and co-ordination. symbols."

To test a child's visual skills, Dr. Manas said, teachers could use a series of simple tests, the results of which have shown a high correlation to school achievement.

For instance, he said, the teach- "A chimpanzee has 20-20 vision but he can't read. Man is the only animal who can manipulate er might hold up red and blue pencils, one in each hand, and tell the child to look alternately from one to the other. New Transitor Clocks Novel Decorator Item

There is something new under the sun.

A brand new selection of high-fashion, cordless transistor clocks that operate for a full year on two ordinary flashlight batteries.

This is the ideal gift for the hard-to-please, or that rare person who up to now has had everything.

Traditional and the newest contemporary models complement any decor. And, with no ugly cords to dangle, they can be used on wall or mantel with equal effectiveness.

Make double batches of spaghetti sauce and chicken a la king and store one batch of each dish in your freezer.

Here Are Suggestions On A 'Scents-ible' Gift

How often have you heard the men in the family balk over the after-shave lotions and colognes they have received at Christmas.

Too often well - meaning friends select what they like and forget a man's personal preference in fragrances.

First of all, a man generally likes a light scent, with emphasis on woodsy, spicy or tweedy bouquets.

No matter how wonderful the scent, or how smart the bottle, if it doesn't strike him the right way, he'll never use it.

Here's Gift Suggestion For Keeping Tots Busy

But unlike the dough the baker uses, PlayDoh will not stain furniture, rugs or clothing if a bit of the compound falls from the fingers of small fry. And it won't stain hands. The dough also stays soft in its air-tight container when not in use.

Also fascinating to young artists is that it comes in a variety of colors.

Some 'Auto Buy' Gift Hints

The person who's proud of his auto will be delighted to receive a gift along the motoring line. And the array of items to choose from is extra large.

Quite inexpensive, novel and nice are packs that attach to the visor and hold glasses, cigarettes, tissues, etc., all within easy reach, or a tissue dispenser to be placed under the dashboard, along with trays to make snacking in the car more convenient.

Because he is proud of the auto, spruce up gifts are always better than good.

The whirling car-washing-brush that attaches to a regular garden hose is the first consideration. But how about a water bucket filled with jars and cans of cleaners and waxes, scrub brushes, a full-skinned oil-tanned chamois, and a can of spray-on touch-up enamel for those tiny scrapes and nicks on the car.

White rubber tire sidewall disks can be bought to slip on right over regular black tires.

An electric shaver adapter and a radio are two more gifts the moving motorist will go for.

And, if he must leave the car parked on the street for any length of time, a locking gas tank cap could save money and inconvenience.

Food Gifts Are Welcome

Gifts of food have a universal, unique and colorful appeal.

It's the gift that's bound to please those "hard-to-please" on your list.

Best of all food gifts can fit any purse. Whether it's $1 for a gaily-decorated box of snacks or $50 for a luxurious basket, you'll find food gifts to fit.

THE FLAVOR of home-made plum pudding, fruit cake, cookies, candies or relishes is unequaled; gaily wrapped and tied, it makes a gift hard to duplicate at any price.

Most of us will look to the local shops and markets for a tremendous array of every type of food gift.

Whether they're 6 or 60, you can always delight with a gift of candy. Chocolates, hard mixes, fruit centers, mints and nuts, in individual boxes or assortments, will hit the spot with all goodie-lovers.

Delicious cakes and cookies ranging from traditional fruit cake and pfeffernusse cookies to tins and boxes chock-full of other holiday goodies also make tasty gifts.

A WIDE variety of gifts is available for the lover of fine foods, including exotic cheese assortments, and packs with a selection of imported and domestic spreads, crackers, olives, and cocktail tidbits.

A delightful extra gift can be any one of a number of jam and jelly packages. These come in sets of 2, 3, and right up to a dozen and include every type of fruit preserve.

Out-of-season fruits are always something extra special, whether packaged in a huge, fancy basket or in a simple crate.

And did you ever think of a ham, turkey, duck or goose as a Christmas gift? Oven-ready or smoked, these are real treats in their bright wrappings.

Hanging Toys On Crib Can Harm Baby's Eyes

WINNIPEG (AP) — A visual training expert warns parents not to hang toys directly over a baby's crib.

Dr. Leo Manas, head of visual training at the Illinois College of Optometry, told a public meeting here that "the percentage of cases of eyes 'turning in' is much greater now than it was 20 years ago — and I'm convinced it's partly because of these toys."

If one of the child's eyes turns in, Dr. Manas said, parents should always hand him objects from the side. If the eyes turn out, toys or other objects should be directed straight to the child.

Dr. Manas made his remarks during an address on teaching children to read.

He said the method — phonics or sigh recognition — is not important.

"The main thing is to get Johnny to read," he said. And this depends on the child's basic visual skills, along with such things as balance and co-ordination. symbols."

To test a child's visual skills, Dr. Manas said, teachers could use a series of simple tests, the results of which have shown a high correlation to school achievement.

For instance, he said, the teach- "A chimpanzee has 20-20 vision but he can't read. Man is the only animal who can manipulate er might hold up red and blue pencils, one in each hand, and tell the child to look alternately from one to the other. The child's eyes might move smoothly from one to the other, or fall short of the mark, or go beyond.

Dr. Manas said his would indicate how the child's eyes would travel when he is reading.

Christmas Is 'Wired' For Excitement

Here, according to Montgomery Ferar of the industrial - design firm of Sundberg - Ferar, are some of the newer features to look for in these types of presents.

Radios — Cordless, portable transistor models are not only light, compact and sturdy, but newest models have their own plug - in stands to rest on. These automatically recharge the batteries whenever the set is not in use.

Television — New slimline sets with 110-degree picture tubes snuggle against the wall, resemble a framed portrait rather than a chest of drawers. For the first time are truly portable.

Hi-Fi—Latest stereophonic tape and record players put you right in the same room with the orchestra. Latest wrinkle is a cartridge - playing stereophonic tape machine. It automatically reverses itself, offers all of the hi-fidelity advantages with none of its inconvenience.

Since they are used separately, these sets of appliances come with but a single cord and thermostatic control dial for economy and convenience. Intended for dining - room use rather than the kitchen, latest models have been designed to harmonize with a hostess' fine silver.

These are square instead of round to provide maximum cooking area. Some of the newer friers also have glass tops.

"Blown cold" is the latest advance in refrigerators. It eliminates defrosting and provides exactly the right temperature for storing each different kind of food.

For the home that "has everything," why not select one of the new under-the-counter automatic ice-cube makers?

This clever device freezes 30 pounds of ice cubes at a time, shucks them into a storage con tainer, ready for instant use.

If You Want Gift That Clicks, Try Photographic Equipment

Anyone fortunate enough to number a "shutter-bug" among friends or family, knows that starting well before Dec. 25 and extending through all the holiday festivities, the click of his camera will record every moment of this wonderfully gay season.

There will be a permanent record of every family gathering, every thrilling moment, in movies or stills that will bring these gay occasions vividly alive, years afterward.

What better way to thrill him than with the gift of a camera or accessory. Both he and you will derive lasting satisfaction from a gift.

Family movies are no longer a technical mystery, with wonderfully inexpensive 8-millimeter movie cameras that are so simple to operate even a beginner can obtain fine results.

Accessories and projec-ed, and also make "oh-and-ah" tion screens are moderately pric- gifts for the picture-taker.

If your favorite photo-fiend already has a camera, consider a good supply of film, either color or black and white, a dark room and enlarging outfit, a projection screen or projector. Even the one who has everything will welcome a stereo kit and viewer.

To thrill the experienced, you can't go wrong with an editing and splicing outfit, which will give a professional touch to his home movies and make them so much more interesting.

AT HOME ELEGANCE in chic black velvet leisure pajamas! They're perfectly beautiful and long wearing, too, because they're made of Chemstrand nylon which resists shine and keeps its lush pile. It's the perfect gift for gals.

Gifts For The Gardener Signify Spring's Ahead

A gift - wrapped azalea, laden with buds, will decorate a home all during the holidays. Choose one in white, rose or Christmas red. Next May, the gardener can plant it outside to be enjoyed for a long time.

Get That Rooster!

MAYNE ISLAND, B. C. (AP) — In the fall fair here bantam fowl were substituted for sheep in sheepdog trials, after the sheep bolted on their way to the event. Confused at first, the dogs did an excellent roundup job on the fowl.

RUGGED AND handsome, just perfect for Pop, is this tweed surcoat. The lavish pile fabric lining is made of "Verel," the Eastman modified acrylic fiber. It's soft, lightweight, moth-and-mildew-proof and dry cleans beautifully. Verel collar is detachable.

Latest In Model Toys Help Develop Ingenuity

The model kits on the market for this Christmas are created to develop ingenuity and dexterity and make available everything from antique cars to an exact reproduction of an army "box car" plane complete with combat team.

The famous Harley - Davidson motorcycle is recreated in a model kit designed from official blueprints, accurately detailed and scaled to 9 inches in length.

The world's first experimental helicopter - plane, the McDonnel XV-1, is also available in authentic miniature and comes with three life - like figures.

Get Her Type, Then Her Gift

But, although there are approximately 57 million women in the United States above the age of 18, it is possible now to pinpoint more accurately what any given "she" would like for Christmas.

Active type — She's usually young, lives in the suburbs, stresses daytime activity and outdoor living. She's casual in her clothes and simple in her tastes.

Hot-house flower — She is highly decorative and dresses to be seen. Far from being active, she is inclined to be a passive onlooker, a role she has chosen for herself.

The composite — She, too, can be decorative but she can also be an active participant in any occasion. In selecting designs and clothing she is apt to choose the "happy medium." Her choices of accessories are less showy.

Anyone fortunate enough to number a "shutter-bug" among friends or family, knows that starting well before Dec. 25 and extending through all the holiday festivities, the click of his camera will record every moment of this wonderfully gay season.

There will be a permanent record of every family gathering, every thrilling moment, in movies or stills that will bring these gay occasions vividly alive, years afterward.

What better way to thrill him than with the gift of a camera or accessory. Both he and you will derive lasting satisfaction from a gift.

Family movies are no longer a technical mystery, with wonderfully inexpensive 8-millimeter movie cameras that are so simple to operate even a beginner can obtain fine results.

Accessories and projected, and also make "oh-and-ah" tion screens are moderately pricgifts for the picture-taker.

Children or beginners who have expressed interest in this hobby will welcome one of the wide assortment of still-cameras and still-camera sets obtainable.

These range from the basic box-type to the 35-millimeter cameras that provide excellent pictures, no matter what the time or light conditions.

If your favorite photo-fiend already has a camera, consider a good supply of film, either color or black and white, a dark room and enlarging outfit, a projection screen or projector. Even the one who has everything will welcome a stereo kit and viewer.

To thrill the experienced, you can't go wrong with an editing and splicing outfit, which will give a professional touch to his home movies and make them so much more interesting.

Gifts For The Gardener Signify Spring's Ahead

Nothing could be more appreciated by the gardening enthusiast than a gift that reminds that spring is coming.

Anything from a package of seeds to a power tool, such as electric hedge clippers, is sure to make a hit.

But, the indoor gardening gift is one any gardener can enjoy right now, so it should be included as a part of the outdoor gift.

A gift - wrapped azalea, laden with buds, will decorate a home all during the holidays. Choose one in white, rose or Christmas red. Next May, the gardener can plant it outside to be enjoyed for a long time.

Or, why not fill a gardening basket with small, but very useful items, such as insecticides, soil, food, stakes, pots, and a gardening book.

Get That Rooster!

MAYNE ISLAND, B. C. (AP) — In the fall fair here bantam fowl were substituted for sheep in sheepdog trials, after the sheep bolted on their way to the event. Confused at first, the dogs did an excellent roundup job on the fowl.

RUGGED AND handsome, just perfect for Pop, is this tweed surcoat. The lavish pile fabric lining is made of "Verel," the Eastman modified acrylic fiber. It's soft, lightweight, moth-and-mildew-proof and dry cleans beautifully. Verel collar is detachable.

Latest In Model Toys Help Develop Ingenuity

The model kits on the market for this Christmas are created to develop ingenuity and dexterity and make available everything from antique cars to an exact reproduction of an army "box car" plane complete with combat team.

The famous Harley - Davidson motorcycle is recreated in a model kit designed from official blueprints, accurately detailed and scaled to 9 inches in length.

The world's first experimental helicopter - plane, the McDonnel XV-1, is also available in authentic miniature and comes with three life - like figures.

Get Her Type, Then Her Gift

Every man over six knows that no girl is exactly like any other girl.

But, although there are approximately 57 million women in the United States above the age of 18, it is possible now to pinpoint more accurately what any given "she" would like for Christmas.

A "capsule guide to women" should be a big help to bewildered husbands, sons and beaus.

It is based on research by a psychologist, in connection with designing wallets and other personal leather goods.

Active type — She's usually young, lives in the suburbs, stresses daytime activity and outdoor living. She's casual in her clothes and simple in her tastes.

Hot-house flower — She is highly decorative and dresses to be seen. Far from being active, she is inclined to be a passive onlooker, a role she has chosen for herself.

The composite — She, too, can be decorative but she can also be an active participant in any occasion. In selecting designs and clothing she is apt to choose the "happy medium." Her choices of accessories are less showy.

Bracelets Charm Gals During Yuletide Season

A bracelet of a simple link chain and a single charm makes a gift that will grow with significance and sentimental value as the years go on, and one, incidentally, which will provide you with plenty of gift ideas for the future.

Fill her bracelet with a series of symbolic charms, or with a collection of one kind of charm, or with charms to complement her interests and activities — a chain of miniture dogs, for instance or a fleet of tiny boats, a golf bag, a dressmaker's dummy, a diminutive typewriter with keys that push down, a tiny heart set with a ruby, or one of many, many more.

Bracelet charms are available in sterling silver as well as in karat gold. Some are set with tiny pearls, diamonds or colored stones. For every occasion that you want a charm, you'll find several from which to choose at your jeweler's.

Here's Gift Idea For Good Sports

It's almost a sure thing that almost every man in your life, and a lot of women, too, indulges in some sport for fun and relaxation.

And, you can be sure that any gift that caters to a favorite sport will be a hit.

If you've a hunter in the family, you've heard enough "gun-talk" to have a shrewd idea of what kind of rifle or shotgun is wanted.

Since these range from about $25 to over $300, it might be a good "chip in" gift by the whole family.

Handsome gun cabinets, weatherproof gun cases, ammunition or high - powered scope attachments also will please your hunter.

SKIN-DIVING and water skiing have achieved new heights of popularity.

If you know any water - sports addicts, you know that whether it's an expensive gift of an aqua lung, modestly priced swim fins, mask, or ballast belt, it will be just what is wanted.

The tennis enthusiast can never have enough tennis balls and a new racquet can be an ideal gift.

Accessories for the fisherman include special flies and lures, spin kits, creel and net combinations, tackle boxes and waterproof vests complete with small pockets to hold gear.

THE GOLFER and bowler fall into easy to - please categories. New clubs, golf balls, or a golf cart or bag will please the former.

The latter is probably hoping for a ball and shoe bag, a pair of bowling shoes or personal bowling ball.

A gift all the family will enjoy eventually is camping equipment or accessories. It will be put to good use as outdoor living is more and more indulged in as a family activity.

Sleeping bags, air mattresses, duffel bags, camp stoves and lanterns, and all types of portable equipment can be used throughout most of the year.

So for all good sports, gift-giving problems are easily solved. From simple to extravagant, there's a grand selection to choose from.

More Workers Hurt By Stationary Vehicles

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — More California workers are injured in accidents involving stationary vehicles than moving vehicles, the State Division of Industrial Safety reports.

The division's statistics show that during 1957 one out of every nine injuries to workers involved motor vehicles. Of 17, 141 injuries involving vehicles, 8,854, or about 52 per cent, occurred on stationary vehicles.

The large majority of vehicles-at-rest injuries were found to occur during loading and unloading and getting on and off.

California Lays Claim To Yule Role

There are many unique Christmas activities carried on in the area that suggest it well may be. And after all, The Christ Child was born in a land of palms and desert sands.

To support what may be a claim to this title, first of all, there is the official "Nation's Christmas Tree," located in central California. At its site a program is held each Christmas.

Today, however, San Diego is better-known as the poinsettia center. Annually during the holidays the city has parades, a fiesta and a game in the Poinsettia Bowl.

Just outside Pasadena in Altadena is a famous mile-long avenue called "Christmas Tree Lane." Each Christmas huge deodar cedars are beautifully lighted and visited by many.

Sam Browne's Gone

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The Sam Browne belt is a thing of the past as far as Denver patrolmen are concerned. Used by patrolmen here for more than a quarter of a century, the Sam Brownes were ordered removed by Safety Manager Ed Geer. Instead, a single strap now holds up the patrolmen's pants and pistols.

Powerful Juice

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A group of school teachers ordered orange juice in a local restaurant and quickly sent it back with complaints that it tasted sour. A more worldly bystander sampled the beverage and pronounced it a screwdriver — orange juice and Vodka.

HOBBY HORSE wrapping fascinates this young lady. Imaginative wrappings like train, dachshund (center) and doll face are of gift wrap tapes, shelf paper and colorful cut-outs. Hobby horse head contains gift, body has candy.

It Worked, But!

MILROY, Ind. (AP) — Gene Merrill started a fire to smoke out a swarm of bees nesting in the walls of his house. The resulting blaze did $1,200 damage to the building, but it sure did scatter those bees.

To Each His Own

CORN, Okla. (AP) — When George Hamm reaches for the salt shaker and adds it to his coffee, other coffee drinkers cry a warning. But Hamm isn't absent minded — he likes his coffee that way.

Constant Victim

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Allen Prescott decided it was safer to be a spectator after he suffered a broken right leg last year in a baseball game. So the 16-year-old youth was understandably discouraged when he went to watch a football game and the same leg was broken by a player careening out of bounds.

Sam Browne's Gone

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The Sam Browne belt is a thing of the past as far as Denver patrolmen are concerned. Used by patrolmen here for more than a quarter of a century, the Sam Brownes were ordered removed by Safety Manager Ed Geer. Instead, a single strap now holds up the patrolmen's pants and pistols.

Powerful Juice

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — A group of school teachers ordered orange juice in a local restaurant and quickly sent it back with complaints that it tasted sour. A more worldly bystander sampled the beverage and pronounced it a screwdriver — orange juice and Vodka.

Daily Pattern

SIZES
12—20
40—42

By ANNE ADAMS

Best-looking outfit 'round town — this jumper-and-blouse duo. Step-in buttoning, trim cardigan lines distinguish jumper; blouse has a Dandy collar.

Printed Pattern 4561: Misses' Sizes 12, 14, 16, 18, 20; 40, 42. Size 16 jumper takes 2⅛ yards 54-inch; blouse 2½ yards 39-inch.

Send 50 cents in coins for this pattern to Anne Adams, in care of the East Liverpool Review, 49 Pattern Dept., 243 W. 17th St., New York 11, N. Y. Print plainly your name, address, size and pattern number.

HOBBY HORSE wrapping fascinates this young lady. Imaginative wrappings like train, dachshund (center) and doll face are of gift wrap tapes, shelf paper and colorful cut-outs. Hobby horse head contains gift, body has candy.

It Worked, But!

MILROY, Ind. (AP) — Gene Merrill started a fire to smoke out a swarm of bees nesting in the walls of his house. The resulting blaze did $1,200 damage to the building, but it sure did scatter those bees.

To Each His Own

CORN, Okla. (AP) — When George Hamm reaches for the salt shaker and adds it to his coffee, other coffee drinkers cry a warning. But Hamm isn't absent minded — he likes his coffee that way.

Constant Victim

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Allen Prescott decided it was safer to be a spectator after he suffered a broken right leg last year in a baseball game. So the 16-year-old youth was understandably discouraged when he went to watch a football game and the same leg was broken by a player careening out of bounds.

Ever serve creamed eggs over crisp Chinese noodles? If you try this, season the cream sauce well.

There Are Many Jewelry Choices

The warmest, nicest way to say "Merry Christmas" — that's what you look for on your holiday shopping expeditions.

To keep you toward that goal, the Jewelry Industry Council has just issued its annual Christmas gift roundup.

Known for expert gift counseling, the council has previewed Christmas gifts in jewelry stores across the country and has emerged with a list of gifts for all age groups, in practically every price range.

THERE ARE jewels real and synthetic, styled in new, beautiful pieces for women and handsome accessories for men.

There are shelves of silver holloware and many flatware suggestions to please the host and hostess on your gift list. The preview highlights briefly the treasury of gift ideas at your jeweler's, inviting you to pay a visit soon.

If there's a special lady on your list, you'll find that jewelry or watches have a magic appeal, whether she's 16 or 60.

It need not be, for your jeweler is trained and ready to be of assistance in guiding your choice according to your budget.

He knows, for instance, that a strand of cultured pearls is as much an ideal gift for a woman of mature dignity as it is for a young girl.

HE MAY suggest a single lovely pearl, the start of a future necklace for a very young lady.

There are bracelets designed for future additions of diamonds, too, offering a wonderful gift idea for important occasions in the years to come.

If it is to be a gift for her home, the bride and experienced homemaker alike will cherish a gift of silver. One of the most practical and beautiful gifts you could choose is silver flatware, either a chestful of silver plate or individual pieces of sterling.

If she's planning a wedding, a place setting of six pieces (fork, knife, teaspoon, salad fork, butter spreader and soup spoon) or perhaps a pair of serving spoons will be a welcome contribution to her collection.

SHE MAY BE a housewife of long standing who has never acquired a group of place settings in sterling.

If so, flat silver in her favorite pattern is sure to be the beginning of a dream come true. Continuation settings, which include extra pieces such as the dessert spoon and cocktail fork, also make fine gifts if the lady on your list has begun her sterling collection.

In the holloware department, your best gift clue is to take quick inventory of her silver supply.

She may not have a vegetable dish, candlesticks, cigarette urns, coasters or a platter. Remember that the price range is wide because beautiful holloware is available in both sterling and silver plate.

There are gifts for the whole family to be found on your jeweler's silver shelves.

Starting with the youngest, there are attractive porringers and cups that can live a life-time of beauty, growing up in usefulness with the lucky youngster who owns them.

Bent handle spoons and other baby silver, junior place settings, brush and comb sets and picture frames are also suggested by the council for the small fry.

Your gentlemen, who need encouragement to brush their hair, will find a pair of silver-backed military brushes a distinct inducement to good grooming.

AS ARTISTS SEE SANTA. St. Nicholas appears in every imaginable mood in the current crop of Christmas cards. Pictured are typical cards done by the American Artists Group and the Designers and Illustrators. Some see Santa as the traditional, benign saint of childhood memory. Others give Santa new talents, such as skin diving. A modernist puts him on a playing card. But whatever his mood, he's still the spirit of Christmas.

Thief Takes Bibles

TONKAWA, Okla. (AP) — The Rev. Ted Fix, a travelling evangelist, hopes that the thief who broke into his car at least takes note of some of the items he took. Among the things taken were Fix's collection of sermon material, a number of religious books and eight Bibles.

Changed His Mind

BALTIMORE (AP) — A suburbanite in Rodgers Forge, asserting his rugged individualism, hung the gate on his new picket fence with the points down. It was the only one of its kind on the block. He turned it upright a few weeks later, insisting it was not social pressure but interference with a hedge that prompted his switch.

Model Air Search

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. (AP) — When his 9-year-old son lost a model airplane which he was flying by remote control, John Tucker, a commercial pilot, chartered a small plane and took his boy on an air search of surrounding hills. They spotted the model and went out as a search party after landing to retrieve it.

Taxi Hauls 'Load'

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Cab driver Arlie McDonald had a weighty problem when Jim and Tim Minatra hailed his taxi. The Minatra brothers are carnival fat men—Tim weighing 643 poinds and Jim 559. Both couldn't get in the back seat of the taxi.
